Miss Carole Lee Hoffman became the bride of Lt. Ira Lionel Hancock III, USA, Saturday, Nov. 19 at 1 o'clock in Ghent Methodist Church.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. A. A. Acey of Norfolk, and the Rev. Ledford C. Vaughan of Back Bay.

The bride is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Walter Edward Hoffman. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ira Lionel Hancock Jr. of Creeds.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie, fashioned with a semi-sabrina neckline sculptured in pearl embroidered Alencon lace and a princess bodice. The bouffant skirt, garlanded in lace and accented by a flat bow in the back, formed a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was arranged from a half foot of lace and self roses. She carried an elongated bouquet of white orchids, white stock fleurettes and stephanotis.

Miss Susan Hawley Taylor of Seattle, Wash., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara W. Rixey of Culpepper, Miss Dorothy C. Shaw of Alexandria and Miss Kay Birch. Miss Mary Karen Veilines was junior bridesmaid.

Dr. Ira Lionel Hancock Jr. was best man for his son. The groomsmen were Richard W. Hancock of Creeds, brother of the bridegroom; Richard Collier of Charlottesville; John H. Trant III, of Portsmouth; Fritz J. Scholz III, of Alexandria; Ernest D. Zottola, USA, of Grant's Pass, Ore., and Walter Edward Hoffman Jr., brother of the bride. David T. Smith was ring bearer.

After a reception at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club, the couple left for a southern wedding trip. They will live at Ft. Bragg, N.C., where Lt. Hancock is stationed for duty.

The marriage of Miss Sandra Lane Sadler and Corydon Mercer Baylor Jr. took place Friday night, November 18, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride, "Beila Mashree" Great Neck Point.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry G. Morgan.

The bride is a daughter of James Pearce Sadler of Great Neck Point and Mrs. Mary Rosamond Curling Sadler of Virginia Beach. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Samuel Parker McConnell of Virginia Beach and the late Corydon Mercer Baylor of Norfolk.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of antique ivory tone Italian taffeta, designed with an empire bodice of re-embroidered lace and wattle skirt with back fullness extending into a chapel train. Her shoulder length veil of illusion, bordered with Alencon lace, fell from a headdress of the same lace. She carried a prayer-book covered with Royal Houghton orchids.

Miss Betty James Sadler was her sister's honor attendant. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary Sue Sadler and Michaela Fore Sadler, both sisters of the bride.

Charles Rollin Grandy of Virginia Beach, was best man. The groomsmen were William Allen Wood IV and Joseph Clark Hogan, both of Virginia Beach.

After a reception at the Cape Colony Club, Virginia Beach, the couple left for a wedding trip to Mexico and New Orleans. They will live at 110-80th St., Virginia Beach.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Mr. Maxwell's Remarks On Annexation

It was surprising, to say the least, to read of Norfolk City Manager Thomas F. Maxwell's remarks in a roundtable discussion of annexation proceedings at a meeting of the National Municipal League in Phoenix, Arizona, held recently.

In those remarks Mr. Maxwell criticized the most recent annexation suit of Norfolk City against Princess Anne County. He is quoted as having said that "necessity and expediency" didn't work out to the best interests of either Norfolk or Princess Anne.

In the discussion Mr. Maxwell is reported as having found flaws in the present laws in that, for example, one of the three judges of an annexation court in the circuit court judge with jurisdiction in the county involved. Mr. Maxwell would change this provision of the annexation laws in Virginia.

Mr. Maxwell objects to county judges sitting in judgment in these cases, although the local county judge sits with two other jurists from remote areas of the State. These judges are appointed by the chief justice of the Supreme Court of Appeals.

Mr. Maxwell's remarks and reference to the Princess Anne County annexation suit seem unusual at this time since the case was heard more than two years ago and particularly in view of the position his city has taken in the proposed idea of a Metro form of government for the area. It would seem that if the city he manages is sincere, and we think she is, in this progressive study of a metro form of government Mr. Maxwell should conclude that remarks of the type he made in Arizona are certainly not appropriate, and do not make for harmony among county neighbors.

As for "county judges" in the future the State Supreme Court of Appeals is largely made up of jurists from cities, and its present chief justice is Justice Eggleston from Norfolk City. We believe that the so-called "flaw" in our annexation laws as pointed out by Mr. Maxwell is no flaw at all, and, in fact, is a fair method of deciding such proceedings. We believe our jurists throughout the state can fairly and equitably hear and decide court cases, whether they be annexation cases or others.

We do not agree with Mr. Maxwell in this instance.

The Joy Fund

A little help from many persons would be the ideal way for building up an adequate joy fund so that no one in the community would be in want at Christmas time. This does not work out but it is the ideal.

The annual Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Joy Fund is again at work in this community and area. It needs the assistance of many persons to make it a success. This is the 11th annual fund for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

The Joy Fund is again being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and they get an abundance of help from members of the Virginia Beach Fire Department in the repair of toys.

A headquarters for the Joy Fund has been set up on Atlantic avenue and any cash contributions, which are tax deductible, should be mailed to the Joy Fund, P. O. Box 274, Virginia Beach.

New Kind Of Inflation

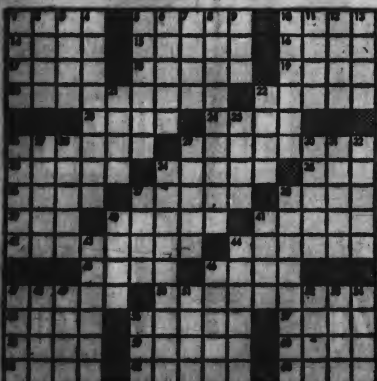

"As you wander on through life,
Brother,
Whatever be your goal;
Keep your eye upon the doughnut,
And not upon the hole."

Word that the Donut Institute—under the heading of good news—intends to increase the size of the doughnut hole by a quarter of an inch, makes this old jingle take on real meaning.

The Donut Institute would do well to commit it to memory. For who will deny that the bigger the hole in the doughnut the less its overall bulk. And if both the hole and the doughnut are made bigger, you have the kind of false gain that we long ago learned to call inflation.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Beach Movies

Based on Willard Motley's racing bestseller, "Let No Man Write My Epitaph" is a triumph of poignant and romantic realism, packed with volcanic emotion.

Playing a youngster born into the sordid environment of a Chicago slum, Darren is watched over by a group of kid row champions, led by alcoholic ex-judge Burt Ives and honky-tonk songstress Ella Fitzgerald. Shelley Winters plays his mother, a waitress fighting desperately to keep Darren free of the "corroding" influences that claimed his father, until Montblanc attracts her and introduces her to the drug habit. Miss Seberg is the girl who helps Darren finally to break away from the slums.

"Let No Man Write My Epitaph" was penned for the screen by Robert Presnell, Jr. Philip Leacock directed the Columbia drama for producer Boris D. Kaplan.

The college campus has been the setting for a good many movies but never have the portals of higher education been entered by as many merry misadventures as in Charles Brackett's production of "High Time." The comedy ball starts rolling from the minute Bing Crosby, a 31-year-old self-made millionaire decides he wants a college education and enters as a freshman at Finchburg College. Upon entrance he finds himself in the dormitory with his new roommates Fabian, Richard Beyner and Patrick Alden.

Thus the story starts and it doesn't end till four years later when "Der Bingle" gets his sheepskin. In the interim he goes through the agonies of gym class, the mortifications of fraternity "Hell Week," washing cars, shining shoes, "singing" the members; the climbing of a rickety pyramid of crates at the class bonfire and the torture of romance with Nicole Maury, the school's French teacher.

Mrs. Joseph C. Jett spent the holiday weekend visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Holland Jr., at their home in Suffolk.

LIONS CLUB TURKEY SHOOT A SUCCESS

The BaySide Lions Club's annual Turkey Shoot was held November 19 and 20 at the Watpooam Gun Club. C. B. Ostender, second vice president, and chairman of this project, reports that this was the most successful turkey shoot yet held by the club. Thanks to the usual fine turnout of club members and their friends the club ran off 127 shoots in the two days. As a result of this record number of shoots the club expects to clear about $10,000. All of the proceeds from this project will be used by the club in its charitable and civic activities in the various BaySide communities.

BAYSIDE CHRISTMAS JOY FUND

The BaySide Christmas Joy Fund, sponsored again this year by the BaySide Lions Club, will attempt to help the needy families in the BaySide area with contributions of food, clothing and toys. Each year the Lions Club receives large quantities of food from the personnel of the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base, a large number of new and used toys which are contributed by BaySide residents and some items of clothing which are given by various groups in the area.

The Little Creek Amphibious Base Fire Department, under the direction of Chief Kelly Davis, collects and renovates the bicycles and other toys.

The Home Economics Class at Princess Anne High School, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Folkes, repairs and dresses the dolls.

Cash contributions are received from many of the churches and civic organizations in the BaySide area as well as individuals. Anyone who wishes to make a contribution may do so by contacting Mr. George Lyon at HO-4212 or Mike Henry at HO-4151. Mr. Henry, the club's third vice president is chairman of the Joy Fund project.

The BaySide Lions Club considers it a privilege to distribute these things and greatly appreciates the co-operation of the many fine people who make it possible for the needy to have a brighter Christmas.

SCOUT TROOP 61 VISITS PENDLETON

Boy Scout Troop 61, sponsored by the Little Episcopal Church, went on an overnight camping trip to Camp Pendleton this past weekend.

The boys left the Pendleton gate Saturday morning and hiked to the campsite. After an active day including a five-mile hike and a treasure hunt, they cooked their suppers around the campfire, then were entertained by part of the Troop's Indian Dance Team, consisting of Mike Keville, Billy Wood, David Dodson, and Linwood Harper.

Kermit Wood, leader of the troop, speaks with great pride of this dance team, which he believes to be the first in this area. The boys have been practicing for three months and have learned the Apache Devil Dance and the Buffalo Dance, which they plan to perform at the next area Camporee.

After supper and the entertainment the initiation of the new boys was held. Scouts present on the camping trip were Mike Keville, David Dodson, Billy Wood, Linwood Harper, Paul Dewitt, Keith White, Kenneth Hill, Walter Rountree, Bill Nichols, Scott Fitch, Bobby Cronenberg, Corky Bagby, John Miller, and Laga-Jong H. A.R.E. Program Sunday Features Yule Theme Christmas will be ushered in at the Association for Research and Enlightenment headquarters in a lecture on "The Birth of Jesus" as given in historical data from the Edgar Cayce readings next Sunday, December 4th at 3:30 p.m. This will be the fifth in the current Sunday Forum programs and the speaker will be the president of A.R.E., Mrs. Marguerite Briggs.

Mrs. Briggs, a graduate of the University of Michigan, has long been active in the widely known "Campe-Farther-Out" and is also a member of the board of trustees of the Kohnstien Foundation, which trains for worthy representation of the United States workers going to foreign countries. Mrs. Briggs has been for some years on the staff as a teacher and lecturer not only at headquarters but throughout the membership field covering the country.

Material brought to light by the Edgar Cayce readings on the forebears, the birth and early life of Jesus will be the basis of Mrs. Briggs' Sunday talk. She will also endeavor to answer questions on the subject.

This event is open to the public without charge.

Dr. Kahn Back From Symposium

Dr. Howard Kahn, Virginia Beach Optometrist, has just returned from participation in a Symposium on Achievement and Child Development held at Richmond Professional Institute. This was a seminar attended by educators from throughout Virginia and outlined the progress being made in the various disciplines of education, psychology, psychiatry and optometry.

Represented by the Virginia Optometric Association in cooperation with the Department of Psychology of Richmond Professional Institute, this type of meeting enables the related fields to benefit from the exchange of professional ideas. The ultimate beneficiaries of such get-togethers are children, as the meetings create a greater understanding of their problems.

Plenary lectures included: Dr. Lois Bing, of Cincinnati, Ohio, nationally recognized lecturer in the field of Children's Visual Problems; Dr. Frances Hg. of New Haven, Conn., director of the Institute of Child Development; Dr. William M. Lovell, director of Richmond's Memorial Guidance Clinic; and Dr. Edwin Thomas, director of the Department of Psychology, Richmond Professional Institute.

German Club Holds Ball

The Norfolk German Club held its annual Debutante Ball Friday night in the Starlight Room of the Monticello Hotel. At this time 18 young ladies were formally presented to Norfolk society. The ballroom was decorated with small trees of English box wood interspersed with white chrysanthemums, and festooned with garlands of laurel roping. Lou Saka and his orchestra furnished the dance music.

At 11:30 o'clock a seated dinner was served in the Colonial Room of the hotel. The debutante table was arranged with silver candelabra and white flowers. The guests numbered around 400.

The chaperones were Mrs. Southgate Leigh Jr., Mrs. Fenton Garnett Jordan Jr., Mrs. Clyde Hancock Jacob Jr., Mrs. Hart Waller Whittemore, Mrs. Henry Thomas Keeling, Mrs. Arthur Jordan Hall Jr., Mrs. Thomas Morgan Johnston, Mrs. Walter Clement Maber and Mrs. William Wallace Starke Jr. The debutantes, wearing gowns of traditional white and carrying bouquets of red roses, entered the ballroom singly as their names were announced by Dr. Southgate Leigh Jr., president of the club. Each walked to a position in front of the chaperones to whom she curtied and then took her place in the lineup for the debutante figure.

After the figure, in which they marched with their fathers, each debutante was given a monogrammed silver picture frame by the president as a memento of the occasion.

VIRGINIA BEACH HI SCHOOL NEWS

By VIRGINIA PETTY and PAT WALLACE

New members were brought into the club and officers for this year installed at the Beta Club Taping Ceremony, November 23. Mrs. Turner installed the officers, after which Mr. Elmer Tarrall, Assistant Superintendent of Virginia Beach schools, addressed the student body. The Beta Club, a national organization, is an honor society in which only Juniors and Seniors having a high scholastic average, a "B" or better, are eligible for membership. Officers installed are Sarah Killen, president; John Claudy, vice-president; Virginia Petty, secretary; and Mike Rohr, treasurer.

Those who have been members for a year are Paty Almut, Carolyn Ansell, Lundy Armstrong, Bobby Kne, Mary Maddux, Sharon Meredith, Charlotte Norton, Virginia Petty, Mike Rohr, Carol Gay Roeser, Joan Robinson, Karen Schneider, Martha Snell, and Susan Zeheiser.

The annual Thanksgiving Program was held on Wednesday, November 23. Jackie Degge and Carol Gay Roeser led the student body in a Thanksgiving Devotional. The chorus, under direction of J. William Miller, sang several numbers: "I Hear a Voice A Praying," "Cheerful Song," and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." Linda Williamson, as sponsor of Virginia Beach High School, was the accompanist. Singing into a lighter mood, the Boys' Chorus gave a rendition of "Catch A Falling Star." They were followed by the entire chorus singing "The World is Waiting For The Sunrise." Slides were then shown of students in and around school. George Alcorn was commentator.

Our spotlight teacher for this week is Mr. J. William Miller, certainly one of the most well-known members of the faculty. He has been at Virginia Beach High for eight years. Chief director for 4 years at the Va. Beach Methodist Church, Mr. Miller was a State Junior High School two years.

An alumnus of Port Republic High School, Mr. Miller was pianist for all musical activities when he was a student there. He attended Shenandoah Conservatory of Music where he received his Bachelor of Music degree. Later, he went to Columbia University, where receiving his M.A. degree.

In college, Mr. Miller was the Staff accompanist in the Chapel Choir and the Acappella Choir. In the community, Mr. Miller is a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Virginia Beach Music Club.

He has proven himself invaluable to the students of the high school. Each year Mr. Miller works diligently on such school activities as the Senior "Blackouts," a show put on by the Senior class; Spring Music Festival and the Christmas Concert.

Virginia Farm Income Shows Increase During Present Year

It looks like 1960 Virginia farm income will be up 5 percent above the 466 million dollars received last year to make it the best year since 1954. This was reported by Thomas L. Stuart, Chief of the Virginia Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Virginia Department of Agriculture.

Receipts from sales of livestock and livestock products will probably exceed last year by about 35 percent. Cash income from these products amounted to 241 million dollars, and accounted for 54 percent of the total money received by farmers from the sale of agricultural products.

Poultry and poultry products may bring in 4 percent more cash than last year, with increases in broilers and eggs more than offsetting a substantial drop in receipts from turkeys. Income from sale of milk, Virginia's No. 1 farm commodity, may exceed last year by 6 percent.

Stuart added that more cattle and calves will be sold in 1960, but cash receipts are expected to show little change from last year due to lower prices.

Most marketings equal to last year are expected, and with a slightly higher price, a corresponding increase will be made in cash receipts. Prices received by farmers for hogs during the first six months of 1960 were sharply below the same period in 1959, but these losses will be more than offset by higher prices for the last half of the year.

Higher production forecasts for most crops, plus record high flour-cured tobacco prices, are expected to push cash receipts from crops up 7 percent above last year.

Flour-cured tobacco sales may bring in 5 to 9 million additional dollars this year, and will account for approximately 30 percent of total cash receipts from crops.

Receipts from the sale of peanuts, the number 2 cash crop, are expected to show a slight increase from 1959; however, the bulk of the crop is yet to be marketed.

According to Stuart, soybeans will bring in more dollars as a result of a larger crop, and cash re-

ETHERIDGE APPOINTED INSURANCE SUPERVISOR

Myron E. (Buster) Etheridge has been appointed a supervisor for the U. S. Federal Life Insurance Company in Norfolk. He will be in charge of the Hampton-Newport News area.

Mr. Etheridge has been in the sales field since 1948, and was sales manager for Princes, Inc. Since 1954 he has been associated with the Northwestern Mutual.

He is a former member of the Ward's Corner Lions Club. He is also active in the Tabor Park Baptist Church.

Mr. Etheridge is married and has two children. They live at 1844 Parkview avenue in Norfolk.

DAM NECK ENTERTAINS FOREIGN OFFICERS

FAAWTC was host to twenty-five senior foreign officers Tuesday, May 16, for an all day orientation tour of the base and Guided Missile School. The Naval guests represented twenty-five different countries around the globe. Accompanying the group were eleven ranking officers from the Naval War College where the foreign officers are enrolled as students.

Arriving early in the morning, their schedule began with an introduction to the anti-air warfare problem by Captain R. R. Green, USN, FAAWTC commanding officer. The group was then split in half for combat information center problem briefing and demonstration followed by a drone (target plane) launch and control exhibition. The drones are used as targets at Dam Neck's firing range.

Following a luncheon in their honor, the visitors toured the Guided Missile School. This stop included briefing on the concept of team training, TARTAR, TERRIER, TALOS and POLARIS missiles and was highlighted by a demonstration of the fleet ballistic missile launcher.

THE FACE OF FAITH

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a cornerstone of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sometimes a face is striking. It isn't the sort of face you're accustomed to. It's a face you wouldn't have expected to see. But you have seen it! That's why you call it striking.

The Face of Faith is like that...

The eyes seem lifted toward the hills, to a source of strength. The lips are firm with a courage that rests neither on prowess nor weapon.
The countenance shines with a joyous light...
a light that seems to reflect some mystic Sun though the world around is cast in shadow and gloom.

I see the Face of Faith each Sunday... the face of a child... perhaps your child!

I am her Sunday School teacher—and the joyous light of that striking face inspires me to seek more faithfully in the worship and work of my Church the help of God.

You are her parents. How that confident, expectant radiance must inspire you!

Plaza Bowl Offering Complete Service; Opening Set for Dec. 10

Everything from automatic pinsetters to free baby-sitting service for mothers will be offered when Plaza Bowl opens on December 10, at Princess Anne Plaza. Roger Noani, Director of Princess Anne County's newest recreation facility, is installing a sparkling array of modern equipment designed for the convenience of bowlers and spectators alike. The deluxe 40-lane Plaza Bowl will feature Brunswick bowling equipment throughout. All facilities will be automatic including pinsetters, latest devices for automatic foul detection, rapid and unseen ball return, electric hand drying and a gleaming score projection. "Brunswick's Tel-Score system will be a boon to spectators who will be able to follow the score of games without leaving their seats," Noani said. "Everybody will be able to see and know what is going on without creating traffic jams around the scoring tables."

The new lines will offer wholesome recreation which can be enjoyed by people of all ages. The sport of bowling today ranks as the country's greatest participation sport. More than 25,000,000 Americans are active bowlers, and the sport is enjoying a period of unprecedented growth. Bowling is also a favorite activity for women today. Millions of women are enjoying this as a daytime activity and join bowling clubs made up of friends and neighbors. It's great exercise and a welcome relief from everyday chores.

A nursery will be provided at Plaza Bowl so that mothers may bring their youngsters along. A professional baby-sitter will be on hand so that the parents can enjoy themselves and take advantage of the many family facilities available.

The new Freddy's Pizzeria, located next to Plaza Bowl, will offer American and Italian delicacies in the restaurant and the bowling center as well. The restaurant has an outside entrance and another leading into the bowling center for the convenience of its customers. Plaza Bowl is set up to offer fun and enjoyment for all the family. The building is fully air conditioned, contains a meeting room, separate locker rooms and a pro shop offering all types of bowling equipment. Dick Rust, who recently won the Virginia State Eliminations for the All Star Tournament, will manage the pro shop and give instructions.

The 33,000 square foot building is of masonry construction and completely fireproof. The interior is ultra-modern—from the automatic machinery to the multi-colored floor carpeting on the concourse between the entrance and the spectator area. There is a seating capacity for 400 bowlers and spectators and the decor, including the equipment, is blue and white.

In addition to the other services, free bowling instructions will be offered Monday through Friday. Instructress Rozanne Redd will assist in this department. A certified instructor, Rozanne is particularly known in this area for her

FOR ANSWERS ABOUT TEENAGERS

By G. D. Smith

Can Parents Be Too 'Strict'?

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am sixteen and have never had a date with a boy. My mother and father refuse to let me go anywhere. All I do is stay home. If I go anywhere, except to work, one of them always goes with me. They won't let boys come to call on me. Needless to say, I am an only child. My parents say they aren't going to let me 'get married and run off.' They say they intend to keep me at home. My only thought is—how long?"

OUR ANSWER: And, it is not an answer, but a repeat of the question: "how long?" We might say on the other hand, "how foolish!" We cannot but wonder what parents are thinking about when they set out to "shield" or "protect" their children from the world, and from people. They forget that life is, as it has been quoted, "a living experience"—we can make a place for ourselves in this world only if we learn to get along with people.

Remember, such a case as this one is not so unique. It happens too often.

This writer once knew a couple who "raised" their daughter the way they thought best. They refused to let her have dates, or callers, until she was 21. Then they said, "You're old enough now. Find yourself a good man and get married." That was years ago. The girl never married, probably never will.

Parents have the right and the obligation to supervise all activities of their children. But they also have the obligation to prepare their children for the "battle of life" if we may call it that. Realistically speaking, the parents will not be around forever. When they are gone, life can be quite rough for the son or daughter who doesn't know the first thing about doing for one's self or getting along with the rest of the world.

Farmers Being Helped In Calf Vaccinations

The Virginia Department of Agriculture has announced that farmers will no longer have to pay Veterinarians out of their own pockets for calfhood vaccination.

According to Dr. W. L. Bendix, State Veterinarian, fee payment of official calfhood vaccination for brucellosis (Bang's Disease) has been resumed at program expense under the Virginia-Federal Brucellosis Eradication Program.

Vaccine will continue to be supplied without charge. Use of the vaccine is restricted to that administered under the cooperative Brucellosis Eradication Program. No livestock owner will be charged for the vaccine or its administration.

About a year ago the payment of veterinarian fees was discontinued due to a cut in Virginia's allocation of Federal funds. Effective November 1, 1960, a new appropriation was received, and the program has been resumed.

Free copies of the Bulletin "What to Expect from Brucellosis Vaccination" are available from Animal and Dairy Industry, Virginia Department of Agriculture, Richmond, Virginia.

LOCAL STUDENTS AT DANCING SEMINAR

The Dance Masters of America, Chapter 17, held a one-day teachers conference at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point Comfort, Sunday, November 30th.

A special students session was conducted for young dancers ranging in age from 9 years-16 yrs., with two years or better training.

Mr. Charles Chamberlin, Old Point Comfort, Va., and his wife, Mrs. Mary Chamberlin, of New York City, who have taught throughout the country, are a team of teachers, conducted the children's ballet technique class and was enthusiastically received by all students.

Those attending from the Sarah Lawrence School, Virginia Beach and Thompson's School, Norfolk, were: Carol Brundson, Patricia Hoarty, Anne Uleva, Katherine Ritter, Roberta Sadler, Charlotte Roper, Sherry Walker, Carolyn Baker, Maggie Bailey, Dale All Dault, Danny Dean, Pammon Johnson, James Hildard, and Linda Donselson.

Kings Grant Development to Have 25-Acre Artificial Lake

Fishing! The first dam for Kings Grant is now under construction. This will create a twenty-five acre lake for the residents of Kings Grant.

It was announced today by W. E. Maitox, Vice President of Viking Construction Corporation, that a twenty-five acre lake is being created for Kings Grant. The dam is now being installed, and water will soon start to be impounded. The lake area has been cleared of trees and undergrowth, and will conform to the new lake requirements of Princess Anne County in every respect.

This is one of the many amenities of Kings Grant, since the lake will provide facilities for boating, fishing and water sports as well as fishing, which will be allowed as soon as the water can be stocked. The lake will first be stocked with brim and later with bass, providing both sport and pan fishing for the Kings Grant residents. Motor boats will not be allowed on the lake; however, this should be no handicap for boating enthusiasts since common docking privileges will be provided on the Lynnhaven River for those who desire to use motor boats.

Although Kings Grant has not officially been opened, several lots have already been sold, and construction should start in several weeks. A Viking Corporation sales representative will be at Kings Grant Sunday afternoons to answer questions and to show the lots.

Lynnhaven Bay is a portion of the Chesapeake, at its southern extremity, and lies between Cape Henry and a point at Little Creek Inlet. The waters of the Chesapeake here make a graceful curve into the land; and the view, to the north especially, is extensive, and very beautiful.

Lynnhaven River is, also, a truly beautiful collection of water, which extends into Princess Anne County from the bay. It has long been celebrated for the finest fish, especially the hog-fish, sheep-head, spot, trout, etc. As for Lynnhaven oysters, their celebrity has extended throughout the Union, and probably reached the Eastern Continent.

The present inlet to Lynnhaven is of modern origin, as we shall presently show. It is now very shallow; indeed, there is a sandbar across the entrance, which affords at high tide only four and a half feet of water, excepting a channel some ten or fifteen feet wide, and from about four to six feet deep. At low tide, the inlet is only knee deep, excepting the narrow channel; and its transparent waters are of course farmed with great facility. The channel, inside the bar, widens from twelve to twenty feet in depth; in some places it is very narrow, and the ebb and flow of the tides therein are rapid, probably from four to six knots per hour. And it is quite worthy of remark, that the egress and ingress of the tides is in some places scarcely perceptible outside of this narrow channel, the water on either side being sometimes comparatively still and very clear and smooth during the ebb and flow of the tides, presenting, we should think, an appearance similar to that occasioned by the passage of the water of the River Jordan through the middle of the Sea of Galilee, if the accounts of a certain traveler, relative thereto be correct.

The bottom of Lynnhaven River is, for the most part, composed of loose brownish sand, which is constantly moved about by the force of the tides.

We have heard strange traditional statements about the Lynnhaven River, some of which are very absurd, and would be found difficult to substantiate. It has been said that this beautiful stream is of comparatively modern origin; that persons now living, probably knew the individual, who, by having a ditch or drain cut through his land, caused the existence of this deep and clear river, or a large portion thereof; that the water flowing rapidly through this ditch gradually wore its way to a deep and ample river-bed. This is, of course, all a mistake, a simple impossibility. It is sufficiently evident, that the River of Chesapeake, or as it is now called, Lynnhaven River, existed when the country was discovered. We will mention a circumstance, however, whence doubtless originated about the ditch.

Until about the period of the Revolutionary War, the inlet to the waters of Lynnhaven was the Pleasure House Creek, running in from the bay at the site of a building known as the Old Pleasure House, about two miles west of the present inlet, Adam Keeling, Esq., of the former and most recent residents of that beautiful section of Princess Anne, situated on Lynnhaven River, desiring a shorter connection by water with the Chesapeake than that afforded by the creek, which from this section was a very circuitous route, caused a dike to cut across, from the two nearest or most convenient points on the neighboring shores of the river and the bay. This proved greatly to his advantage and convenience in fishing on the bay shore. Another object in opening this canal, was the more readily to secure his fishing boats, etc. from the incursions of the enemy. The water running rapidly out at ebb tide, and in a flood tide, through this narrow dike, it was soon enlarged. The current gradually undermined the trees, and cleared away the sand, the undergrowth, and all obstructions, until a wide channel was formed, now known as the Lynnhaven Inlet. . . . the other entrance having been long since closed, in consequence of the opening of this artificial passage which is the only inlet or outlet for the waters of the river and its tributaries.

Lynnhaven River has several branches, one of which we have already alluded to, and which has its source some three or four miles above London Bridge, which bridge is about five miles above the mouth of the creek, another branch has its source towards Trading Point, in the direction of Kemper ville; and the third is Long Creek, a deep, blue and beautiful stream, which glides rapidly along upon its sandy bed, and unites Lynnhaven with Broad Bay; thence it takes its course on to Linkhorn Bay; also very handsome collections of water. These reservoirs, as well as the Lynnhaven, abound with the finest fish, oysters and wild fowl.

It would well repay a trip from afar to view the scenery of this locality. The waters are very clear and salt, having the deep greenish color of the ocean, on account of their proximity to Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic. The view from some points is extensive, and very interesting, but more remarkable for serenity and openness, than for abruptness or wildness; although the scenery is in some places varied by the rugged and sterile appearance of the sandhills of the desert. This occupies a considerable tract of country, and abounds with deer, foxes, bears, wild hogs, wild cats, raccoons, snakes, etc.

An old sand fort was accidentally discovered some years ago upon the banks of the Lynnhaven River, by a venerable gentleman of this city, while on a fox chase. It appears that it had been thrown up and used to prevent the entrance of hostile parties into a creek, which has since been filled up with sand.

Remarkable changes are exhibited along the banks of this beautiful river, the water having made inroads upon the land on the west shore, and retreated from that on the opposite. This is perceptible in a remarkable degree at Church Point, the site of the old Parish Church and graveyard. The old church has long since fallen to ruins; indeed, no vestige remains to mark the identical spot which it occupied; and strange to say, the old graveyard has also disappeared! The remains of those who were interred there, now lie low beneath the sandy bed of the river; and over the stones which mark many "a couch of lowly sleep," rolls on the cool, clear flood of the Lynnhaven; and when the Archangel's trump shall give out its pealing sound, those who were buried in the bosom of the earth,

Malibu Homes Feature "Room To Roam In" To Homeowners

"Room to roam in" is the line the Terry Corp. uses to describe the interiors of their four model homes at "Malibu," located halfway between Norfolk and Virginia Beach on the North side of Virginia Beach Bay.

Fully aware of the public's likes in space for a home they have designed their four models to provide it in abundance. Kitchens for instance are planned to give ample room for the housewife to move around and for the family to dine informally.

Cabinets, sinks, appliances have all been engineered and designed for finger-tip control by the housewife. Floor plans of the homes are designed so that the family has easy access to all rooms.

There is no sacrifice in beauty either. At "Malibu" the Terry Corporation has made an added touch of distinction to their homes with curved archways. In the baths are double compartment sinks and vanities and a large selection of colors are available.

Another advertising line they use is "Big Living, Big Bath, and this could be said to include "Big Space, Big Beauty, Big Quality." According to the principals of the Terry Corporation, they are constantly putting more into their homes so that owners can get more out of them in comfort.

Our fast 24-hour heating service assures you dependable warmth and comfort!

We get there fast if you have oil burner trouble or other heating emergency. And no worry about running short of oil—you can depend on us for an all-winter supply.

OTHER "ALL-STAR" SERVICE BENEFITS

- ★ EASY BUDGET PLAN—You pay in equal installments—no big bills in cold months when oil consumption increases.
- ★ AUTOMATIC DELIVERIES—Based on the severity of the weather and your "degree-day" needs... so you won't run out of oil.
- ★ FREE HOME ANALYSIS—If you wish, we'll give your home a careful check so that you can get maximum heating efficiency—lower heating bills.
- ★ FINEST HEATING OIL—Clean-burning Texaco Fuel Chief contains Additive A-200, which prevents corrosion and harmful deposits. No smoke, no odor—complete combustion from every drop of oil.

Call us today—you'll appreciate and benefit with our "All-Star" service.

WNOR Attempts To Please
Most People Most Of Time

By FRANK DRAKE
The old adage of fooling some of the people all of the time, and all the people some of the time, but not fooling all the people all of the time so applies to PLEASEING the people, as far as radio programming is concerned. The job of pleasing most of the people most of the time is the job of WNOR. Music has a great deal to do with pleasing.

WNOR is on the mailing list of all the Trade Magazines in the country that concern themselves with programming for radio stations. The job of Music Librarian is to read these magazines faithfully. He is then in a position to know which records are succeeding in the other parts of the country. As a case and point I will use Billboard Magazine. Billboard has been doing this sort of thing so long that some of you may be familiar with the name. Billboard publishes an edition each week that lists the top 100 songs around the country, plus a listing of songs that are to be on the top 100 before long. The listing of potential hits works in a strange way. All the record librarians around the country do likewise and therefore with the exposure around the country the records make the top 100 list.

The idea of HOW to play WHAT is not quite as easy as it may seem up to this point. Each individual librarian in each city listens to all the records that come into the station. He has a personal taste and if he is qualified for the job, he knows what the people want. He makes these records available for play on the air. This is another example of how records catch on and spread around the country.

WNOR is a little more specific in its selection of top records. Each evening at 930 WNOR has a special program called "Make It or Break It." The idea is that a record is played and people call the WNOR studios and say whether they like the record or dislike it. Each phone call counts as a vote for or against the record. You can bet that if they turn thumbs down on the record, it would be to the advantage of the radio WNOR not to program it. The public knows what it wants.

The same holds true in the result of telephone calls to the WNOR studios. People that call WNOR express the public's taste in cases. This does not always hold true because the taste of individuals varies slightly, but in most cases this can be used as a criteria. The Record Librarian is often caught with a telephone in his

P.A. AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY MAKES PLANS

The Princess Anne African Violet Society met Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. J. Kestules. Mrs. C. L. Herberberger, President, presided over the meeting. The society decided to donate one hundred dollars to the General Hospital of Virginia Beach, Inc. fund, and one hundred dollars to the Princess Anne Memorial Hospital fund. We are very proud of our small group, only 20 members and able to give so much for such a worthy cause. Plans were made for our Christmas party to be held December 15th, at the home of Mrs. L. C. Mallory. Gifts will be exchanged.

'Born A Giant' On WAVY-TV

British motion picture performer Bill Travers—backed by an all-star cast including Barbara Rush, Farley Granger and Walter Matthau—will appear as Andrew Jackson in "Born A Giant", a drama based on the turbulent early Jacksonian career, on The Equitable's Our American Heritage series of historical dramatizations. "Born A Giant" will be telecast on Channel 10, WAVY-TV on Friday, December 2nd from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Travers, whose Northumberland Scottish accent comes close to the North Carolina mountain dialect of the 18th century, will portray Jackson as a young lawyer and Congressman during the period 1790-1800, who was forced to overcome personal and political crises that threatened to destroy his career. Miss Rush has the role of Rachel Donelson Robards, the divorced woman who became his wife.

Granger will portray Charles Dickinson, Jackson, political adversary whom he killed in a duel in 1805 over a slur on Rachel's name, and Matthau will be seen as John Overton, Jackson's law partner and friend.

Other stars in the cast of "Born A Giant" include John Colicos returning as Aaron Burr—the same role in which he appeared on The Equitable's Our American Heritage season's premiere, "Not Without Honor"—and Robert Redford as Captain Fort, who served as go-between in an aborted plot by Burr to enlist Jackson's support in rousing the Western states to secede.

Bill Travers has won acclaim for portrayals in both English and U.S. motion pictures. His film credits include "Wee Wee," "Bhowani Junction," "The Browning Version," "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Smallest Show on Earth." His only TV appearance in this country was on "Kraft Theatre" in 1957.

"Born A Giant" will be directed by Fielder Cook from a teleplay by Mann Rubin. Mildred Freed Alberg is the producer.
The Equitable's Our American Heritage, produced in cooperation with American Heritage, the Magazine of History, is sponsored by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, through its advertising agency, Foote, Cone & Beiding.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Refreshing Holiday Treats

Yes, it's time to be thinking about Christmas again. A luscious dessert, cookies, candies and gift treats for our friends and family can be made in advance. Don't wait for the last minute and then have to rush, rush, rush.

RED, RED, RED! CRANBERRIES FOR CHRISTMAS GIVING

Christmas is a time for giving... to rest homes, shut-in people, next door neighbors. What is more exciting to give than family wrapped foods. Get the neighbors in for a day of cooking. The brightest, gayest delicacies can be made with fresh cranberries... on the market in abundance. Oh, the wonderful colors that will cheer up warm kitchens before the Christmas holidays.

Candied Cranberries are perfect for fruit cups, cake toppings, to nibble or to serve over ice cream. Store them in refrigerator containers right in the syrup. Then wrap. Type instructions for using cranberries right on the gift card. For ice cream and fruit cups use both the syrup and berries. For cake decorations or nibbling, drain syrup and spread berries on waxed paper before using. The syrup is a perfect flavor and color base for punches and beverages during the Christmas season.

Christmas Candied Cranberries
4 cups granulated sugar
1 cup water
4 cups (1 1/2 lb.) fresh cranberries
Mix sugar and water in large skillet (this one's a yellow Club Aluminum). Heat the mixture until sugar is dissolved. Stir in cranberries. Slowly bring to a boil and remove from heat. Cool to room temperature. Drain berries. Occasionally coat the berries with syrup during cooking. Repeat this boiling-cooling process three times. (Or leave overnight). Drain cranberries and spread separately on waxed paper. Keep in refrigerator. Use as decorations on cakes as candied fruit to nibble on. Float in punches using syrup as color base and in fruit cups or on top of vanilla ice cream, with or without syrup.

Homemade preserves are a favorite everywhere. This recipe is for a Strawberry Cranberry Combination. Pour the Christmas red jam into ice cube glasses as receivers may use the glasses later. Seal with hot paraffin. Wrap in Saran wrap and tie with bright red ribbon for Christmas giving.

Christmas Cranberry Jam
2 cups (1 lb.) fresh cranberries
2 1/2 cups (2 10-oz.) boxes quick frozen sliced strawberries, thawed
4 cups sugar
1 box (2 1/2 oz.) powdered pectin
Grind cranberries, combine with thawed strawberries and measure fruit into large saucepan. Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered pectin to fruit and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into hot glasses. Cover them at once with the paraffin. Yield: 5 cups of jam or fill 10 (4-ounce) jelly glasses.
Note: Melt paraffin in empty clean tin can, set in pan of boiling water. When finished, can may be discarded.

PRINCESS ANNE HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By CAROLYN JENNINGS

Susan Lohr and Conrad Shumaine were selected to represent Princess Anne in the competition for "Outstanding High School Student" of the year. One boy and one girl from the Norfolk area were chosen. The contest was sponsored by the Norfolk Junior Optimists Club.

Susan and Conrad were selected by a committee of faculty members to represent Princess Anne. These students were selected on the basis of character, leadership abilities, and academic achievement. Both are well qualified for this honor among students as they have displayed these three qualities throughout their high school years. Among their many activities, Susan is an extremely active business manager of the annual staff, as well as president of the Keyette Club, and Conrad is a confident Debate Council member of renown achievement as well as an active Key Clubber.

Probably most important of their qualifications is the outstanding scholastic record of each student. Both Susan and Conrad are honor students, a very difficult position to attain at Princess Anne and an extremely respected achievement as the high standards of P. A. distinguish an honor student as an individual of great mental capacity secured by constant work and study. An honor report is one in which the student has received no grade below a B. At Princess Anne a numerical grade of approximately 85-100 constitutes an A and 80-84, a B.

The "Curious Savage" will be presented on December 2, in the Princess Anne High School Auditorium. Adult tickets will be $1.00 and seats may be reserved on tickets which will be available at the door. Tickets will be sold by the Dramatics Club and cast members. The Dramatics Club of Princess Anne is sponsoring the play and cast members include: Raquel Wies, Lou Spangler, John Mather, Diane Snyder, Phyllis Nelson, Ricky Matton and Donald Baggett.

Brenda Koon, vice-president of the Dramatics Club and chairman of the play committee, reports: "It has been a wonderful experience to be able to help with this play." Special commendation should be given to Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Dramatics Teacher, and Dramatics Club sponsor, who worked and worried with us. The committee has also worked well. I'd like to thank especially the committee chairman, stage managers, and student directors. I feel that the play will be a huge success. It is a heart warming comedy filled with the humor of the American way of life. We hope to have a large turnout and put on a fine performance."

Cranberry Sauce
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine ingredients.
Crumble:
1 1/2 cups rolled oats
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
Combine ingredients and mix until mixture crumbles. Spoon half into well greased 7" x 11" baking pan. Press in firmly. Spread with filling. Cover with remaining crumbs. Bake 25 minutes in 400° oven. Let cool and cut in squares.

Cranberry Festival Salad
1 1/2 cups sweet cider
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup sifted flour
1 (1 1/2 lb.) can Ocean Spray Whole Cranberry Sauce
Heat 1/2 cup cider to boiling point. Stir in gelatin until it dissolves. Add remaining 1/2 cup cold cider. Stir in salt. Cool. Stir in whole cranberry sauce. Pour into mold and chill until firm.
Delicious with turkey, ham or other meats.

The Beta Club of Princess Anne has once again come to the time of the year in which new members are chosen. Many hopeful students await the "Tapping Ceremony" held in the auditorium in a morning assembly. These are the students who have turned in applications. They await the results of this test to select the students of highest character and academic ability within the high school.

President of the Beta Club this year is Barbara Watts, vice-president, Susan Greenwood, secretary, Pam Outhrie, and treasurer, Frankie Cox. The newly organized A Cappella choir looks forward to a busy season this year as the agenda is already filled with engagements. Among these are the performance for the Kempsville Woman's Club at Pine Tree Inn, on December 15, and that same night at Southern Shopping Center at 7:00. Also, on December 18, they will sing for the Oceana Lions Club at Pine Tree Inn. A high light of the school year for both student and members of the choir is the Christmas Concert presented on December 21, at 8:00 p.m., in the school auditorium. This is a very special part of the Christmas Season at Princess Anne High School, and many students, as well as others, give full support to this appearance of the choir.

The newly elected officers of the A Cappella Choir of Princess Anne recently elected the following officers for the 1960-61 year. They are: President, Tom McCarthy; Vice President, Linda German; Secretary-Treasurer, Johnny Harrison; and Reporter, Florence Reese. As well as others given by Mr. Clark W. Graves.

Officers of the Sigma Phi Epsilon are: President, Lew Dodson, Vice President, Bill Towers, secretary and treasurer, Ray Almquist. The club sponsor is Mr. Garrott. The main plans of the club this year include a semi-formal dance to be held in the late winter, which the members has hopes of making an annual affair.

The Candy Cane Ball, an annual affair held at Princess Anne just before the Christmas holidays, is being planned at present under the direction of Miss Inez E. Bryan, sponsor of the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Council which presents the dance each year.

The officers of the council are: President, Missy Belote, Vice President, Ronnie Woods; Secretary, Harpold; Treasurer, Barbara Spruill.

The Senior Play for the year 1961 will be entitled "Arsenic and Old Lace". The play is an annual presentation of the Senior class and will take place in the latter part of the winter.

under the green and upon the riverbank, will come forth from the waters. How deeply, how strangely, how securely buried! The green sea-weed may grow rankly there, and entwine around those old gravestones, and the flinty tribes may come up from the bay and the ocean with each flowing tide, and their pestilence upon those graves and among those stones, the shrill cry of the seagull is heard there, and flocks of gulls, wild fowl feed and flap their light wings upon the smooth cool surface of the river, but no... living statues there are seen to weep, and most truly, indeed, may it be said, "no afflictions, sorrows, or bereavements o'er (the) tomb."

A tall man may walk out to this submerged buried place, and feel with his feet (the water up to his chin), the gravestones and their inscriptions.

We now present a few additional thoughts or suppositions, relative to the graves of the dead, relative to Lynnhaven River.

In the first place, when the sand-bar at the entrance is no doubt caused by the winds in the winter, and during a portion of the fall and spring months, which have a lower of more than a hundred miles down the bay, especially from the north. Again, artificial means might probably be employed, with singular affect, upon the waters within this shallow and narrow entrance. For instance, if the bar could be removed, and its reformation prevented, so that the tides could freely ebb and flow with those of the sea without, the rise and fall of the water would be much greater within. Or, if this shallow inlet or outlet, which is only about three-quarters of a mile wide, were entirely crossed and obstructed by a stone wall, which could be built at no great cost; or if it should be closed by the banking of the sand, a very considerable inland sea might be formed; for it must be recollected, that the tributaries of Lynnhaven drain quite a large section of country, comparatively. The waters of the smaller bays mentioned, would probably be considerably raised, and the sedgy, boggy portions of the creek bed and coast might be deeply covered with water.

"RUNNING IT UP"

On the porch of the general store talk had grown nostalgic about the old-time education when book learning was lapped into you to stay. It was agreed that fear of a licking helped children to learn. But one fellow disagreed. "The only time I was ever licked," he said, "was for telling the truth."

There was silence while his neighbors assimilated this. Then quietly, judiciously, one of them said: "Well, Sam, I cured ya."

ANNUAL SHORT COURSE FOR DAIRYMEN TUES. & WED.
Every dairyman in Princess Anne County will go to the bank more often in 1961 than they did in 1960.

This should be the case if dairymen stay alert for changes in production methods. One way to get these changes is by attending the Annual Short Course for Dairymen, which is sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce. This year's program will feature "How to Make More Profit by Reducing the Cost of Milk Production." After all, it doesn't make too much difference how much you sell a product for, it is what you have after you pay all of the bills involved in the cost of production.

This short course will be held on December 6th and 7th, at the First Christian Church on Colonial Avenue, in Norfolk, Virginia.

The Agricultural Committee is inviting dairy farmers from all around the country to this outstanding event. When you come, you will hear national authorities from Virginia, Massachusetts, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and New York, and of course, Princess Anne County.

A truly outstanding program has been arranged for you. Look over the program which you will receive, and make your plans to attend.

WINTER JOBS INFLUENCE SPRING PROFITS IN SHEEP FLOCKS

What you do—or don't do—now, can mean money in or out of your pocket, next spring. If you are a sheep producer,

Attention to certain management jobs now can have a big effect on the coming lamb crop, and the profits on lambs sold next spring and summer. Here are some suggestions.

Tend the flock; check for culls. The best way to cull sheep is on a production basis, but they should also be culled for unsoundness and to a certain extent on looks at this time. Check teeth and udders. Ewes that have lost most of their teeth will have a hard time this winter, and may do a poor job of raising lambs. Check the udder to see that both sides are sound. Any ewes that are thin and in poor condition are a poor risk. Mark and cull as soon as possible all these ewes with poor mouths, bad udders and those in very poor condition.

Treat all sheep for internal parasites, and treat them no closer than one month to lambing time. Sheep should get this treatment, even if they seem to be fairly free of parasites.

Check their feet, and trim any feet that are long. If any foot trouble is present, get it cleared up before winter and lambing time.

Many farmers clip their wool off of their sheep's head and from around the udders before lambing time. This is a good practice and can be done at the same time you have the sheep in for other jobs. Be sure to do this at least one month before lambing time.

If the ram has been with the flock, and the ewes and lambs will be due in the next month to six weeks, take the ram away and keep him away until the next breeding season. A good management practice is to leave the ram with the ewes for three months. Then the next spring, cull out the ewes that do not lamb. In most cases, the ewes that fail to breed one year will fail again, or they may always be late lambers.

FARMERS NOW GETTING ONLY 37% OF MARKET BASKET

The average United States family now pays $1.028 per year for its market basket.

Of that total, the U.S. farmer gets only $381 or 37% of the total spent for food in the American home.

The remaining 63% of the market basket, $651 in this case, goes for marketing costs. In the past decade, the cost of the average family's food basket increased $242, but farmers got only $3 of that increase. The big bite, $130 dollars, was taken by labor through wage increases and demands of consumers for more built-in services. Even the government got a bigger bite, $44, than did the farmer. Transportation got $33 of the added cost, and packaging, advertising, financing and research got $73.

The built-in services include packing of items in plastic bags, ready-to-bake items, frozen foods, brown & serve items, and so on. Eating out also adds to higher food costs. Nearly $12 billion dollars was spent in 1959, by Americans in restaurants, 61% of the population use restaurants for the noon meal, 28% for the evening meal, but only 11% for breakfast.

FAT CATTLE ARE INEFFICIENT
Dairy cattle in high condition cost more to maintain and they produce milk at a higher feed cost than do cows in good working condition.

A Minnesota research report shows that fat cattle need more energy to maintain their bodies than cows in good condition. Dairymen have often noticed that fat heifers produce no more milk than low conditioned heifers if they are both fed according to standards after they come in to milk.

Since very fat calves may need as much as 25% more energy for maintenance than calves of normal condition at the same body weight, it is not advisable to aim for highly conditioned calves. Thrifty calves are cheaper to raise and will produce just as much when matured as their fatter sisters. This does not mean that heifers should be underfed, but it does question the wisdom of aiming to grow out heavily conditioned calves and heifers.

Mature cows overly conditioned are expensive to feed, because the maintenance requirements will be 25% or more higher than this should be. While it is desirable to have cows in good shape at calving time, it likely won't pay to feed heifers at high levels to dry cows merely to induce them to put on fat.

Use dairy feed wisely for top economy. If you want to feed cows for the greatest net return, enroll your herd in our county DEHA Association. Through the program, you will get grain feeding recommendations designed to keep your herd in good working condition. No cow will get less or more than she needs to maintain good body condition and produce milk economically.

WINTERING CALVES CALL FOR NO HOW

The tricks of the trade will come in handy when it comes to wintering beef calves in Princess Anne County.

The destination of the calves, whether they will be turned out on grass next year to make yearling steers, to be kept as herd replacements, or sold as yearlings on next spring's market, will have a lot to do with how they are fed and cared for.

No matter what their purpose, it is a good idea to divide the calves in groups according to their use. If all your calves are about the same size, you are lucky. But, if they are different, divide them. De-horn any horned calves before bad weather. Also, get rid of lice. It seems to take about twice as much feed to winter cattle with lice as those which have been properly treated.

If you have other cattle on the farm, be sure the best feed is set aside for the calves. An old cow can handle a lot of coarse rough feed but a calf needs high quality feed. If it is necessary to go to poorer quality feed as the cows get older, increase the grain supplement.

If steer calves are going to move to market at grass time in the spring, or are going to be taken off the middle of the season, and put in dry lot next year, feed them so they will put on about $20 lbs. during the winter. If they get a full feed of corn silage, they will need about 1 to 2 pounds of protein supplement, and two to three pounds of grain on the corn silage.

Steer calves which are going to be put on grass and sold as yearling feeders next fall, can be fed a full feed of silage or hay and given two pounds of grain plus one pound of protein supplement. They will gain about 1 lb. daily through the winter, then put on most of their gain on summer pasture next year.

Heifers, to be bred to calves as two year olds should pass 650 lbs. before they are bred. This requires fairly good feeding the calf year and the yearling year to have them big enough by calving time. If they are to be carried over and calved a three-year-old, it is important to winter them as cheaply as possible each year to keep down the cost of the mature cow. In all cases, however, feed top quality roughage to calves and supplement it with grain and protein to get the gains you want for the purpose for which you are wintering the calves.

COUNTY PROFESSIONAL WORKERS TO MEET

All professional agricultural workers serving Princess Anne County will meet on Monday, December 5th, at Pine Tree Inn. The professional workers will discuss problems each department is facing and how the departments can help each other in solving the problems of the Princess Anne County Farmers.

SWINE SALE SET FOR WINTER SEASON

Three winter sales have been set by the Virginia Purebred Swine Breeders Association.

These sales will be held February 1, in Courtland, February 3, in Culpeper, and February 7th, at Tappahannock.

4-H JUNIOR STEER PROJECT MEMBERS TO MEET

The 19 4-H Club members enrolled in the Princess Anne County 4-H Junior Steer project will meet on Friday night, December 2nd, at 7:30 p.m. in the Agricultural Building at Princess Anne, Va. Mr. Arden Huff, 4-H Livestock Specialist for VPI, will be present to talk to the boys and girls on the management of their Junior Steer Project. Each member attending will receive a gift from Southern States Norfolk Service.

On Saturday, December 3rd, Mr. Huff will score each of the projects. For the three highest scores, there will be three very valuable prizes. One prize will be a complete set of fitting and showing equipment, donated by Berkley Feed Corporation. Another prize will be show halter, presented by Southern States Norfolk Service, and another prize will be 50 lbs. of Cal Manna, donated by S. D. Scott & Co.

To receive either of these awards, the members must have been present at the December 2nd meeting.

The members will be judged on the following basis: (1) clean, well-bedded stalls; (2) adequate exercise lot; (3) adequate grain, hay, and water facilities; (4) feeding recommended grain ration (5) feeding management; (6) growth and finishing condition of the steer; (7) ability to lead and set steer up properly; (8) Steer led regularly; (9) Steer brushed properly and regularly; (10) record book up to date; (11) has written to sponsor and breeder of steer.

Seahawks And Guests Will Hear Coach Boone Dec. 14

Coach Jack Boone, the highly successful football coach at East Carolina College, will be the principal speaker at the annual grid banquet for the Virginia Beach High School Seahawks on the night of December 14. The dinner will be held in the school cafeteria and is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

Coach Boone, in his first year as head coach at East Carolina College in 1953 brought the school its first North State Conference football championship. His team that year posted an 8-1 record. This year his club soundly defeated a good Richmond team.

An interesting fact concerning Boone is that he once served as assistant coach under James A. Johnson, Jr., who is now principal at Virginia Beach High School.

Boone is a native of Portsmouth, Va., and was an outstanding athlete while attending Woodrow Wilson High School in 1937. He was all-division and All-State in football, in his final year in high school.

Monogram winners will be announced at the Seahawk banquet.

Coach Jack Boone and it is expected that Coach Claude King may give a hint as to next year's football prospects.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County will hold their Emblem Dinner on Sunday, December 11, 1960 at 7 o'clock at the Pine Tree Inn.

Neddie Towell, President of the Virginia Federation of Business & Professional Women, will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Skills of Handling People."

This topic would seem to be an enormous task for a speaker, but not so of Miss Towell. She has been active in such an impressive list, which are too numerous to mention, of social, business, educational and civic clubs and institutions that she is most qualified to speak on this subject.

All members and their guests are requested to make their reservations as soon as possible for this meeting by calling Mrs. Rust, GA 8-4586.

Promotions Announced For Five In Virginia Beach Police Division

Five members of the Virginia Beach Police Department were promoted effective December 1. It has been announced by Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson.

The top promotion went to Lt. Robert K. Halstead, 38, who was advanced to the recently created rank of captain.

Sergeants C. R. Bailey and W. W. Davis were advanced to the rank of lieutenants in charge of the department's personnel training and safety program for Bailey and Davis will be in command of the functions of the detective division. This will include records, identification bureau and youth bureau.

Detectives J. J. Waterfield and Henry Capps have been promoted to sergeants of the uniform division and will rotate in commanding the uniform force. They will also assist the lieutenant of police in carrying out the training of personnel and the safety programs in schools and civic organizations.

In the place of Waterfield and Capps in the detective bureau Patrolmen C. W. Simmons and Joe Perez have been transferred to take over these duties, Johnson pointed out.

Halstead, 38, is a native of Virginia Beach. He attended Cooke School and the Princess Anne High School. He joined the police force in June, 1942. Capt. Halstead attended the Central Police Training School in Richmond in 1962. He also is a graduate of the Delahany Police Institute in New York City and the Institute of Applied Police Science, Chicago.

Halstead was promoted to the rank of sergeant in 1948 and to the rank of lieutenant in 1957. Captain Halstead served in the United States Navy from 1943 to 1946.

Lieutenant Bailey, 35, was born in Hobgood, N.C., and is a high school graduate of Nashville, N.C. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II and joined the Virginia Beach police force in 1944. Lt. Bailey is a graduate of the following police schools: Central Police Training School, 1952; Dual Parking Meter School, 1954; Fingerprint Specialist School, 1955; Arson Investigation School, 1957; State Arson Investigation School, 1958; and a graduate of the Special Course on Traffic Law Enforcement and Administration at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, 1959.

Bailey was promoted to the rank of sergeant in August, 1954, and his promotion to lieutenant was effective December 1, 1960.

Lieutenant Davis is 35 years old and a native of Norfolk County. He was educated at Norview and Oceana High Schools and served his country in the Army Air Corps from 1944 to 1946. He attended the College of William and Mary in 1946. He is married to the former Virginia Estelle Hayman and they have two sons. Davis joined the department in Jan. 1961, and was assigned to the detective bureau in charge on July 1, 1960.

Davis attended the following schools: State Police Training School, 1952; State Arson Investigation School, 1952; Law Enforcement Training School in Fingerprinting, 1957; and the Police Science Seminar, 1959. He has also completed several courses in local training schools.

Sergeant Waterfield, 32, was born at False Cape in Princess Anne County and is married to the former Marie Beasley. Sergeant Waterfield first came with the police department in 1952 and has served as patrolman and detective. His latest assignment has been with the detective bureau.

He served in the Sgt. Waterfield maritime service before joining the police department.

Waterfield has attended the Central Police Training School in Richmond and the Arson School in Williamsburg. He is president of Virginia Beach Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police.

Sergeant Capps is 35 years old and a native of Princess Anne County. He was educated in Oceana and Maury High School and served in the U. S. Coast Guard in 1946 and 1947 with the Admiral Richard E. Byrd Expedition as a force at the North and South Poles. He served in the Marine Corps from 1950 to 1953. He is married to the former Erian Hope Barco and they have two sons.

GROUP SAYS SITUATION IS DIVIDING INFLUENCE

A resolution adopted by the Princess Anne County Medical Society urging backers of two separate hospital plans in the Virginia Beach-County area get together and a letter to the president of the medical society from the secretary of the Princess Anne County Hospital Commission figured in the area hospital news this week.

The resolution adopted by the Princess Anne County Medical Society is published in the Sun-News today as a paid advertisement by that body. The resolution says, among other things: "The existing situation is confusing and a dividing effort in our community."

A letter dated December 6, 1960, from Richard J. Webber, secretary to the Princess Anne County Hospital Commission, and addressed to Dr. C. W. DeWalt, president of the Princess Anne County Medical Society, stated, in part: "The Princess Anne County Memorial Hospital Committee are willing to meet with the Medical Society and the backers of the general hospital in the city of Virginia Beach at your convenience."

The letter further stated that "it is most necessary that both groups have the backing of your entire Association. It may be an opportune time for such a meeting due to the fact that the Virginia Beach group, we understand, has not started its campaign for funds."

The Webber letter goes on to say that "in our mutual efforts to provide for the relief of human suffering every effort should be made to resolve our problems consistently and in a common sense."

The key points in the Medical Society resolution was (1) "That in the best interest of optimum medical care for our community the efforts of all groups working for community hospitals be combined into a single united effort. And, (2) at the earliest possible time representatives of both hospital boards and the Princess Anne County Medical Society meet to accomplish this end."

The county memorial hospital plan was unveiled Aug. 1, 1959. This recommended that the hospital be located in a 15-acre tract in Princess Anne Plaza off Virginia Beach Boulevard. On May 1, 1960, an architect's sketch of the proposed Princess Anne Medical Center, a profit-making hospital to be built on Virginia Beach Boulevard near Birchwood Gardens, was published. The hospital was to be financed by a stock issue. The stock later was withdrawn from sale.

During the spring of 1960, plans were made to start a nonprofit hospital in Virginia Beach. The 45-bed Virginia Beach hospital at 25th Street and Arctic Ave. is a private venture built in 1946. It is owned by Drs. H. F. Dormire and W. L. Taylor. Practices there is now limited to the owning doctors and their associates. It is the only hospital in the area.

On Aug. 25, 1960 the 15-acre site in Princess Anne Plaza was handed over to a hospital committee and the first public contribution made. The following day, backers of the proposed nonprofit, nonstock General Hospital of Virginia Beach announced their plans. The group proposed to buy Virginia Beach hospital and enlarge it into a plant open to all physicians.

The fund drive for this hospital is due to start early next year. Seventeen doctors were said to have endorsed this plan.

Beach Inspected By Salt Water Site Committee

A government site selection committee visited Virginia Beach Tuesday and Wednesday to inspect this city as a possible site for a 250,000-gallon-a-day salt water conversion plant. The plant is planned by the United States Interior Department.

Later this month a decision is expected to announce the site selected for a 250,000-gallon-a-day salt water conversion plant that would turn salt water into fresh water by a freezing process. The list of possible sites for the East Coast plant has narrowed to Virginia Beach, Port Orange, Fla.; Key West, Fla.; Cape May, N.J.; Wrightsville Beach, N.C.; Greenport, N.Y.; or Portsmouth, N.H.

The City of Virginia Beach was host to three members of the site committee Tuesday night at a dinner at the Thunderbird Motor Lodge. Rep. Thomas N. Downing and city and county officials were present.

Virginia Beach has offered a site on the Atlantic Ocean south of Rudee Inlet for the plant. The members of the committee visiting Virginia Beach were Allen Cwynn, chief of the demonstration plants division, Office of Saline Water, Department of Interior; Lewis S. Finch, president of the American Waterworks Association; and W. C. Schroeder, professor of chemical engineering at the University of Maryland.

The group visited the Rudee Inlet site Wednesday morning and they expect to complete their inspection tour on December 12.

CITY EARNED $14,601.10 DURING PAST FIVE YEARS

The City of Virginia Beach has earned $14,601.10 in interest on surplus funds during the past five years, according to figures released by City Treasurer Lewis E. Smith Wednesday.

According to Treasurer Smith the $14,601.10 was earned by the city on surplus funds from January, 1955 through June 30, 1960.

METAL FIRM OPEN IN P.A. COUNTY

Assembly operations of Louis Fraser, Inc., manufacturers of aluminum windows and doors, have been shifted to larger quarters near Princess Anne Plaza as part of an expansion program. Jerry L. Nelson, general manager, said the firm, which also operates a large residential and commercial painting business, expects to employ 100 to 150 more people in the area by next spring. The company now employs more than 60.

Joy Fund Makes Appeal For Toys As Christmas Need

Annual Bayside Joy Fund Begins

The Bayside Joy Fund is getting underway so that no one in the area shall have a dreary Christmas. The men in the Bayside Lions Club organize the "Joy Fund" each year for the Bayside area. But they have lots of helpers. They couldn't do it if they didn't.

Each year the men at the Little Creek Amphibious Base Fire Department under the direction of Chief Kelly Davis, collect and renovate toys and bicycles. The enlisted personnel on the Little Creek Amphibious Base donate canned goods in large boxes which are stationed at different points on the base. The Home Economics Department of Princess Anne High School, under Mrs. Virginia Folkes, dresses the dolls for the Joy fund.

Last but not least—the churches, organizations and individuals in the area give cash contributions which are used to purchase fresh meats, fresh vegetables, fruits, clothing, shoes and sometimes fuel for a needy family.

If you have not already done so, won't you please send your cash contributions to Mr. George Lyon, Route No. 1, Box 233, Bayside, Va.

Anti-TB Drugs Great Aid in Fighting Germ

"Tuberculosis can be wiped out," said A. R. Hill, president of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, announcing the VTA's acceptance of a report of 26 anti-TB drugs and public health representatives who met in Roanoke recently.

"Hard work—not magic—and good drugs can do the job. How? By treating every case of tuberculosis with anti-TB drugs to cure the patient and make him noninfectious to others."

This is the considered recommendation of responsible medical and public health people who met in a conference sponsored by the Virginia State Department of Health and the Virginia Tuberculosis Association.

About 30,000 Virginia patients would be involved, Hill said. This includes the 12,400 now on local health department case registers plus 10,000 former patients whose medical status should be investigated. In addition, there are an estimated 10,000 undetected cases of

TB in the State.

"Because tuberculosis is caused by a germ, the contact of all cases must be found and examined. This means 150,000 people approximately will need some type of medical follow-up."

"More money will be needed for immediate use," Hill said. "Costs can be greatly reduced later. We will have to keep our present hospital facilities, expand our clinic system and our local health services."

"We need especially to increase our number of public health nurses. We will be dealing with nearly three times the number of patients and about five times the number of contacts."

TB costs Virginia $8,000,000 a year—$15 per second. This does not include welfare payments to patients and families or workmen's compensation.

Large Medical Representation

Conference making the far-reaching recommendations included heads of the State Board of Health, the State Department of Health, the Division of TB Control, Local Health Services, Welfare, the University of Virginia department of internal medicine, chest specialists, professors of medicine at Medical College of Virginia, general practitioners, a former director of Philipps Institute in Philadelphia, the medical research director of the American Thoracic Society of New York and directors of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association.

Acceptance by the VTA executive committee of the report of the conference will automatically throw the weight of every tuberculosis association in Virginia behind our State Health Department in the drive to wipe out TB," Hill said.

Call For Help

He called for the help of Virginia citizens. "Every adult must assume the responsibility for himself and family for having chest X-rays or tuberculosis tests," Hill said. "Success depends on every citizen supporting the program to wipe out tuberculosis in his own community. He can do this by working with the local health and welfare departments and his local TB association," Hill said.

(Local Information)

The Tuberculosis and Health Association of Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties maintains an X-ray Clinic at the Virginia Beach Health Department, 18th and Arctic, the first and third Wednesday of every month. Free chest X-rays are available between 1 and 3 p.m. No appointment necessary. If you have not had a chest X-ray in the past six months take advantage of this FREE service on the next clinic day, Wednesday, Dec. 21.

Teen Scene

This is Charley Oop with all the local teenage news. The Virginia Beach High School basketball team won its first game by defeating Franklin, 41 to 36, last Friday night at Franklin. The next game is this Friday against Southampton. This will be a home game at Virginia Beach High School gymnasium.

TEENAGER OF THE WEEK

This week we salute Kitty Boshner as the teenager of the week.

Kitty is the third sophomore to be the Teenager of the Week and her sister was the second freshman to be teenager of the week.

Kitty is a very bright student and is active in school activities. She finished with an A average last year and is doing very well this year.

We salute Kitty Boshner and hope great success comes her way.

TOPS 'N' POPS

Elvis Presley still leads the top parade with "Are You Lonesome Tonight?" The top five reads as follows: 1. "Are You Lonesome Tonight?" 2. "Poetry in Motion" 3. "You Talk Too Much" 4. "Last Date" 5. "Stay".

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The Junior Military Assembly will hold its Christmas Dance on Friday night, December 16.

The Knight's Boys Club of Virginia Beach will hold their weekly dance at the Community House on Saturday night from 8 p.m. until 12 p.m. The Rhythm Rookies will play. Admission will be 75 cents.

The Thunderbird Bowling Lanes announce that Junior Leagues are being formed for the winter months. Those interested should contact Joe Phelps at the popular recreation center to sign up for the leagues. It's lots of fun and good exercise, too.

Club Meetings

The Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening Dec. 6, at the Virginia Beach High School.

The program was presented by the Fine Arts Dept. Mrs. M. H. Todd gave a demonstration on Home Christmas decorations.

The club voted to donate a penny per pound for each member to the Mexican Self Help fund through CARE.

The annual Christmas dinner-dance will be held December 14th at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club.

The Lynnhaven-Little Neck Civic League is having an Oyster Roast Sunday, December 11th, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Lynnhaven-Little Neck Civic League Building. The location is on Little Neck Road approximately one-mile north of Virginia Beach Blvd. The purpose is to raise money for their building fund.

Clam Chowder, oysters, raw and roasted, hot dogs, coffee, soft drinks and all the trimmings will be served. All you can eat—Adults $2.00; children, $1.00.

VEE BEE CHATTER

BY THE SCOPERS

The "Powder Puff" Football Game was played on Friday, December 2, between the junior and senior girls. This very exciting game was not "tackled" but "tough" football. The senior team consisted of Joanne Waters, Bonnie Hill, Midge Merritt, Midge Merritt, Marsh Kilen, Doty Wright, Ann Stell, Molly Kneel, Ginger Mathias, Susan Zehner, Gay Finley, Mary Madoux, Gay Hiers, Carol Sharpe, "Cookie" Shuff, Mary Ben Wooling, and Brenda Bishop. The junior team consisted of Marika Jari, Louise Rainey, Pam Sheridan, Stephanie Beegle, Taral Brennan, Judy Brown, Pat Caffey, Debbie Chappell, Cheryl Esham, Bob Falconer, Betsy Gilliam, Susan Lape, Betsy Keville, Becky Parnell, Stella Morris, Paul Scarborough, Hazel Tucker, and Connie Tillet.

This time of the year everyone looks a little fatter because of so many turkey dinners.

THE VICTIM

Is she a model? She looks like one in every manner, and is always mistaken for one. Although most people would let a compliment like this go to their head, she just acts normal and like herself. Her favorite food is spaghetti, but only her mother's. Her favorite sport is swimming which is good since she lives at the Beach. Yes, you guessed it: she is Sherry Sells, a junior at V.B.H.S. The best of luck to Sherry in your modeling career.

Miss Ball and Mr. Addington will be married Dec. 10.

On Saturday Miss Ball and Mr. Addington were honored by Mr. & Mrs. James Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Rawles and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ritter at the Rawles' home, 4 Meredith Rd., Churchland. About 70 attended the party.

A cocktail party was given for the couple on Saturday, Nov. 26th by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wood of Glenesies Road, Lochaven. 60 people attended the 6 to 8 p.m. party.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. O'Connor entertained Friday at a cocktail party for Miss Ball and Mr. Addington. The party was given at the O'Connors' home on Hunter Trail. There were 40 guests.

Miss Ball was honor guest Tuesday, Nov. 22, at a dessert-bridge given by Miss Lelia Wagner and Mrs. Veronica Wagner on 81st St.

In Legion Fashion Show

Mrs. William P. Kellam, left, and Mrs. S. Peter Scoppa, both wives of members of Post 113 of the American Legion here, are shown as they will appear as models in the annual fashion show on December 10 at the Legion Home on Laskin Road. The fashion show will be combined with a dance and both events are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Fashions will be by Rose Hall. (Boice Photo)

Kitzmiller-Standing Vows Exchanged in Pittsburgh

Miss Margery Blythe Kitzmiller and Robert Earl Standing were married Nov. 19 at 11:39 a.m. in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The Rev. Drap performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white silk peau de soie and satin, embroidered with seed pearls, ending in a cathedral train. Her elbow-length veil was arranged from an orange blossom cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and spider mums with a white orchid center.

Miss Nancy B. Kitzmiller, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Mary Linda Standing and Marie Theresa Standing, sisters of the bridegroom, both of Virginia Beach; Wendy Ann Grubb of Connecticut and Roberta Burns.

Mr. Standing was his son's best man. Groomsmen were Steve Standing and Guy Standing of Virginia Beach, the bridegroom's brothers; Walter Schwind of Woodbury, N.J., and Thomas Matthews.

There was a reception at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to White Sulphur Spring, W. Va. They are living at Virginia Beach.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

The Hospital Picture

"That in the best interest of optimum medical care for our community the efforts of all groups working for community hospitals be combined into a single united effort."

"At the earliest possible time representatives of both hospital boards and the Princess Anne County Medical Society meet to accomplish this end."

The two statements above are quoted from the body of a formal resolution adopted this week by the Princess Anne County Medical Society relative to the two separate fund raising drives for two general hospitals to be located in the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County area.

This resolution and a subsequent letter from the secretary of the Princess Anne County Hospital Commission to the president of the county Medical Society are the latest developments in the local hospital picture.

The complete text of the Medical Society's resolution appears elsewhere in this newspaper. One point brought out in the resolution, in addition to those stated above, is the fact that "the existing situation is confusing and a dividing influence in our community."

The letter from the county hospital commission secretary, Richard J. Webbon, states that the "Princess Anne County Memorial Hospital Committee are willing to meet with the Medical Society and the backers of the general hospital in the City of Virginia Beach at your convenience."

The letter further states that "in our mutual efforts to provide for the relief of human suffering every effort should be made to resolve our problems consistent with good administration and common sense."

We feel the points brought out in the resolution of the Medical Society and the expressions of the county hospital commission secretary are worthy of exploration and the interested groups should give them careful consideration.

Police Officer Promotions

The promotions in rank and duty that came to several members of the Virginia Beach Police Department a few days ago would indicate that key personnel of this efficient department of the City of Virginia Beach are being recognized by their superiors, and this is as it should be in a growing, progressive city such as Virginia Beach.

The announcement was made by Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and among the aspects of the changes was the creation of the grade of Captain in the police department. Lieutenant Robert K. Halstead was elevated to the rank of Captain.

Other promotions saw Sergeants C. R.

"Mickey" Bailey and W. W. "Bill" Davis advanced to the grade of Lieutenants. In all, five men were promoted.

The other two promotions went to Detectives J. J. Waterfield and Henry Capps. Both Capps and Waterfield were promoted to the rank of Sergeant, taking over the positions vacated by Bailey and Davis.

We have observed with pride the work of the Virginia Beach Police Department over the years and this pride has been justified due to the efforts of key personnel such as the men who have just been promoted.

We congratulate these law enforcement officers on their promotions. We know they were well deserved.

John B. Dey School Plans Christmas Play December 13

Two contrasting Christmas observances portrayed through the medium of music and pantomime; one in the Swiss Alps, and the other in nineteenth century America, will be the theme of the annual Christmas Program for the Parents Teachers Association, presented by the Sixth and Seventh Grade Chorus of John B. Dey School, under the direction of Mrs. Irene A. Korte, vocal music teacher, assisted by Mr. Laurence Sawyer, practice teacher from the Norfolk College of William and Mary, on Tuesday evening, December 13, at 8 p.m. in the John B. Dey School Auditorium.

SOROPTIMISTS GROUP IN NEW YORK CITY

Members of the Norfolk and Virginia Beach Soroptimists Club left Norfolk by bus Wednesday morning and are now in New York City visiting the United Nations Headquarters. It is the ninth annual trip to the international peace organization site.

The trip is sponsored each year by the International Goodwill and Understanding Committee of the club. Mrs. Harry Teglin is chairman of the committee.

An interesting sidelight to the annual trip is the fact that the same bus driver has driven the group to New York City each year.

CADET CAMPBELL ON DEAN'S LIST

Cadet Charles "Chuck" Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Owen Campbell of Lintler, Virginia Beach, is on the Dean's list at Garvey Military Academy, Chesapeake, Virginia. It has been announced.

Cadet Campbell is maintaining a B average at the military school and he is one of 26 boys to make the coveted list for the first grading period.

One of the extra privileges Cadet Campbell has gained by his scholastic achievement is to be allowed to begin his Christmas holiday period on December 24, two days earlier than the school's student body.

Permit Sought For "Frontier Land" Park in P. A. County

Plans for a "Frontier Land" type amusement park in the Virginia Beach area have been advanced as officials of the Tidewater Historical Drama Association, Inc., sought a use permit for the site formerly used for "The Confederacy."

The use permit request will go before the County Board of Supervisors for action on Dec. 19. In other action the Planning Commission heard a zoning request from representatives of Hilltop Enterprises, Inc. Hilltop officials seek a zoning change from residential to limited commercial on a tract on Laskin Rd. at Oceana Road. No opposition was voiced to the proposed change.

Hilltop officials said they had no immediate plans for a commercial venture but that work would be done to rid the area of a drainage and sanitation problem.

A year ago, Hilltop authorities announced plans for a million dollar-plus shopping center on the site.

An application of Sportswoman's Park of Princess Anne for a use permit to operate a recreation area to include skeet trap, rifle, and pistol ranges on Seacoast Road met no opposition at the planning session.

The commission also heard a request for a use permit to operate a private school on property on Holland Swamp Rd. The petition was submitted by Robert T. Hasler Jr. of Old Dominion Schools, Inc. The petition met no opposition.

Hasler said plans for the property are still tentative, though the corporation hopes to open an elementary and high school on the site by September 1962.

A plant costing about $40,000 with space for approximately 500 pupils is planned, Hasler said.

Two applications were withdrawn. Floyd T. Deary Sr. withdrew a request for change of zoning from general industrial on property on Route 615 near Laskin Road. A companion application by Deary for a use permit for part of the property to permit the installation of bulk petroleum storage facilities was also withdrawn.

It is ordered that she do appear here within ten (10) days after due publication hereof, and do what may be necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

These were made possible through the generosity of a great many individuals and groups. Particular mention should be made of the firmmen who traditionally have taken on the job of reconciling the toys, the Jaycees who rejuvenate the dolls and the Welfare Department which assists in determining the most worthy recipients.

We hope that everyone in the community who can afford to will join in to help us make this year when no one is turned away only because there is not enough to go around.

We will sincerely appreciate any assistance received. And please remember, if you want to give in another community, do so, but first send a contribution to JOY FUND, P.O. Box 274, Virginia Beach, Va. 23462.

Our local JOY FUND had its inception during the early days of World War II. It was originally conceived and largely operated by Gene Baker, Alfred W. Craft, Sr. and A. C. Peet, all local residents.

Their idea was contagious, and as time went on more individuals joined in the program. Increasing assistance was received from various civic groups.

When, in 1954, the Virginia Beach Jaycees were offered the opportunity of organizing the annual Christmas campaign, it was a well established tradition. Since that time we hope we have done a creditable job. We were proud that, for the work done in 1959, our chapter received an award for the outstanding Christmas program in the state.

Each year toys, clothes and food are made available for destitute and deserving families in this area. Last year, after patient screening, over eight hundred children were given toys and the number of families receiving assorted Christmas baskets exceeded three hundred.

George G. Phillips Jr., Frances Royster, Marry

Frank Sheppard Royster Jr. announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Frances Sheppard Royster, to George Garlington Phillips Jr. on Saturday, November 26th, at the Canna Memorial Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth City, N.C.

The Rev. George D. Heath performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mrs. Selby Leeds Royster of Virginia Beach. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheppard Royster Sr. of Norfolk and the late Mrs. Walter W. Abell of Baltimore, Md.

She was graduated from Garrison Forest School, Garrison, Md. in 1937 and was presented to society that year at a ball given by the Norfolk German Club and also at the Bachelor Cotillion in Baltimore. She is a member of the Norfolk Junior League.

Mr. Phillips is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Garlington Phillips of London Bridge and the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Phillips of Montclair, N.J., and Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Charles Lewis Richardson and the late Mr. Richardson of Roanoke.

Mr. Phillips was graduated from Woodberry Forest School, Orange, in 1936 and attended Virginia Military Institute in Lexington.

After a southern wedding trip, the couple will live at Virginia Beach.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner Shelly of Birmingham, Ala., announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Perry Elizabeth, Nov. 20 in Birmingham. Mrs. Shelly is the former Miss Marietta Perry of Edenton. Mr. Shelly is the son of Mrs. Lester Benjamin Shelly and the late Mr. Shelly of Virginia Beach.

Johnny built a snowman! From white, cold snow he made it. It was hard work, and Johnny was justly proud.

Johnny built a snowman—in a day! He packed the snow hard, put in coals for the eyes and nose, and Daddy's hat was placed on top.

But far more of Daddy than just his hat went into this snowman. Just as Johnny worked hard to build the snowman, his father is hard at work too . . . building Johnny. Daddy's greatest dream is to see Johnny moulded into a man of strength, vision, and character.

Luckily for Johnny, Daddy is a wise father. He realizes that the most important single influence upon his son's life is the teaching of Christ. Daddy will see to it that his son receives that teaching by sending him to Church services regularly. In making certain that Johnny knows the beauty of God's words, father will see his greatest dream come true.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a treasurehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. These are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Meet Here From January 6 to 8

According to Earl Jacobs, Jr., presiding minister of the Virginia Beach Congregation, Circuit No. 28 of Jehovah's Witnesses have chosen Virginia Beach, Virginia as the place for their first semi-annual circuit convention for 1961.

The meeting will be held at the Convention Hall Friday, Saturday, Sunday, January 6-8. More than 750 witnesses from 20 congregations in North Carolina and Virginia are expected.

When announcing this coming assembly to the congregation here this week, Jacobs told his hearers that the rising tide of materialism is a challenge to Christian thinking and Christian works. "Great emphasis," he said, "is being placed on personal security through material possessions; but the crying need of the hour is greater knowledge of God and the principles of the Bible." He then pointed out the importance of Bible knowledge at this time by quoting Ecclesiastes 7:12: "For money is a defense and wisdom of defense, but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom giveth life to them that have it."

This convention here in Virginia Beach is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society for the purpose of giving Jehovah's Witnesses and their friends three days of advanced Bible knowledge and special ministerial training, Jacobs said.

Members of the Virginia Beach Congregation for the next few months will be calling on the homemakers of this area to secure rooming accommodations for the hundreds of visiting witnesses.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Shorty Johnson's
"Sound" Remover

Our volunteer Bremen's convention is quite a noisy affair. It often takes 15 minutes to bring the meeting to order. So this year, "Shorty" Johnson, our chairman, tried a new approach.

Amid all the noise, Shorty got up and began to speak. At first, you couldn't hear a word he said. But he kept on until things suddenly quieted right down.

Said Shorty, later: "I figured if I spoke softly enough, someone would wonder what I was saying and shush the man next to him. That man would quiet down the man next to him, and so on. All I was saying up there was 'Meeting will come to order.' And it did."

From where I sit, Shorty's quiet method proves there's more than one way to do things. If a neighbor, for example, prefers a glass of beer while you prefer loud tea, that's just two different ways of cooling off. It's all a matter of personal taste. And when you're tolerant of the other fellow's choice, you can be sure of "meeting" with friendship.

Appointment of Lewis B. Allen as Director of Store Development for Colonial Stores Inc. has been announced by Carl J. Reith, president of the 400-store supermarket chain which has general headquarters here.

Mr. Allen comes to Colonial from the Edward J. DeBartolo Companies of Youngtown, Ohio, one of the nation's leading shopping center development organizations, where he has been real estate coordinator.

In his new position, Mr. Allen will have overall responsibility for Colonial's real estate development, engineering and construction, store planning and store equipment purchasing.

Prior to joining the DeBartolo Companies, Mr. Allen was with the Kroger Co. for nine years serving in the law and real estate departments. He served as real estate manager in their Grand Rapids (Mich.) and Pittsburgh divisions.

A native of Swanton, Ohio, Mr. Allen holds degrees in Business Administration and law from Ohio State University. He practiced law in Bryan, Ohio, for several years after graduating from Ohio State. During World War II, he was a Navy fighter pilot, and he left the service as a lieutenant commander. Mr. Allen is a Mason and a Shriner. He will make his new home in Atlanta.

COMMUNITY NEEDS
JUNIOR LEAGUE AIM

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior League of Norfolk was held Wednesday, November 30, 1960 at 8:00 P.M. at Christ and St. Luke's Church, Norfolk.

The 1960-61 program of the Junior League of Norfolk is entitled "Exploring Community Needs". The subject for the November 30th meeting was "Education", and a group of five Tidewater educators formed a panel for discussion. The panel members were Mrs. George Barnes of the English Department, Princess Anne High School; Mrs. Betty H. Yarbrough, High School Supervisor, Norfolk County; also, Director of Developmental Reading; Mrs. Yarbrough has a summer position at The McGuffey Reading Clinic in Charlottesville; Miss Olive Robinson, Supervisor of Junior High Schools, City of Norfolk; and Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Assistant Superintendent, Curriculum and Instruction, City of Norfolk.

PRINCESS ANNE
HI SCHOOL NEWS

by CAROLYN JENNINGS

Wendy Hopson, Princess Anne High School senior, has been named winner of the "I Speak For Democracy" contest which was held in the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne district this year. On November 18, her speech was taped at the WBOF radio station at Virginia Beach. On November 21 it was judged on the following basis: 1. Content of the speech; 2. Voice Quality; and 3. Delivery of the speech.

Wendy will enter the state contest at Richmond where she will compete with contestants from two other areas in Western Virginia. Her speech will be judged on the same points as it was previously.

The Candy Cane Ball, an annual affair at Princess Anne, will be held this year on December 21 from 8-12. This dance is sponsored each year by the H-Y, Tri-H-Y Council. Tickets will be available until December 7 and will be closed to couples only. The music for this semi-formal dance will be furnished by Lou Sachs.

The planning committee for the dance consists of students, Miss Belote and Sidney Godwin, chairmen, and Gigs Lindon, Ronnie Wood, Johnny Harrison, Norma Heath, Pat Plevyak and Robie Robinson, committee members.

Twenty-eight new members have been accepted into the National Beta Club at Princess Anne. The "Tapping Ceremony", held in the school auditorium, which was attended by the Junior and Senior classes, was the first announcement of the new members. The robed members of the Beta Club began the tapping after the A Capella Choir sang two selections.

The ceremony began with candle lighting then one Beta Club member at a time would take a gavel and tap one new member who was announced and escorted to the stage. Congratulations were given to the new members.

Those accepted into the club this year were in all seven senior and twenty-one juniors. They were: Harvey Bennett, Marietta Blackwell, Anne Connell, Carol Denton, Dion Meek, Warren Powell, Conrad Shumadine, Paige Balentine, Nancy Von Elm, Sandra Armbruster, Eleanor Balaban, Grace Bamford, Patricia Brown, Carol Colenda, Reid Ervin, Georgia Fox, Dick Garriott, Nancy Gotwald, Josephine Jones, Marie Lansperry, Mary McCormick, Pat Mahoney, Ginger Olive, Judy Peterson, Pat Plevyak and Anne Powell.

On December 16, The Annual Christmas Concert presented by the Princess Anne High School Band will be held in the school auditorium.

The admission prices are: 75c for adults, and 50c for children under twelve years of age. The tickets are on sale now and will be available until the concert. They are being sold at present by the various band members.

Music in the concert will be of a wide variety as selections will come from the Broadway plays, "Damn Yankees," and "My Fair Lady," as well as many of the traditional Christmas and concert pieces. This presentation is one which both band members and the student body look forward to. They are looking for a large turnout that night and according to Mr. G. L. Bailey, the Band Director, this concert is especially for "... children of all ages."

In a recent debate on Youth's View on the Processes of Education, Conrad Shumadine represented Princess Anne. This main topic of the televised debate was broken down into three sub-topics which consisted of the following: 1. Teaching by phonetics is better than teaching by the method of simple reading; 2. Grouping of students according to ability and intelligence should be practiced in all schools; and 3. The importance of extra-curricular activities in the school. Conrad took an affirmative stand in all of the issues.

The possibility of future debates on other phases of education by these same schools, P.A., Wilson, and Maury has been discussed.

The 1960 Virginia Apple Display contest brought 50 dollars to Danny Larsen in this contest for Distributive Education students. Danny won first place for his display in his training station at the Colonial Stores, located at Janaf Shopping Center. Danny was classified in the division for stores with four or more check-out stations and competed with students throughout Virginia.

A second place award was secured by Nancy Evans in the division for grocery stores with less than three check-out stations. Her cash prize consisted of $25.

The displays were judged by the State Apple Commission and the display techniques were a product of the various phases of display that the students have learned at Princess Anne. Mr. H. R. Coakley, who teaches these students, also received an award of $150 toward his expenses at the Distributive Education Clubs of America Convention which will be held in Chicago.

Further D.E. Club News is the Annual District I Distributive Education Convention which was held at Princess Anne High School this year. The P.A. club was host to this event. Attending the convention were the D.E. Clubs from Cranby, Norview, Hampton, Newport News, and Maury.

This affair consisted of a district business meeting, followed by a dance in the foyer, a banquet held after the dance, and finally ending the convention was a speech by Ronald Lamphins, President of the Virginia D.E.A.

Officers of the National Honor Society for this year are President Pam Cole; Vice-President, Floese Hodgeman; Barbara Watts, Secretary and Treasurer. The sponsor and advisor of the National Honor Society is Mrs. Mary Barnes. The three standards of the Honor Society are, Scholarship, leadership and character. In order to qualify for membership a student must have a determined number of points. These points are determined by the number of activities of the school in which the student participates and his overall scholastic average.

The projects of the Honor Society for this year consist of the sale of Princess Anne High School sweatshirts, the annual Junior-Senior basketball game, and to award a scholarship at the end of the year. The Honor Society Scholarships given to the student which the Club finds to be the most deserving of the honor.

New members will be chosen on December 14, applications having been available since December 5. The Princess Anne High School Student Cooperative Society looks to an active year. The S.C.A., under the president, Dion Meek has

Meeting Posts

Three of Jehovah's Witnesses of Virginia Beach have received special assignments for the next semi-annual convention of Virginia Circuit No. 1, according to Manuel C. Contides, a spokesman for the Virginia Beach group.

Resolving assignments were: Contides, Guntner Muller, and E. H. Jacobs.

W. G. Shawver, a traveling minister of the Watchtower Society, recently made the appointments. Shawver serves as ministry supervisor for the Virginia circuit.

Convention sessions are to be held at the Harry Hunt Junior High School in Portsmouth, December 10-12. Contides and Muller will both participate on the Friday evening opening session. Jacobs will develop on the theme "Are You Spiritually Awake?", and Muller will follow with the supporting subject, "Improper Conduct Can Lull You to Sleep."

The over-all convention theme will be "Be Taught By Jehovah." Principle feature of the three-day meeting will be the public Bible lecture by J. W. Wilson, a district minister of the Watchtower Society. He will speak on "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?" at the Sunday p.m. session at 3 o'clock, Contides stated.

The training sessions of the convention will provide education in Bible principles and ministerial techniques vital to the Christian's home missionary efforts. Contides said in explaining the purpose of the assembly.

Contides was assigned to the responsibility of the operation of the public address system for the convention.

Plans of an annual magazine campaign to raise money for school needs. There are plans to give a cup to the most outstanding club of the year, and this summer the S.C.A. has set up plans to send one or more students to Europe for a term of two months. The exact location, student, or students, have not as yet been decided however, this is extension of the foreign exchange student system which was begun last year.

One immediate project which extends throughout the year is the compiling of a scrapbook of the activities of the Student Council. The scrapbook is placed on display at the State S.C.A. Convention and will be a representative of the work done by the Student Cooperative Association of Princess Anne High School.

The first College Board Examinations were held in various places in each city in all parts of the nation last Saturday. The many Junior and Senior students at Princess Anne as well as the other high school students, hopefully took the long aptitude tests which could qualify them for college entrance.

WHEREAS:

1. There is a need for a general hospital in our community — which includes both Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach.

2. There are currently two separate fund drives for two general hospitals which would duplicate expensive facilities and personnel, and have a total goal that exceeds the amount that can be expected to be contributed by our community.

3. The existing situation is confusing and a dividing influence in our community — where the experience of other communities has shown that to be successful such a project should be a united community effort.

Therefore, the Princess Anne County Medical Society suggests the following to the Boards of both hospitals and to the citizens of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County:

1. That in the best interest of optimum medical care for our community the efforts of all groups working for community hospitals be combined into a single united effort.

2. At the earliest possible time representatives of both hospital boards and the Princess Anne County Medical Society meet to accomplish this end.

Colorful Christmas Confections!

Fill your Christmas boxes of homemade goodies with color... with glamour and with Christmas Spirit! Our recipe for gaily decorated Coconut "trees" provides all these holiday requisites. Quick-to-make Coconut Fruit Snowballs are delicious, too. To make these, blend together a cup of uncooked pitted prunes, a cup and a half of dark seedless raisins, both chopped, plus a dash of salt and a tablespoon of lemon juice. Shape into small balls and roll in flaked coconut... you'll have two dozen delicious holiday "Snowballs"!

Coconut Trees

- 1/2 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 2 tablespoons evaporated milk
- 1 1/2 cups (about) Angel Flakes Coconut
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract or few drops oil of cinnamon
- Few drops red or green food coloring
- Red cinnamon candies
- Silver dragees

Combine margarine and sugar. Add evaporated milk, coconut, flavoring, and food coloring. (If desired, use red coloring in part of mixture and green coloring in remainder.) Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls onto waxed paper and shape into small peaks, resembling Christmas trees. Let stand until firm—about 30 minutes. Decorate by pressing cinnamon candies onto the green trees and silver dragees onto the pink or green trees. Makes 3 dozen small confections.

beef cattle is a mighty good way to sell surplus grain and forage at a profit while giving full-time employment for farm labor.

Here again, Mast has suggested five types of cattle feeding for the man who has feed and know-how: Full feeding calves from weaning time in October until June, or as soon as the choice grade is reached. This method suits the man who has a high ratio of grain to forage and does not wish to market pasture through his slaughter cattle.

Buy yearlings or 2-year old cattle and full feed in dry lot until the low choice grade is reached. This system suits the person who produces large quantities of grain, hay and silage and does not have halved candied cherries and citron or angelica, if desired.

Almond Filling

- 1 1/2 cups blanched almonds (about 1 pound)
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 2 eggs, beaten slightly

Chop almonds, using finest blade of food chopper. Blend in crumbs and sugar, then melted butter or margarine. Add eggs and mix well. Makes 3 coffee cakes.

Shapes For Coffee Cakes

Christmas Wreath — Form into ring. With scissors, cut through ring almost all the way around, leaving about 1-inch thick. Turn each slice slightly, lifting every other one to center of ring.

Polka-dot — With scissors, make five diagonal cuts completely through roll. Arrange, cut side down, in circle on baking sheet, with edges touching each other. Place remaining section in center.

Christmas Coffee Braid — Place roll just off center on baking sheet. With scissors, cut through roll almost to center in slices about 1-inch thick. Turn each slice slightly, lifting every other one to the other side.

Fall-Proof Fudge

- 1 cup evaporated milk (not diluted)
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups (16 medium) diced marshmallows*
- 1 1/2 cups Baker's chocolate chips
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Combine evaporated milk, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Cook and stir 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add remaining ingredients and stir just until marshmallows are melted and mixture is well blended. Pour into greased 8x8-inch pan. When cool, cut in squares. Makes about 24 pieces.

*Or use 1 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows.

Christmas Coffee Cake

- 2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
- 1 cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm or dry)
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 5 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
- 1 cup softened butter or margarine, (1 pound)
- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- Almond Filling
- 1 1/2 cups red candied cherries, chopped (about 10 ounces)

Glaze, if desired
Confectioners' sugar icing
Candied cherries and citron or angelica, if desired

Soften yeast in water in large mixing bowl. When yeast is soft, stir in sugar, salt, milk and eggs. Add 3 cups flour and beat until smooth. Stir in enough more flour (about 1 cup to make a very stiff dough. Blend well. Turn out on generously floured board or pastry cloth. Sprinkle dough with about 1 cup flour. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Spread butter or margarine on upper 1/2 of dough. Fold lower third over middle third and top third over that. Turn lengthwise and roll out again to about 1/4-inch thickness. Fold in thirds. Lift gently to baking sheet. Chill about 30 minutes. Repeat rolling, folding and chilling operation 3 or 4 more times.

Divide dough into 3 parts. Work with 1 part at a time. Cover and chill unused portions of dough. Roll each into a rectangle about 8x13 inches (about 1/4 inch thick). Brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, leaving a 1/2-inch margin on one of the 13-inch sides. Drop about 1/4 of Almond Filling by teaspoonfuls over dough. Spread gently with spatula. Scatter 1/2 of cherries over filling. Roll up like jelly roll (beginning with the long side). Brush the 1/2-inch margin with water and seal. Place roll on greased baking sheet. Shape into any of the coffee cakes listed below.

Cover and let rise in warm place until light (about 25 minutes). Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until nicely browned. (For a pretty-looking glaze, beat one egg slightly. Stir in 2 tablespoons water. Brush coffee cakes with this mixture twice during baking. This amount is enough for all three coffee cakes.) Remove from baking sheet to cooling rack and frost with thin confectioners' sugar icing (1 cup confectioners' sugar mixed with 1 tablespoon milk). Garnish with pasture. Buy calves or yearlings in the fall, winter at a high level, and finish the following summer by grazing on grass. This method suits the person who produces considerable grain, has high quality roughage and pasture, wishes a fast turnover and wants to avoid winter feeding. This method needs more consideration, be feeders since overhead costs are reduced to a minimum.

Buy calves, winter them moderately on grass one season and finish in the feed lot the following winter. This is the most popular system in that it utilizes roughage and pasture to the maximum with young cattle and produces a high quality steer at a popular weight of 950 to 1,100 pounds.

Grass finishing. Cattle must be two years old or older. This suits the person who has excellent grass, a cool climate, abundant rainfall, and lacks the necessary grain to make younger slaughter cattle.

Cattle that have grazed all summer or gleaned fields this fall are accustomed to large quantities of forage and little grain. For finishing in the feed lot, the shift from roughage to concentrates must be gradual. Each lot of cattle presents a different problem. But, as a general rule, feed large quantities of corn silage at first supplemented with a ground mixture of roughages and grain.

By mixing a ration of 60 percent concentrate and 40 percent roughage, and gradually moving up to 70 percent concentrate and 30 percent roughage one can finish cattle with no danger of digestive troubles or going off feed. Also, cattle fed this mixture ration of ground roughage and grain have gone on feed immediately and produced most satisfactory gains.

Corn and cob meal is the basic fattening ration for all cattle. Barley can be used to substitute for corn; it will probably be better if it substitutes only for half of the corn. Oats should not comprise more than one-fourth of the cattle fattening ration. A pound and one-half to two pounds of protein supplement will be required depending on the size of the cattle and the type of roughage that is being fed.

LAKEVIEW SHORES WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Lakeview Shores Woman's

Club met Tuesday night, November 29, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. A. Phillips, 649 Bramfield Avenue.

It was reported that the "doll house" that the club made for the pre-school clinic for the Mentally Retarded is now on display in the window of W. G. Swartz Co. on the Atlantic Street side. It will be presented to the Mentally Retarded School on December 12.

The club voted to collect for the new Princess Anne County Hospital in the next two weeks.

The club also voted to sponsor a girl at "Girl's State" next summer.

Following the business meeting slides were shown on "Christmas Nativity" and refreshments were served.

BAYSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEWS

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the church had as their guests twelve young people from the Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Christian Church, Barrett's Corner, Sunday night, November 20th. They were accompanied by their counselors.

The program for the evening was a film strip entitled "Boy Meets Girl and Boy Married Girl." After which refreshments were served and the group were dismissed with a "Friendship Circle" singing "Bless Be The Tie That Binds."

The Pilgrims Fellowship of the church held a social Friday night, Nov. 26th at the new Social Hall of the church. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Smith, Jr. are adult counselors for the Fellowship.

RAYLAKE PINES SCHOOL HOLDS ART SHOW

The children in Raylake Pines School in grades one through eight staged an "Art Show" at the school recently.

A fourth grade pupil, Peter Cooper, was awarded the ribbon for the "best in the show" for his chalk drawing of Bayville Farms. Many other ribbons were awarded for the excellent work which was done. Mrs. James English is the art instructor for the school.

The parents were invited to attend and while they were viewing the pictures on display, on clothes lines, classical music was played on the hi-fi. Coffee and cake were served the parents by the girls from the seventh and eighth grades.

HELP FOR ALL POULTRYMEN

"I hear you have invented a revolutionary new machine to help poultrymen, Mr. McDougall. What about it?"
"It is wonderful," he replied, "truly wonderful! It will be worth millions to the poultry industry of the South and America."
"But just what is it?"
"It's a revolving nest. When the hen lays an egg, the egg falls into a receptacle underneath. She turns around and seeing no egg proceeds to lay another."

PRINCESS ANNE GUERNSEY WIN AT WATERLOO NATIONAL SHOW

Bayville Farms, Inc., has brought national recognition to Princess Anne by exhibiting both the Grand Champion Cow and the Grand Champion Bull at the National Guernsey Show held at the National Dairy Cattle Congress held at Waterloo, Iowa.

Bayville Royal Lavinia, a daughter of Bayville Royal Leslee, was first prize three-year-old cow. First in udder and Best Uddered Cow in the Show and Senior and Grand Champion cow of the show. She was also a member of the winning Best Three Females, also exhibited by Bayville Farms.

Quail Roost Kater Toller, owned jointly by George Watts Hill, Rougemont, N.C., and Bayville Farms was named Senior and Grand Champion Bull. This is indeed a signal accomplishment for one exhibitor.

Other Bayville winnings included fifth bull calf, sixth and eleventh two-year-old cows, second aged cow, second dairy herd and the Virginia State Herd placed fifth with eleven state herds.

Bayville Royal Lavinia has an illustrious show record since being first exhibited in 1958 when she was first prize Junior Yearling at Atlantic Rural, N.C. State Fair and Dixie Classic and Junior Champion at Atlantic Rural. In 1959 she was first two-year-old and Grand Champion at Atlantic Rural and N.C. First two-year-old and Reserve champion at Dixie Classic and South Carolina as well as Best Udder winner at all four shows. She was Honorable Mention All-American two-year-old in 1960.

She is proving herself to be an outstanding producer as well as show winner. In her first lactation as a Sr. two-year-old she produced 10,000 and 521 Fat in 305 days including over a month on the show circuit. She calved again in less than a year and is doing well again this lactation.

This is the first time in 24 years that one exhibitor had both champion and first time in 10 years that the exhibitor bred the Grand Champion Female.

We take pride in saluting this outstanding accomplishment and the entire Bayville Farms Organization.

OPPORTUNITY RAPE FOR AGRICULTURISTS
That loud noise you hear is opportunity knocking—opportunity for bright young men in agriculture.

Too many folks think of a Snuffy Smith type character when they think of agriculture. But the truth of the matter is that 40 percent of the population is employed in industries related to agriculture—that's 25 million people.

Production on the farm is only one facet of a business that has grown through the years to include those who service the needs of farmers, those who do research to solve his problems, and those who manufacture goods from farm products.

I don't think the high school advisor who tells a student "go into engineering, you're too smart for agriculture," is doing that student justice. For brains are needed as much in agriculture as anywhere else, and there is room at the top as in any other business.

NEW PLANT PHYSIOLOGIST AT VA. TRUCK EXPERIMENT STATION

Home M. LeBaron has recently come to the Virginia Truck Experiment Station to assume the position of plant physiologist which was previously held by Dr. L. L. Danielson and Mr. C. B. Price.

Mr. LeBaron was born in Barnhill, Alberta, Canada, on May 15, 1926, being the third in a family of seven boys and two girls. He grew up and worked on his father's truck farm and developed an interest and experience in the production of vegetables, sugar beets, small grains and other field crops.

He received his early education at Barnhill from 1932 to 1944 inclusive. In September, 1945, he entered the Utah State University (Then called the Utah State Agriculture College) at Logan. After one year in a general agronomy program, he returned to Canada to help manage his father's farm.

In June, 1948, he accepted a call from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints (Mormon) to serve as a missionary in France, Belgium and Switzerland. In January, 1951 he again returned to farming and also worked as a job assistant for the Canadian Sugar Factories, Ltd. at Taber, Alberta.

In January, 1952, he continued his formal education in agronomy at the Utah State University. He completed his B.S. degree in field crops in December, 1955. As an undergraduate, he was employed by the Agronomy Department and by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to assist in a variety of research projects. It was during this time while working under F. L. Timmons of Weed Investigations, A.R.S., U.S.D.A., that Mr. LeBaron decided to specialize in weed control research. He continued research and study under the Agronomy Department of Utah State University and completed work for his M.S. degree in June, 1957. Since this time he has been at Cornell University where he was granted a research assistantship in weed control under Dr. S. N. Perig of the Agronomy Department and has just completed his work toward the Ph.D. degree.

His program at the Virginia Truck Experiment Station will be research in weed control and other physiological problems concerned with vegetable production.

THE SOIL TEST, ITS USES AND LIMITATIONS

Soil sampling time will soon be with us again, so let's think a little about the need for soil tests on our farms and what the test will and will not show us.

There is no question that all fields on farms should be tested periodically. Having the test made is somewhat like using the oil stick in the engine of your car to check the oil level; the soil test gives you some idea of what the soil fertility level is. There is an optimum range for the oil level in your car, and similarly, an optimum range for the fertility level in your soil. There is also no need to check the oil in most cars every day and for this area there is no need to have the soil tested every year. We believe that once every 3 or 4 years is sufficient for most crops. This will keep the farmer informed of the general fertility level and lime needs of the soil.

The lime status of the soil is indicated in the lime requirement test. The fertility status of the soil is established by the phosphorous, potassium, nitrate, and salt concentration tests.

In addition to testing soils to check general fertility level, tests are run on problem soil samples as an aid to determining the reason for poor growth of a crop and, at times, for special reasons, such as checking the salt concentration of the recently flooded lands on the bayside of the Eastern Shore to determine the salt buildup in the soil. By use of the salt concentration test we were able to advise farmers whether or not to plant winter rye cover. It will be advisable for these farmers to retest these flooded soils for salinity before crops are planted in the spring of 1961.

The soil test is not the final answer to how much fertilizer and lime should be added to the soil. It should be considered more as an aid in determining how much to apply.

A very important consideration in soil testing is that the sample be representative of the field area from which it was taken. If the sample is not representative it can be misleading and it might have been better in such cases if it had not been taken. If the farmer plans to do his own sampling he should check with the county agent or a soils specialist to get help in how to properly sample the soil.

A sample should not be taken to check the fertility and lime status of the soil during the growing season. The present of added fertilizer may result in an erroneous interpretation of the soil test, and it is thus advisable for checking general fertility to take the sample in late winter or early spring when the soil has the least amount of soluble fertilizer.

The soil test is a valuable tool to prevent over or under applications of lime and fertilizer and as an aid in determining how much and what kind of fertilizer should be applied. The soil sample must be representative and the interpretation of the test and application of the test results to the needs of the crop to be grown should be made by an individual qualified for the job.

FINISHING BEEF CATTLE IN FARM FEED LOTS

Curtis Mast, VPI, livestock specialist, has outlined four advantages of finishing beef cattle on Southern farms.

Steers offer an excellent market for forage and grain. By feeding, the stockman sells only 30 percent of the fertility in his feed and leaves 70 percent on his farm in the manure.

Steers fit any size farm. In fact, steers are ideally suited to small farms of the Southeast.

Steers are easily adjusted to the available feed supply. In years of short feed supplies one can stock according to the amount of feed he has on hand.

Steers are not subject to the many diseases and other troubles that are common with breeding herds.

Southern stockmen have gone heavily into the feeder calf business in recent years. The cow and calf herd, using top-quality beef bulls, has been highly profitable. The calves are usually dropped in late winter and sold in early fall. They are produced largely on mother's milk and grass. Some creep feeding of grain is practiced to give calves extra finish or offset short pastures.

Some of the best beef calves have been sold through the feeder calf sales for finishing in feed lots outside the South. More of these calves might well be finished here at home. Our people need the meat, our soils need the manure, and our farmers need the money. Feeding

Howard S. Myers, Virginia Beach Postmaster, Dies

Howard Samuel Myers, 68, of 316 25th St., Virginia Beach, husband of Mrs. Louise Saunders Myers, died at his home Sunday at 8:30 p.m. after a short illness.

He was postmaster for Virginia Beach, a position he held for the last 15 years.

He was a native of McVay, Pa., and the son of E. L. and Mrs. Maude Turpin Myers and was a resident of Virginia Beach for 28 years.

He was a member of Virginia Beach Methodist Church, the Methodist Men's Club, Virginia Beach Lions Club, Princess Anne Ruritan Club, American Legion Post 113, of which he was a past commander and the Princess Anne Chapter of 4078, of which he was a past commander.

He was an aviator in the Navy during World War I.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. James Henahan of Salina, Kan.; two sons, Col. H. S. Myers Jr., USA, of Atwater, Calif., and William L. Myers of Virginia Beach; two brothers, Vernon Myers of Norfolk, and E. L. Myers of Washington; a sister, Mrs. A. L. Hubbard of Gloucester, N.C.; his stepmother, Mrs. E. L. Myers of Norfolk; a stepbrother, Edward L. Myers of Albuquerque, N.M., and 8 grandchildren.

Time Running Short To Aid Those Looking To Joy Fund

The Virginia Beach Princess Anne Joy Fund, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce, is moving in its third week of the annual campaign.

Drive chairman Jim Crumlish and Gene Joyner, club president, said response to the campaign, now in its third week, has been good, but toys and clothing for needy families in the area are still needed.

Clothing and toy pick-up drives have been held and the articles turned over to members of the Virginia Beach Volunteer Fire Co. who are repairing the toys and readying them for distribution.

A headquarters has been set up in the A&P Building on Atlantic Avenue, known as the Joy Fund Toy Bank.

Money contributions, to help buy food for these families, are tax-deductible and will be made in the case of the Virginia Beach Princess Anne Joy Fund, Box 274, Virginia Beach.

Applications for assistance have been turned over to a committee for consideration. Deadline for turning in applications was last Friday.

Toys and clothing will be given out at campaign headquarters on Dec. 21 and 22. Last minute food distribution will be made Dec. 23.

Each year since the drive began 11 years ago, 300 families have been aided. Crumlish and Joyner said, "Help this year's drive go over the top. Do your part to help needy families in this area at Christmas time."

"Search your hearts and your homes. Find used toys and clothing for people here in Virginia Beach and surrounding Princess Anne County. Then, donate money contributions for Christmas baskets for these families."

"Make someone else's Christmas just a merry and joyous as yours will be."

Club Decorated Home To Be On Exhibition

On December 17th and 18th from 3:00 o'clock to 5 and 7:30 till 9:30 p.m., one of the most unique garden clubs in this area, having both men and women as active members will exhibit the decorated grounds and interior of the home of the Eastern Shore Garden Club.

It was in 1953 that a group of ladies (bless them) having ran out of time in the day to hold another meeting decided to form a garden club meeting for dinner and invited the men to join. The men having formed the very necessary and enjoyable habit of eating thought it best they go along. Finding much to their surprise that they received many benefits not only did the male speakers give them points on the gardening angle but it was amazing what the lady speakers could do with a few dried weeds, a little clay, wire and of all things an empty scotch bottle. Soon they were attempting arrangements along with the girls and now at least one meeting a year is given over to arrangements by men only.

Mr. Philip W. Hansen, local architect is chairman for Yuletide House with Mrs. William A. Green current president assisting. The men will have complete charge of the grounds and they promise unusual things with a musical program including a radio set up of the lake and a Della Robia wreath for the door using real fruit and nuts. This is to be made by R. W. Ashworth. Other members working on the grounds are C. B. Spence, R. W. Couch, Ed Garrett, H. H. Bender, William Green and Charles J. Hayes, member and owner of Cavalier Nursery who is furnishing the greenery. The ladies on the interior will carry out the musical theme in the music room with Mrs. George Russell painting an authentic back drop for the indoor nativity scene.

Mrs. H. H. Bender, Mrs. James Darden and Mrs. J. D. Murden will decorate the living room and hallway. Mrs. R. W. Couch, Mrs. J. E. Garrett and Mrs. Gibbert, the dining room and kitchen. Between Mrs. William A. Green. The enclosed porch will be decorated by Mrs. Philip W. Hansen in a motif that will be of interest to the children.

Funds derived from this project will be used for civic and welfare work of the club, principally the Princess Anne Memorial Hospital. Tickets may be purchased from the garden club members or at the entrance for fifty cents. Refreshments will be served.

New Bank of Princess Anne Planned For County Location

Application for the authority to commence business to the Bureau of Banking of the State Corporation Commission has been made by the Bank of Princess Anne, according to a spokesman for the banking institution.

A charter for the Bank of Princess Anne was obtained several months ago, it was pointed out. The new bank is to be located in the Aragona Village Shopping Center in Aragona Village on Virginia Beach boulevard.

The Bank of Princess Anne, when opened, will be the first banking facility to be located in the County of Princess Anne.

Directors of the Bank of Princess Anne, as announced by the organizing group, are John Aragona, Albert Lee Bonney, S. Paul Brown, John V. Pentress, Fred Haycox, W. Albert Hess, Richard S. Holland, Sidney S. Kellam, Frank D. Tarrall, Jr., and Edwin C. Kellam.

Board of Supervisors Swift Action Aid To Home Owner

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors took swift action Monday and its ultimatum to a home developer in the county resulted in one taxpayer getting some action on a near-impassable road leading to his new home.

When John H. Lewis, advertising man, brought the matter before the Board on Monday the Supervisors immediately ordered all building permits held up for Way-side Homes until the developer completes an access road to Lewis' home.

Tuesday, at the developers expense, in the biting wind and frigid cold an Asphalt Roads and Material Co. crew hired by Way-side Homes bridged the road gap for Lewis' with more permanent work to begin immediately.

The problem started when plans were made to put in a hard-surface road, Honeyvine Lane, which comes in front of the Lewis' home. The new road was started in July. Since that time Lewis has had nothing but trouble, he told the Board.

Lewis and his family live in what used to be an ammunition storage building which served Camp Ashby, a World War Two prisoner of war camp on Virginia Beach boulevard.

It seemed that after the Board of Supervisor's firm action on Monday Lewis' problem has been solved temporarily and with the new, hard surfaced road to follow will be permanently solved.

Beach Hospital Drive Opens In New Offices

Campaign headquarters for the forthcoming appeal in behalf of the proposed general hospital at Virginia Beach have been opened at 2286 Atlantic Ave. It has been announced by George D. Brooke, board president.

According to Brooke plans are being perfected by T. David Fitz-Gibbon, architect, for a general hospital of approximately 100 acceptable beds. Arrangements have been made to purchase the present Virginia Beach Hospital and adjoining land upon which a new addition is to be erected. With the ultimate remodeling of the existing building, the resultant new hospital will offer the people of this section a fully accredited, open staff general hospital with surgical, obstetrical, pediatric and general services along with appropriate auxiliary facilities, according to Walter L. Beale, Consultant.

The campaign scheduled for late winter will seek about $100,000 toward the project. Additional participation in excess of $700,000 is anticipated in federal-state funds.

Bayside Jaycees Help Illiterates

The Bayside Jaycees are coordinating a program with the Norfolk Jaycees WTAR-TV and the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot for a special training program which will utilize TV and will be for the benefit of the 800,000 adults in Virginia and North Carolina who are "functional illiterates."

According to Mr. Charles A. Martak who is co-chairman of this project with Charles R. Johnson, this is a long-range project. They have received the approval of Mr. Frank Cox, superintendent of Princess Anne County schools about the need of such a program.

Mr. Martak addressed the PTA of the Princess Anne Training School at their meeting, December 7th and explained the program to them. He will also address the PTA, Bayside Elementary School, Shelton Park Elementary School and a Thoroughgood Elementary School. Many volunteer proctors and volunteer teachers are needed to get this program underway.

Also students are needed who are "functional illiterates." According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 1960 report, one out of each 45 persons in the United States is a "functional illiterate." Those adults twenty-five years of age or over who did not complete the 5th grade. There is an estimated 800,000 persons (adults) in Virginia and North Carolina alone. The Bayside Jaycees are interested in doing what they can to help those in the Bayside District.

LUTHERAN CHURCH PAGEANT SUNDAY

The Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, 18th and Atlantic Ave., will have its annual Christmas story and pageant Sunday night at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Pat Hartman will direct the pageant which will depict the Christmas story. Mr. Montford Hildebrand, the superintendent of the Sunday School will give the welcoming address.

Santa Claus will arrive to give his usual goodies and gifts to all the children present.

Sidney Banks Tenders Resignation As Chairman Of Ad Board

Resigns

J. Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier Hotel, who resigned this week as chairman of the Virginia Beach Advertising Board. He had served as chairman of the board for several years. (See editorial—Page 4-A)

At the December meeting of the Virginia Beach Advertising Board Sidney Banks tendered his resignation as chairman after serving as head of this committee over ten years. John McCombs presiding in Sidney Banks' absence read the letter of resignation in which Banks stated "I am submitting my resignation due to the necessity of my being away from the beach so often. I think this is one of the most important boards at Virginia Beach and that every member, particularly the chairman, should be in a position to devote every possible effort to it and regularly attend its meetings. Since my frequent and prolonged trips prevent this, I think it is unfair to the city of Virginia Beach and Chamber of Commerce to retain my chairmanship."

The board accepted the resignation with sincere regrets and last-dutary expression for Sidney Banks' outstanding contribution in behalf of the board and this resort.

The secretary was requested to write Sidney Banks to this effect.

The second order of the day was the reappointment of Laura Lambie as secretary of the board for the forthcoming year. After which Mrs. Lambie made a report on the entire advertising and publicity program for the past year.

Two sheets of magazine and newspaper publicity were shown the board accompanying a rundown of special stories with photos, special AP and UP international coverage achieved, general releases and photos to newspapers, special promotions for special events and the publicity derived from the visits of invited travel editors. Mrs. Lambie stated 19 articles had been written for the Beach and were shown its many attractions and progress. Spectacular in the coverage of the publicity was a story on the jeep trip by syndicated columnist Horace Sutton. This story ran in 45 metropolitan papers at an estimated figure of approximately $18,000 in free lineage. The jeep trip was arranged by Mrs. Lambie and Horace Sutton and a number of other editors during the NATO conference.

Also impressive was a beach photo with Virginia Beach outline which went all over the world on UP and the AP photo coverage of the beach after its reclamation. Bath photos were submitted to these services as part of the publicity program.

Mrs. Lambie made a report on the budget and the inquiry return of $21,479 inquiries were received at the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce with an all-time high of 1276 for the month of May. Approximately 80% of the inquiries were keyed results of the advertisements in newspapers and magazines. Mrs. Lambie went on to say that $1600 was used in Roanoke, Richmond and Durham on TV to help offset the adverse publicity on the beach itself.

Brought before the board for vote was a research project for the determination of the resort's proven markets. John McCombs explained that resort consultants, Horwath and Horwath, would make a survey to establish the areas from which the resort's vacationers are derived so that the Advertising Board could be completely realistic in expending newspaper money. The board voted to expend the nominal fee for such a survey.

Everett School Program Set For Saturday

The annual program of Christmas songs and carols, presented by the Everett School, will be held on Saturday, December 17, at 3:30 p.m. in the Linkhorn Park Elementary School auditorium.

The occasion will mark the 30th year that the Everett School has presented such a program for the friends, relatives and parents of its children. Christmas songs of the ages will compose the program.

Commentator will be Bristow Hardin, of the Bristow Hardin School of Music. The children will be accompanied by Mrs. Louis Cornick, a member of the Hardin School's staff and director of music for the Everett School; director will be Mrs. Joseph Dunn, Jr.

The chorus will be composed of the 9137 voices of the Everett School children, although the kindergartens will not join in the singing until the second group of carols, which begins with the French songs.

The program is: English carol: Here We Come a-Wassailing; The Holly and the Ivy; The Boy's Head Carol; Christmas is Coming; God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen; The Twelve Days of Christmas.

Spanish carol: A La Nanita Nana; Italian carol, The Bagpiper's Carol; Negro spirituals, Mary Had a Baby, Rise Up Shepherd; French carols, Un Flambeau Jeannette, Isabelle, and Il Est Ne, le Devin Enfant.

Lullabies, Away In A Manger, The Conventry Carol, and What Child is This?

Finale, We Wish You a Merry Christmas and Jingle Bells.

Plan Club's Green Sale

Mrs. Ray Fretz and Mrs. Sam Hakim are discussing the annual green sale sponsored by the Bay Colony Garden Club. The sale will be held Friday, December 16, at the Colonial Store on 31st street and at the A & P store on Laskin Road. The hours will be from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. (Staff Photo)

14 Elected To Chamber Board

Fourteen new members have been elected to the board of directors of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce as the result of an election conducted among the organization's general membership last week.

Those elected for three-year terms were T. J. Adams, J. Ray Apple, R. J. Cherry, R. D. Clayton, A. B. Cress, J. E. Ebbert, R. J. Hall, L. C. Handbrough, George T. Mullen, "Duddy" Riggs, C. J. Smith, Frank D. Tarrall, Jr., Dawson Taylor and M. E. Woods.

The 14 new members brings the full membership of the board of directors up to the recently approved enlarged membership figure of 30. The newly elected members join 16 other members whose terms run for either one or two more years.

John W. McCombs is president of the Chamber of Commerce. The new directors officially will start starting January 1, 1961.

BAY COLONY CLUB GREEN SALE SATURDAY

The Bay Colony Garden Club held its Christmas meeting on December 7th at the Princess Anne Country Club. Hostesses for the luncheon meeting were Mrs. Robert Peabody, Mrs. R. C. McGrath, Mrs. M. E. Bowman and Mrs. John Marshall.

The main business of the day concerned plans for the Green Sale on Dec. 18th. This is the club's annual sale and its largest project of the year. Also discussed was the Bay Colony tree lighting which is sponsored by the club each year. This will be on Dec. 18.

Mrs. Rolf Williams of Norfolk was the speaker for the occasion and her subject was "Make Your Own Merry Christmas." The game suggestions to the club members for making Christmas decorations and gifts, many of which could be done by the children in the family. After this she showed a collection of foreign tree ornaments.

Ribbons awarded for arrangements were as follows: Blue—Mrs. Edward Blake; Red—Mrs. Lee Doggett; Mrs. Helen C. Muller; Mrs. P. R. Woodhouse Jr.; Yellow—Mrs. Charles Dobbis.

Napolitano New President of Tidewater Home Builders

Frederick Napolitano, 44, of Princess Anne, was elected president of the Tidewater Association of Home Builders.

Napolitano, active in NAHB affairs since he moved to this area in 1955, was elected president of the organization at a recent membership meeting. Elected vice-president were F. Wayne McLeskey and Julian Rashkind. Paul P. Merritt, Jr., was elected treasurer and David F. Duggan, secretary.

The new board of directors will consist of Lee A. Gifford, Steve J. Saluga, W. W. Reason, Anthony Genovese, Lawrence A. Sancillo and Joel T. Offner.

Napolitano is one of the youngest presidents of the NAHB. He started in the building business in 1947, came to Princess Anne County in 1955 on a temporary basis, liked what he saw, stayed and moved his family here.

Almost immediately upon his arrival, Napolitano became active in TAHB affairs. He has served as a director, secretary and was a vice-president for two years. In addition tion he has been a chairman or an active member of all TAHB committees including that which staged the successful home shows of 1957 and 1958.

Napolitano was one of a group of seven builders in 1958 responsible for the increase of the G.I. Bill interest rate which stimulated an additional flow of money into the local mortgage market.

A principal in the Terry Corp., one of the area's largest building organizations, Fred is currently building homes in "Malibu", approximately half-way between Virginia Beach and Norfolk on Virginia Beach Boulevard. The Terry Corporation has built more than 1,000 homes in the Princess Anne County area in the past five years.

Fred's wife, Jacqueline, is also an active member of the TAHB. She's the outgoing president of the TAHB Women's Auxiliary.

GALILEE FELLOWSHIP HOLDING REUNION

There will be a reunion of all old and new members of Galilee Fellowship on Sunday, December 18, at 8:30 p.m.

They will leave the church after supper to go carolling and return for hot chocolate. This will be held at Galilee Episcopal Church on 40th St. and Atlantic Avenue.

Happy Hours To Have Party For Parents, Friends

On Friday, Dec. 16, at 10 a.m., the children of Happy Hours School at Oceana will entertain their parents and friends with a Christmas party and play. Each group has appropriately decorated their room and will take an active part in the program.

Coffee and sweets will be served by the Senior kindergarten groups. The Junior kindergarten class will conduct the parents through the rooms so that their handiwork and achievements can be seen.

At ten thirty the parents will assemble to watch the Christmas program, which will begin with the little nursery group wishing everyone a Merry Christmas. This will be followed by the Junior and Senior groups taking part in a playlet, woven around traditional Christmas music.

Bayside Fund Now At $210

It is the hope and prayer of us in the Bayside area that when Christmas morning dawns no one in Bayside will be hungry and cold and no child will be disappointed because there is nothing. There are less fortunate ones in our midst and unless we help them they will certainly be in need.

Aid in Fight Against Cancer

The girl scouts shown above are all members of Troop 231, Kempsville, Princess Anne County. They are shown as they delivered 400 pounds of sheeting to the headquarters office of the Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society. The sheeting is used in making dressings for cancer patients. Girl scouts in the picture include Sharon Jones, Paulette Jeter, Ann Yancy, Agnes McCoy, Jacqueline Weeks, Linda Baker, Susan Daves, Linda Day, Mary Jane Meiners, Diane Moore, Carolina McClenny, Margaret Ann Phillips, Jenny Vann, Pat Vann, Marsha Pierce and Frances Pollock. Also shown are Mrs. R. S. Wahab, Jr., dressing chairman, and William H. Phillips, president of the unit.

Miss Anne Ball Wed To J. C. Addington Jr.

The marriage of Miss Susan Anrie Ball and Joseph Clark Addington Jr. took place Saturday at 4 p.m. at the Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Harrigan.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tolan Ball Jr. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Clark Addington of Cedar Cove Farm, Great Neck Point.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de sole, fashioned with an oval neckline sculptured in pearl touched Alencon lace and pointed bodice. The colonial bouffant skirt, gartered in lace and caught on the side with self roses, formed a full round train. Her full length veil of silk illusion was topped with a Brussels finger-tip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. James W. Gainfort was matron of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas W. Moss, Miss Joanne Saunders and Miss Katharine Segar.

Little Misses Elizabeth Twoby, niece of the bridegroom, and Elizabeth Ball Gainfort, niece of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

Dr. William Addington of Metairie La., was best man for his brother. The groomsmen were William Passano of Gibson Island, Md. and John Twoby IV, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom; Kenneth Ritter, William Wood, Dr. Hugh Crawford and Edward Wolcott.

A reception was given at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club. Later, the couple left for a wedding trip to St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. They will live at 1424 Meads Road.

Mr. Hubbard, Mrs. Baylor Say Vows

Mrs. Wallace Warner Walker announces the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline W. Baylor, to William Hubbard Jr., Oct. 22 at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The Rev. John D. Klester, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of the late Wallace Warner Walker. Mr. Hubbard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Williams Samuel Hubbard of Norfolk.

A reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Cotton. The couple is living in Norfolk.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Mr. Banks And The Advertising Board

All busy, active businessmen find at some time or other that they have too much to do and have taken on just too many extra activities in the community. This is what has happened in the case of Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier Hotel, who resigned this week as chairman of the Virginia Beach Advertising Board.

This almost inevitable happening had long been expected by those who knew of Mr. Banks and his many varied interests and activities. These people were hoping that the day would not arrive when Mr. Banks would give up the chairmanship of the Advertising Board.

Mr. Banks has served as chairman of the city's ad board for many years and he has given it vigorous and thoughtful leadership. His resignation was understandable to fellow board members but at the same time regrettable. He had steered the advertising program when it needed steady- ing and he had devoted much time and thought to see that our advertising dollars were spent where they would do this community the most good.

Mr. Banks, through the years, has been known far and wide in the travel and hotel industry. He is known to many throughout the country as "Mr. Cavalier" and "Mr. Virginia Beach".

The community owes Mr. Banks an expression of appreciation and gratitude for the work he has done through the years for his beloved community. He has always been more than generous with his time and energy for the betterment of the community and has always offered his facilities at all times in support of community projects, promotion and progress.

Virginia Beach is fortunate in having a man like Mr. Banks as a resident and leader. He is recognized throughout the land as a top flight hotel executive and an avid sports fan, particularly noted for his promotion of golf and national tournaments played in Virginia Beach.

The Advertising Board and the community regrets his stepping down from the chairmanship of the ad board, but it is nice to know that he will be available for advice and guidance.

Bloodmobile Here Friday

As we approach the season of giving which is the Christmas Season residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will have an opportunity to give something more precious than an ordinary Christmas gift. They have the opportunity this week of giving a pint of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

On Friday, December 16, the Bloodmobile will make a regularly scheduled visit to Virginia Beach and will be located at the Convention Center. The hours are the same as always, from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

The Bloodmobile visit Friday is being sponsored by the Virginia Beach Rotary Club and members of this organization are giving their time, energy, and in many cases, their blood, too, to this worthy project.

As a prelude to Christmas, itself, it would be nice, we think, to visit the Convention Center Friday and donate a pint of blood. It takes just a few minutes and could mean so much to someone who knows when that someone may be you.

Make a date to donate Friday to the Bloodmobile Friday at the Convention Center.

Howard Samuel Myers

The passing of Howard Samuel Myers, Virginia Beach Postmaster of the past 15 years, last Sunday after a short illness was a shock to the community and his many friends. He had been in ill health but had been improving of late and his sudden death has saddened this community.

Mr. Myers had resided in Virginia Beach for the past 28 years and during that time had devoted much of his energies for the betterment of his community and this area. He was active in many civic undertakings and in years past had been very active in the annual Community Fund campaigns.

Mr. Myers was a devoted and loyal member of the American Legion and once served as commander of the Princess Anne Post 113 of the Legion. He was also a past commander of the 40 & 8.

It can be said that Mr. Myers was a man who was always ready and willing to do anything for his community, his church and the many civic organizations and service clubs of which he was a member. He was one of those rare citizens that help to make a community grow and prosper.

We are deeply saddened by the passing of Howard Samuel Myers and our sympathies are turned to the members of this man's family, who can feel a measure of comfort in the fact that their personal loss is shared by many in this community.

FORT STORY Tellings

Mr. Herbert Harrell Addresses Fort Story Officers' Wives

A very appreciative audience applauded Mr. Herbert Harrell, well-known Virginia Beach artist, at his recent appearance before the Officers' Wives Club of Fort Story.

Mr. Harrell effectively demonstrated his artistry, designed motifs for buffet and dinner tables, flowers, music rooms and front doors, as he spoke.

The officers' ladies present for the luncheon social meeting expressed their appreciation for Mr. Harrell's unique ideas and indicated their intentions to use them in decorating their homes for the coming holiday season.

Honorary for the occasion were: Mrs. Arthur J. Richards, Mrs. Walter P. Hughes and Mrs. James B. Butler.

Mrs. John N. Albright presided.

Mr. ARC Director at Ft. Story, Mrs. Eunice S. Catton, ARC, who recently returned from eight years of overseas service, has been assigned to Ft. Story as Director for the American Red Cross.

Miss Catton replaces Mr. Roy Little, who has returned to his enterprise in Washington.

A native of Cass City, Michigan, a graduate of Central College of Maumelle, Michigan, Miss Catton was a member of the American Red Cross professional staff.

She has served in Germany and Japan, and participated in the famous "Airline" of refugees during the revoits in Hungary in 1957.

The new ARC Director for the post is interested in organizing dependents and other members of the post in some of the American Red Cross' many volunteer programs, such as Grey Ladies, Library service work, and swimming and water safety classes. She will also direct the continued aid and support services of the American Red Cross to post military personnel.

TWO BOYS WIN BICYCLES AT TURKEY SHOOT ON FT. STORY
The Fort Story Rod and Gun Club held its second Turkey Shoot of the current season last Sunday and made two youngsters of the post happy as they were awarded bicycles.

The two "shoots" held for the youngsters from 14 years old and down, were well attended with 23 kids firing in the first shoot and 20 firing in the second shoot. Winner of the first kid shoot was Kim Smith, 10, son of Mrs. Imogene Smith of the Education Center. Kim received a 26" Columbia Bicycle, which he needed badly for his new paper route which he started to work the next morning.

Tommy Garrard, 9, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Edward Garrard was the winner of the second kid shoot and also received a Columbia Bicycle. Ten other shoots were held for the civilian and military sportsmen who came out for the day. Each shoot accommodated 20 shooters and turkey or ham were awarded as prizes. One of the shoot winners was Col. William P. Pope, Post Commander, who gave needed a prize.

The Fort Story Rod and Gun Club will hold another Turkey Shoot at the same location—on the beach side of Atlantic ave., across from the Post Engineers, on Sunday, December 18, starting at 11:30. As in the past two shoots, both military and civilian sportsmen and shooters are invited to participate.

Fees will remain the same—75c per shot—with the Rod and Gun Club providing the ammunition without extra charge. Extra guns will also be available for those who do not have a personal weapon with them.

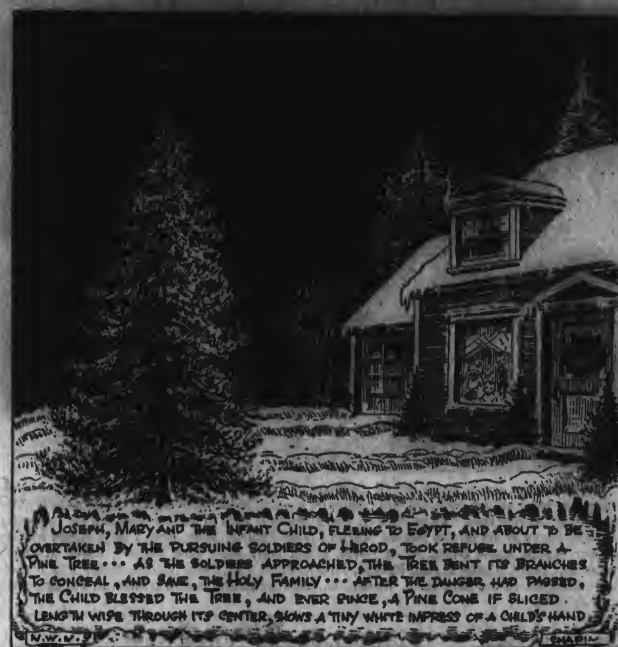

One bicycle will again be awarded as the prize for the "kids shoot" of this event.

KING'S GRANT SCHOOL TO PRESENT CHORUSES

The Operetta, "The Prince of Peace," will be presented by the 6th and 7th grade choruses of King's Grant School on Tuesday evening, December 20th, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. The cast will include Kathy Scott, Kathy Clare, Lunell Alexander, and Lynell Bass as Angels; John Austin, Norman Smith, and Dick Ewell as Shepherds; Mike Rice, Carlton Williams and Rod Brown as Wise Men; Linda Forehand as Mary; Earl Spruill as Joseph; and Joey Warr as Narrator.

This program will be given at an open meeting of the PTA and all parents and children are invited to attend. There will be a very short business meeting first.

The ceremony will be held in the Masonic Temple, 20th St. and Arctic Ave. The installation will be followed by a reception and dance in the banquet hall of the Temple. Other elected officers to be installed include Paula Scarborough, senior princess; Jerry Whitehead, junior princess; Louise Rainey, guide; Elaine Zegan, marshal.

Among the administrative officers selected by the honor queen are Dianne Skinner, chaplain; Elaine Johnson, recorder; Jennifer Camper, treasurer; Carolyn Litchfield, musician; Carolyn Swindell, librarian; Pat Sheen, first messenger; Barbara Reid, second messenger; Lynn Walcott, third messenger; Carolyn Singer, fourth messenger; Sandra Dollins, fifth messenger; Frances McCoy, Jr., custodian; Joyce Fitzgerald, Jr., custodian; Jane Skinner, inner guard; Susan Kadas, outer guard; Judy Strickland, choir captain; Teresa Brown, historian; Carolyn Clayton, corresponding secretary; Ginger Ethridge, Claudette Neal, Mona Brown, and Susan Sharp, pages.

The assistant officers are Janice Vick, Carolyn Sharp, Nancy Sharp, Patricia Noden, Joanne Hurry, Ruth Yeston, Marcia Halstead, and Joan Gibbs. The installation will be conducted by the retiring Bethel Queen, Charlotte Taylor. She will be assisted by Past Honor Queens Mary Lyon McKenney, Jean Ellis, Patricia Johnson, Faye Coppedge, Myra McKenney, and Kay Cox. Mrs. Agnes Aldridge will be installing musician.

CHRISTMAS JUDGING SET FOR DEC. 22-24

The Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Council of Garden Clubs will have the judging for their Christmas Door Decorating Contest between Dec. 22nd and Dec. 24th. The awards will be presented by Mrs. J. W. Field, Council President, Dec. 24th. A silver prize will be given for first place in the following categories: Best Traditional, Most Beautiful, Most Original. Anyone who would like to enter the judging and is not in a Council member Club area may do so by calling Mrs. John Matthews, GA-8-5160 before Dec. 23rd. Garden Club Presidents will report the top 8 winners in their clubs by Dec. 23.

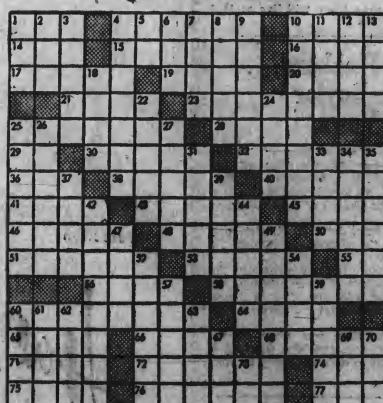

MEN'S CLUB ELECTS DYER PRESIDENT

The Methodist Men's Club of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church recently elected Richard F. Dyer its president for 1961, according to an announcement made this week.

Dyer will be assisted by the following: R. R. McChesney, first vice-president; Burke Tankersley, second vice-president; William McClure, secretary; J. W. Parker, treasurer; and T. S. Midgett, reporter.

folk and Jack Babson of Camden. Members of the board of directors are Harold Trechler, Mallory Ferrell, J. G. Watson, C. C. Washington and R. R. Jackson.

UNDER

By DAN HALLIGAN

(Ed. Note: Dan Halligan will be glad to answer questions submitted by teen-agers and children. Send them to him at Box 120, Williston, N. D. For personal replies, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Dear Dan: Our junior high school recently passed a code which, among other things, says there can be no no-homosexuals sponsored dances for seventh and eighth graders. Most of us don't think this is very fair and would like your opinion.—Dancer.

Dear Dancer: The code is probably worthy enough but perhaps it's gone too far. Seventh and eighth graders should be allowed to dance in their own age groups but I think once-a-month school or church-sponsored dances are sufficient.

Children in the two age brackets shouldn't expect to have weekly dances like their older brothers and sisters may have.

Dear Dan: We've got a group of girls here who are forever peering us to take them to bowling and dancing or just riding around. Then we go for a snack, they order a meal and you'd think they hadn't eaten for a week. They're nothing but clothes racks, changing into something new everyday. Whose place is it to teach them the score, their parents or us?—Disgusted Don.

Dear Don: You sound like a boy who's ready to swear off girls for life or else you just had a bad day. You know, no one's forcing you boys to date the girls and if you don't want to, don't.

Most girls realize the financial limitations of a teen-age boy's wallet. From what you wrote, these girls think you're independently wealthy and unless you tell them your exact financial status, they may continue with the wrong impression.

You don't have a legitimate complaint about their clothes. Who looks neater? Girls who wear something bright and fresh each day or the girl who likes to run around in the same pair of slacks or jeans?

Dear Dan: I'm the mother of two teen-agers, a girl of nearly 17 and a boy of 15, and have a problem concerning them. My children are probably no different than any other with the possible exception they think the world owes them a good time several nights a week. My husband doesn't think much of it and says I worry too much but I have a feeling that both my teen-agers are active in school organizations and if they're not attending one meeting or another, they're on a date.

N&W Appealing To Railroaders In Art Event

Norfolk and Western Magazine's eleventh annual art competition will include for a first time a class for railroaders interested in photography. A total of 27 cash prizes will be awarded at a Roanoke Hotel Servico Club meeting on Jan. 5 after a two-day exhibition in Hotel Roanoke's Peacock Alley.

The competition is open to all N&W railroaders, active or retired, and members of their immediate families. There will be four classes in each of three divisions: art, color photographs and black and white photographs. Art will be divided into works done in oils, water color, miscellaneous and by youngsters under 15. Photographs will be separated into prints dealing with railroad subjects, people and animals, scenes and landscapes, and sports and recreation.

Grand prizes of $50 U.S. Savings Bonds will be awarded to the best entries in art, color and black-and-white photography. First and second prizes of $15 and $10 will be awarded in each of the twelve classes.

Entries must be received by the Norfolk and Western Magazine, Roanoke, Va. by December 23.

STEEL PRODUCTS TOP RECORD IN 1950'S

The nation's steel mills shipped over 710 million net tons of finished steel products to domestic markets during the 1950's, according to American Iron and Steel Institute. It was the highest 10-year total in history.

The largest share of the 1950-1959 total went to warehouses and distributors, 130 million tons, followed by the automotive industry, 130 million, and construction and contractors' products, 128 million. Other major markets: steel shipments included: containers, 63 million; machinery (including electrical) and industrial equipment and tools, 61 million; steel for converting and processing, forgings, bolts, nuts, rivets and screws, 58 million; appliances, utensils, cutlery, other domestic and commercial equipment, 37 million; rail transportation, 37 million; agricultural, 19 million, and all other domestic markets, 38 million net tons.

The four of us used to be very close and spend most of our evenings together but lately all I feel like is a cook and maid. I don't want to be too strict with my two because I know their friends are allowed to do exactly as they're doing and sometimes even more.

Will they ever get out of this selfish streak they have and is there anything I can do to help them? Thank you.—Mrs. R. G.

Dear Mrs. R. G.: As you said, your teen-agers aren't much different than all others so in that respect, you don't have too serious a problem.

Before you go blaming teen-agers too much for being selfish and independent, keep in mind that for the most part they're only following the actions of their leaders. I remember the days when families stayed home most of the time and when they did go out, they enjoyed simple pleasures such as going to the movies or visiting friends.

Nowadays when a man and woman visit friends, they know they just won't be sitting around talking and listening but they'll usually wind up with a deck of cards in their hands. Also, adults feel they have to join just about every organization under the sun.

So you see, teen-agers being involved in one organization or another aren't by themselves. However, in your particular case, I think perhaps your two children should be told you are still their mother and the authority in your home.

Seahawks Post Win In Debut

The Virginia Beach Seahawks opened their basketball season Friday night at Franklin. The visiting Hawks defeated their rivals by a 41-36 score.

After a rather sluggish beginning, the Seahawks found themselves trailing by nine points midway through the second quarter. At this point the V.B. boys began to improve on their rebounding, and went into halftime trailing only 24-23. With David Jones dominating the rebounding and Jay Horton adding to the scoring punch, the Seahawks outscored Franklin 17-11 the last half to win their opening game.

The veterans, David Jones, Bo Basher, and George Chappell performed credibly for the opening game. Newcomers Jay Horton and Tommy Dennis showed that they could be of value to the team this year.

The Hawks next game is a home encounter with continually tough Southampton. The Indians, district champions for the past two years, will present a tall, talented team on the Seahawks court Friday night.

The scoring:

Virginia Beach	Franklin
Jones 18	Stedham 4
Basher 10	Vann 4
Heifrich 2	Phillips 12
Dennis 2	Pearson 6
Chappell 2	Blythe 0
Ricks 0	Brown 14
Horton 12

Beach Gym Scene of Cage Tourney Here Friday, Saturday

Virginia Beach High School Athletic Assn. will sponsor a Junior College Basketball tournament in the High School Gym, Friday and Saturday of this week. In the opening round Friday night at 7:30, Frederick will play against the University of Richmond freshmen who will meet Loubser College in the night-cap.

Frederick College is the defending champion of the N.C.A.A. Junior College Conference and are favored to win the tournament.

Coach Pete Meadows will use two all-conference men, 6'4" Jim O'Keefe and 5'10" Tex Murray to team with 6'4" Ray Esen, 6'4" Bob Barneck, and 6'2" Ed White for his starting five. Sam Iorio 6'3", Jerry Gavin 6'6", and Bruce Peterson 6'5" are strong replacements and will all see action.

Chowan College Coach Jim Garrison, former V.B. coach, will start five experienced men against the Lions which makes the first game something of a feature in itself. Chowan's All-Conference Clarence Nichols and Wayne Yates assisted by 6'4" Bobby Hunter, 6'3" George Oakley and playmaker Mike Guffee will give the Frederick five a run for their money. Chowan also has experienced reserves in 6'5" Bobby Hunter and speedy Fred Laman.

In the second game the Richmond freshmen will meet a strong Loubser College contingent. Coach Harry Stewart's Baby Spiders will feature three men who are all hitting in double figures: Bill Barton a 6'4" forward from Petersburg is averaging 23 points per game. John Teipo of Eastern Pa. has a 14 point per game average. Center Bill Hodge at 6'3" is the team's tallest man. Buddy Enek and Grover Flint round out the first five. The Baby Spiders have won 3 out of 4 for the season and could easily be the dark horse of the tournament. Loubser College, coached by Wayne Benton, former Atlantic Christian star, boasts of four men hitting in double figures. Nick Seesoms of Burlington, N.C. has a 22-point per game average, 6'5" Trent Strickland is averaging 12 points, Stafford Wheeler is averaging 15 points per game and Walton Parker has a 14-point.

Fort Story TELLINGS

The Mess Hall of Headquarters Company 4th Transportation Terminal Command C was named the "Best Mess Hall" for the month of November. Col. William P. Pope, Post Commander, presented the award in a ceremony held in the Mess Hall on Wednesday of this week.

Local basketball fans will have an opportunity to see four first rate college games in this tournament. Additional bleachers are being installed and a capacity audience is anticipated both nights.

Senior Div. of Jr. League David Noble and John Woodward each rolled a 185 game. Dave came out ahead with a 454 set.

"super" ranks as they were promoted to the grade of First Sgt. Receiving the promotions to the E-8 level were Murray E. Bilby, 1st Sgt. of the 347th Transportation Company, and James S. Howard, newly arrived 1st Sgt. of the 344th Transportation Company. Both men received their promotions at ceremonies held at the 10th Terminal Battalion Headquarters, and were congratulated by Lt. Col. William H. Henderson Battalion Commander.

First Sergeant Bilby has been in the military service for 18 years and served in the Central and Southwest Pacific during WW II. He first came to Fort Story in September 1948 and remained here until 1952, when he went to Germany for a three-year tour. He returned to Ft. Story in 1955 and participated in the 7th Transportation Corps Operations in France in 1957.

First Sgt. and Mrs. Bilby have two sons and reside in Lynnhaven Drive.

First Sgt. Howard entered the Army in July '43 and served in Europe during WW II. In Jan. '52, First Sgt. Howard arrived for duty at Ft. Story. He was a Truckmaster for over a year with the 461st Transportation Company, 14th Battalion, immediately before his promotion to E-8.

First Sergeant Howard's wife and six children are presently living in his home town, Wilmington, N.C.

35th FIRST IN BOND DRIVE
The honor of being the first unit of Fort Story to attain a 100% participation by its members in the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds went to the 35th Transportation Company recently. The Company is commanded by Capt. John B. Thomas and is assigned to the 10th Terminal Battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. William H. Henderson.

"Hero" of the achievement for the Company in marking up their 100% record was Sgt. Jesse P. S. Evans, who voluntarily returned from leave in order to make a purchase of a Bond and put the unit over the top.

Some individual activities and offices have attained a 100% record prior to this time, but the 35th Transportation Company is the first unit on the post to hit the perfect mark.

CIVILIAN EMPLOYEE OF PORT STORY DEPARTS FOR HIS INDUCTION

A third award for noteworthy performance of duty became a going-away gift for Mr. Ted B. O. Fertig, GS-5 Civilian Clerk of the Headquarters Commandant Division, recently as he said his good-byes prior to his reporting for induction into the Armed Services at Portsmouth.

Colonel William P. Pope, Post Commander, presented Mr. Fertig with a check for $150 as an award for sustained outstanding performance in his job during the past year. The departing civilian employee, who came to Ft. Story in 1956, at the age of 19, previously had received two $100 awards for sustained superior performance of duty in November 1958 and again in December 1959.

Mr. Fertig is the son of Mrs. M. F. Fertig of 8809 Atlantic Avenue, in Virginia Beach.

Norfolk Businessmen Praise Renault Trucks

"We find that the Renault truck is one of the biggest money savers over other trucks that we have owned over a period of 20 years. We are getting 25 mpg and upkeep has been zero...the Eastern Auto service has been excellent."

Frank Reshefsky, Owner
Colonial Hardware

"They are the most comfortable trucks we have ever had...they carry more and are easier to load than either or After 4,000 miles we are averaging 21 miles per gallon."

G.B. Bryant, Jr.

"We have had our Renault panel truck for nearly 5 months now...it is by far the most economical truck that we have ever owned...it carries much more than our other trucks did."

N. Wendelsahn
3001 Lafayette Blvd.

That's just a sample of what Tidewater businessmen who own Renault panel trucks have to say about these remarkable vehicles. They carry more (greater payload and cubic capacity), are more economical, and are owner tested. Every day you put off buying your Renault truck costs you money. Ask for a demonstration tomorrow. Prices start at $1970 delivered

VETERANS

The Veterans Administration hopes that Public Law 86-600 will yield a substantial increase in bed turnover in VA hospitals, since it allows the VA to provide a non service-connected patient with post-hospital and post-hospital care. On a test run in one of its hospitals prior to passage of the program, the VA found that with the resulting shorter hospital stays 10% more beds became available for non service-connected patients.

This is how it works: The veteran first must be scheduled for admission to the hospital. Then prior to admission he can be put through the various examinations, X-rays and laboratory tests, which would normally take up the first several days of bed patient care. He is then ready for surgery or treatment without having occupied a hospital bed.

After the operation or treatment the veteran may need follow-up observation. At this stage, too, he can return to his home, coming back only to continue treatment of the condition for which he was hospitalized.

Transportation to and from the hospital for authorized pre-hospital or post-hospital care for non service-connected conditions will be furnished at government expense if the patient executes a statement that he is unable to defray the cost of travel.

Outpatient care for the service-connected will continue to be furnished through the VA clinic and hometown medical program.

CALILEE CHURCH TO HOLD MEETING SUNDAY

The annual meeting of Calilee Episcopal Church will be held this Sunday, Dec. 18th at 10 a.m. a joint service of the 915 and 1145 a.m. congregations.

The meeting will follow a short service of the Litany and Presentation of the Advent Missionary Affairs of the Church School. Election of the Vestry for 1961, and receiving of report of the various organizations of the Church will take place at the meeting.

New Happy Days School Opening For Public Inspection Dec. 20 on Laskin Road

The recently completed Happy Days Kindergarten and Day Nursery building, located at 3001 Freemac Drive next to Linkhorn Park School on Laskin Road, will be open for public inspection on December 20 between the hours of 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. and on December 21 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. All parents of pre-school age children are especially invited to visit this new facility which will offer the best in care and pre-school training for children from two to six years of age. Happy Days teachers will be present during open house to talk with visitors and show the new building.

Mrs. Frances Ansell and Mrs. Judith Brumley, owners of the new school, are justifiably proud of this completely modern building. It is constructed of brick and prefabricated steel framing manufactured by J. K. Parker Inc. of Lynnhaven.

The mental and physical well-being of children constituted the primary aims in the designing of Happy Days. All possible features promoting ideal sanitary conditions and personal safety have been incorporated.

Landscaping of the large site will be started immediately and will provide for an enclosed play area. The play ground will be ready for use on opening day, January 3, 1961.

Mrs. Ansell and Mrs. Brumley, co-directors of the new school, have announced assignment of the following duties: Mrs. Brumley will be in charge of the Junior kindergarten group; she has been associated with Happy Days School at Oceana, Virginia for a number of years. Mrs. Pearl Batheol, with considerable experience in private school work and

MRS. MORSE NEW AUXILIARY PRESIDENT

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Virginia Beach Volunteer Fire Department met in the recreation room at the fire station, December 8th at 8 p.m. There was an election of officers. Mrs. Cecelia Morse was elected President for the year 1961. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Virginia Bell, vice-president; Mrs. Jane Russell, secretary; Mrs. Elsie Alley, treasurer; and Mrs. Carolyn Gray, chaplain.

The annual installation banquet will be held December 20 at the Surry Lodge at 7 p.m.

CHANGE IN TIME OF SANTA'S ARRIVAL

Correction—Santa will arrive at the Convention Center at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. Monday, December 19. The Virginia Beach High School Band will play from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Come One, Come All to greet Santa and hear the band.

prominent in church and civic affairs, will direct the Senior kindergarten. Mrs. Sarah Baker, associated with Happy Hours at Oceana for the past two years, will be in charge of the nursery group. Mrs. Ansell plans to continue her activities at Happy Hours in Oceana. She will be assisted by Mrs. Marjorie Theberge. The high standards set and practiced for the last twelve years at Happy Hours will be followed at Happy Days.

Mrs. Ansell, who has been in public and private education for more than twenty years, advocates the type of pre-school training which affords the small child with opportunity to learn to participate in group activities developing a sense of responsibility cooperation and interest in those things which provide a more rapid adjustment in primary school.

The Day Nursery will have hours suitable to most working mothers with jobs and civic duties. Special care is given to these all-day children. Mid-morning and afternoon and hot lunches are provided. Nap time will be observed each afternoon, after which supervised activities and play indoors and outdoors will be carried on until the parents call for his or her child.

For further information call Happy Hours, GA 8-3043.

"Advice Without Pressure" Is County Firm's Pet Slogan

"We have one objective," says Bill Brown about his insurance agency, "and that is to build confidence by being consultants rather than salesmen."

At age 37, he has been actively engaged in insurance for over 12 years and brings to Tidewater a firm whose insurance consultants specialize in detailed surveys of both business and personal accounts.

This service is at no cost and is designed to familiarize the insured with the details of their coverage so that any dangerous exposure can be overcome. "Advice without pressure," is Mr. Brown's favorite slogan, and he sure every alternative is weighed to assure the client's interests are being served by the least expensive coverage available or an adequate program. As an illustration he cited the recent case of a large industrial firm in the area. He spent over a month in careful analysis of plant equipment, buildings, contents of every description, vehicles, personnel, and produced a 50-page report listing every possible contingency. As it turned out, this firm had been wasting 20% of their insurance expenditure by careless coverage. At the same time, the firm's insurance coverage, despite its excessive cost, was not adequate to protect them from serious loss.

By the same token, individuals find it even more difficult than a well-staffed firm as in the foregoing case, and consequently require consultation to an even greater degree. To an individual, his entire livelihood can be jeopardized by hit-and-miss coverages. It is therefore most important that a program be designed that will balance current income and expenses, as well as anticipated needs. In this way, a man can create the insurance protection needed at any given time without excessive cost in relation to income or true need.

"We manage this by representing several large, multiple-line stock companies so that every need of an individual or business can be served at optimum cost and through just one responsible agent." This means selective purchasing that has the advantage of professional judgment and experience. It also means that one office is evaluating the whole picture—covering all needs without duplication or omission.

Bill Brown was enticed to the Tidewater by builder Wm. E. Witt, who visited Mr. Brown in Roanoke to see if he would take over the management of the Dale Fairless Insurance Corporation.

Mr. Brown's first move on arrival was to reorganize the concept so that the new firm would be a comprehensive service handling all lines of insurance. In line with this expansion, he purchased the Southeastern Insurance Agency and set plans to open an office in Richmond under this name by 1961. The Richmond office is scheduled for formal opening on February 1.

Currently working from The Insurance Building at 10006 Virginia Beach Boulevard, Mr. Brown's firm has clients in Virginia Beach, Norfolk, South Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Richmond, Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties and Richlands, Virginia.

"Our principal stock in trade is service. People have learned they can talk to us and not be pressured about buying a policy. This may not be the quickest way to build a business, but it's the surest and soundest, I believe. Where a client is in doubt as to the value of his property or its replacement cost, we also offer an appraisal service." As Chairman of the Educational Committee for the Virginia Association of Insurance Agents, during 1958-1959, Mr. Brown conducted educational programs for the association throughout the state. He is past president of the Roanoke Association of Insurance Agents, members of the National Association, the Masons, Cape Colony & Lafayette Yacht Clubs, the Virginia Beach Investment Club and the Virginia Beach Methodist Church. He is a graduate of School of Business Administration, National Business College, Roanoke; University of Connecticut's Advanced Insurance Agency Management; and the Casualty Insurance & Bonding Curriculum at Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. Bill is married to the former Pauline Atkins of Mt. Airy, N.C., and has one son, Bradley who is 4 years old. They reside at 206 60th St., Virginia Beach.

Living Nativity At Tabernacle Methodist

Tabernacle Methodist Church, located on the Sandbridge Road, Princess Anne County, will be the scene of a living nativity during Christmas Week. Committees have been appointed and plans are being made. The Christmas activities will begin Sunday night, December 18th at 7:30 p.m. with a candlelight service, featuring a children's program, Christmas message, music by the choir, and lighting of a large Christmas tree on the lawn.

Beginning Monday night, December 19, continuing through Saturday, December 24th, the living Nativity can be seen each night from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. It is hoped that many will find time to ride by and view this scene at least once during the week.

Committees working on the living Nativity are as follows:

Casting—Mrs. Lawrence Godfrey, Mrs. Melvin Cooper, Mrs. Simon Land, Mrs. Arville McClean, Mrs. Olivia Norris, Mrs. Norwood Land.

Costumes—Mrs. Thekla La Barre, Mrs. Ollie Land.

Properties—(Building Stable) Cliff Tillman, Melvin D. Cooper, Amos Eaton, Wilson Howell, Elwood I. Robinson, (Transporting Animal) Norwood Land, Merritt Hitchings.

Musical Effects—Ben McCleskey and Tabernacle Choir.

Publicity—Mrs. Virginia McClean.

Lighting—(Floodlight and Tree Lights) Elwood I. Robinson and Garland Eaton.

Pastor of the church is Leroy Davis.

BAYSIDE SOLDIER EXPERT WITH RIFLE

Pfc. Billy V. Batten, whose wife, June, lives at 300 Cullen rd., Bayside, Va., recently achieved recognition as a top Army marksman by qualifying for the expert marksmanship badge during range firing with the M-1 rifle in Germany.

Batten, a scout observer in Troop L of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment's 3d Reconnaissance Squadron in Amberg, entered the Army in January 1956, completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C., and arrived overseas last February.

The 26-year-old soldier attended Cradock High School in Portsmouth.

Camel Depicted In Virginia Art Museum's Collection

By LESLIE CHECK, JR.
The camel is, at least of the Western mind, the most exotic and the most romantic of all the modes of transportation used by man. Trained as a beast of burden from very early times and celebrated in a host of drawings, paintings and sculptures from antiquity to the present, the camel has always fascinated the observer and has always been a precious possession of his owner.

It was the custom during the Tang era (618-906 A.D.) in China to furnish the tombs of the more important people with terra cotta images of those possessions which might be considered essential to their happiness in the after life. Of the representations of the animal kingdom found in the Tang tombs, that of the horse is the most frequent, but other animals and sometimes domestic birds are also discovered in the tombs. The camel is not unusual in this group of figures, but he occurs with sufficient frequency to indicate that he was not too generally owned, and his presence in a tomb is interpreted as a mark of very high respect indeed. One of the most touching manifestations of this regard is found in the Tang tomb figure of a camel now in the collections of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

The Museum's camel is exceedingly interesting from two viewpoints—from that of the realistic information to be obtained from it and as a piece of sculpture. Realistically one can see quite clearly the siling or saddle which holds the load in place, the muscular bracing of the animal to support that load, and the sense of balance the camel has achieved in order to make the load bearable. In addition it is possible to make out the goods which were for water and the game, in this case a pheasant and a rabbit, which have been attached to the large load as provisions of the camel driver. It is even possible to see how all these things have been fastened to the saddle.

All these details show that the Chinese of the epoch were thoroughly familiar with long journeys, as was indeed the case, for under the second Tang Emperor, Taiso, who reigned from 627 to 650, the Chinese armies, pilgrims and traders penetrated as far west as Turkestan and India and received embassies from Persia. Some historians say that Taiso was turned back by the newly arisen Saracens from forging a link with the Byzantines at Constantinople.

However that may be, it is certain that many influences entered China during Taiso's reign and that they served to quicken and revitalize Chinese art. This quickening is evident, too, in the Museum's camel, for its bold, though simplified form, and its direct statement of the essentials of the animal, all speak of a fresh, strong art which has not yet reached the climax from which there is only decline.

Purchased in 1951, from the income of the Williams Fund, the Museum's Tang camel is a vivid example of a vigorous art as well as a touching reminder of man's regard for one of the beasts which has served him.

Virginia's Art

By Leslie Check, Jr.
Director, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts

The Virginia Museum is celebrating its 25th Birthday. In 1936, as the nation's first state-supported art museum, it was given a mandate to promote the enjoyment of art throughout Virginia. Today it is one of the leading non-metropolitan museums in the world. Its pioneer Automobile visits the cities and towns of Virginia, and traveling exhibitions go constantly to schools, libraries, clubs, colleges and art centers throughout the Commonwealth. The nationally known director of the state museum, Leslie Check, Jr., describes the great masterpieces of art in the museum's collections—the cultural heritage of all Virginians. This is one of a series of articles which will appear each week in this newspaper.

CHRISTMAS MOVIES TO BE SHOWN SATURDAY

Christmas movies will be shown at the Virginia Beach high school, Saturday, December 17th at 10:30 in the morning. Children will see the following color movies, "The Nativity," "I Was the Night Before Christmas," a Disney nature film, entitled "Deaver Valley," "Santa's Workshop" and three Disney color cartoons, "Little Hiawatha," "Tortoise and The Hare," and "Elmer." The program, which is sponsored by the Virginia Beach Art Assoc. will be over by 12 noon. Admission per child is twenty-five cents for those not having season tickets.

P.A. TRAINING SCHOOL NEWS

By LINWOOD HOLLEY

The annual Christmas program was held in the school auditorium on December 14, 1960 for the student body. This program was sponsored by the Drama and Music Departments.

The choir started the year with a great flourish! A candy-selling project was begun in October of the school year to raise money for new choir robes. The choir also presented a short program of Christmas music at the P-TA meeting on Wednesday night, December 7.

It will be necessary for every student to comply with sound principles of education before a diploma can be awarded. The following guiding principles should be observed. All required subjects must be taken and passed in order for a student to graduate. If a student fails an elective subject, he must repeat it or, with the approval of the homeroom teacher and the guidance counselor, he may select another subject in lieu of the one failed. In order to obtain in a full year's course a student must make a passing grade in both semesters.

Effective with the eighth grade of the last school year (1959-1960) a minimum of 24 units, including health and physical education, must be earned for graduation. Effective in the eighth grade of 1960-1961 a normal load for a student is 5 units of credit including health and physical education. Six subjects may be carried provided that the student has an average of "C" or better in the previous semester's work, and that the student can do so with profit. All subjects will carry full credit. That is, credit for health and physical education, band, and choir will be a whole unit instead of a half unit. This became effective with the eighth grade in 1959-60.

Academically talented students must do outstanding work in order to continue year after year with a special accelerated group. Accelerated academically talented students on graduation will have had more advanced subjects than other students. This will give them a richer background, and it will better prepare them for college.

The Mother's Club met on Wednesday, December 7, prior to the P-TA meeting. The purpose of the Mother's Club is to bring into closer relation the home and the school so that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of our children.

The matter of changing the name of our school was taken up at the last meeting of the P-TA. We are asking all parents to attend the P-TA meeting because it enables you to see what your child is doing and to confer with the teachers on matters which concern you and your child.

The Tigers played the Fighting Bookers, of Booker-T of Norfolk, on Wednesday, Dec. 14. They will play Mary N. Smith of Accomac on Dec. 16. The girls will also play. Such favorites as Albert "Goose" Shaw, Howard "Meathead" Smith, and Nukle Knight, on the boys' varsity, Hookshot Henry, Sure-shot Uzzie, Rebound Wilson, and Dribbling Jefferson will be seen on the girls' team. We are asking all parents, relatives, and friends to support us, as the Mighty Tigers and Tigresses pivot to victory.

Bayside 4-H'er Among National Contest Winners

Betty Ann Lee, a senior at Granby High School and a member of the Bayside Community 4-H Club, is one of the eight national winners in Home Grounds Beautification. Awards for this contest of an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago and a hundred dollar scholarship.

This week she is in Chicago attending this Congress. The program includes educational tours, banquets, special entertainment, addresses by national and international speakers, group discussions, recreation and worship services.

Betty Ann has been in club work nine years during which time she has carried fifty-six projects which include Gardening, Entomology, Food Preparation, Junior Leadership, Rural Electrification, Freezing, Room Improvement, Make or Remake, Dress Revue and Home Beautification. For outstanding work in these projects she has received fifty awards. Two of these awards consist of the Ozlin Cup awards given each year in Princess Anne County to the most outstanding junior and senior boy and girl in the county.

She has made twelve exhibits on local and district levels, given 40 local and district demonstrations, attended district 4-H camps, state conservation camps, state short courses in Blackburg and Interstate club meets for all stars in Maryland and Mass. She has held offices of president and vice-president in both junior and senior 4-H clubs and offices of president and vice-president in the Princess Anne County Council.

CHOIRS TO PRESENT PROGRAM AT PRESBY.

The Youth and Senior Choirs of the First Presbyterian Church, Virginia Beach, will present a Christmas Vesper Candlelight Concert on Sunday, December 18, at 5 p.m. in the Church sanctuary. Traditional Christmas music, and carols from many lands will be sung in a setting of candlelight and Christmas greenery.

The choral program will include: "Sing Ye Noel" (Echo Carol), "I Wonder As I Wander" (Appalachian Carol) by Miles with Sue Glascock as soloist, "Deep In The Silence" Polish Carol, "This Day We Sing of Our Savior's Birth" by Marryott with Carroll Shoemaker and R. Gene Doyal as soloists, "Mary Had a Baby" Christmas Spiritual with solo parts sung by Dwight Moore, Charles Fuller, and Claude Turner, "Gloria In Excelsis Deo" French Carol, and the Quaker Hymn, "Christmas Day" by Juanita Winecoff, Joseph R. White, Jr., and Ann Davis.

The Youth Choir is directed by Barbara Cox, and Irene A. Korte is Senior Choir Director and Organist.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

these silage crops compared with each other, and with corn, in yields of silage, and in feed value in terms of total digestible nutrients.

Among the crops grown were corn, forage, sorghum, grain sorghum, soybeans, millet, Sudan grass, and velvet beans. Most of these were grown both alone and in mixtures both in rows and broadcast. The tests were planted about two weeks after the usual corn planting dates so that good stands of the other crops would be obtained.

Total yields of silage were compared first. It was readily apparent from these experiments that the broadcast crops would not yield as well as the crops grown in rows. Corn and forage sorghum, and mixtures which included one or both, consistently gave the highest yields, if grown in rows. Corn and sorghum grown in broadcast plots generally made poor yields, partly because of weak competition in the seedling stage.

Millet and Sudan grass were relatively low in yield compared to the other crops, and appeared to be of value for silage only if the season were too advanced to plant corn and sorghum. The grain sorghum which were included in these tests were of the customary combined hard types and were consistently low in total yields.

Soybeans in mixtures had little effect on the yields but if they can be planted and harvested satisfactorily with corn or sorghum will undoubtedly increase the protein content in the silage.

As stated, the most satisfactory yields were obtained with corn and sorghum grown in rows either alone or in mixtures. However, there were several striking differences in these two crops which affect their relative values for silage. Forage sorghum was usually higher in green weight but contained more moisture at harvest so that dry weights of corn and sorghum were comparable. Sorghum had a lower grain content and a much higher stalk content. As a result of these differences sorghum silage was about 10 percent less digestible on a dry weight basis than well-seeded corn silage. Not only is sorghum silage less digestible than corn silage, but feeders have consistently reported that sorghum silage is also less palatable to livestock. With lower palatability, livestock eat less sorghum silage than corn silage.

Some of the forage sorghum entries in these tests were extremely high in yield, producing 40 tons or more of green weight at harvest. However, because of the poorer feeding qualities of sorghum silage compared to corn silage, there is considerable doubt that even these very high yields make forage sorghum a reasonable substitute for a good corn silage.

On the basis of all of the silage work done by the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, there is still no better crop to grow for silage than an adapted corn hybrid which will produce a high yield of grain.

PRINCESS ANNE I SCHOOL NEWS

By CAROLYN JENNINGS

Christmas is coming and the season's spirit is quickly developing the halls and hearts of Princess Anne. Each face seems a little brighter and each smile a bit gay as students look forward to the year's most wonderful holiday, Christmas, with its joyous singing of carols, its glittering beauty of Christmas trees, and its ten day vacation from school!

Tomorrow night the Christmas Concert will be the official opening of the season at Princess Anne High School. The P.A. Band will begin its performance at eight o'clock in the school auditorium. Many of the traditional Christmas favorites will be played with some newer pieces. The program promises to be rewarding and enjoyable as the music will be appealing to those of all ages. The tickets will be on sale at the door. Admission fees will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under twelve years of age.

Following the Concert will be the annual Candy Cane Ball, held this year on Thursday, December 22, beginning at 9 o'clock. This yearly dance is sponsored by the H-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Council. The Candy Cane is second only to the Senior Prom in being the biggest social event of the school year. Girls are dreaming of fragrant corsages as boys are checking their wallets and all are anticipating this very special dance.

The planning committee of the Candy Cane Ball for this year consists of eight students under the direction of seniors, Miss Belote, and Sidney Godwin. The other committee members are, Gigi Lindon, Ronnie Wood, Johnny Harrison, Norma Heath, Pat Plevyak, and Robie Robinson.

A limited number of tickets were available because of the capacity of the gymnasium, and the overwhelming student support. Committee members report that the tickets sold very rapidly. The music for the dance will be furnished by the Lou Sachs Band.

Many clubs have made special plans for Christmas parties and projects. Among these organizations is the Future Nurses Club. The officers of the Future Nurses Club are: President, Beverly Rooke; Vice-president, Sandy Copeland; Secretary, Thelma Baker; and Treasurer, Willie Wetherington. The club members and officers have been planning a special Christmas benefit project, the exact nature of which has not as yet been revealed. The girls have further plans of attending nurses aid classes this year.

A new organization at Princess Anne is the Spanish Club. The club has quite a large membership consisting of Spanish pupils from each class. The charter members held an initiation party for the new members at the last meeting. A Spanish guest who attended the meeting, highlighted the evening with stories and information for the club members, all in Spanish. One club member stated, in regard to the visitor, "He was very interesting, but he didn't speak any English at all." When asked if he could understand the language he replied, "Well, to be truthful, I don't really know what he said. I just laughed when everyone else did and tried to look intelligent the rest of the time. I did enjoy it though."

"Operation Homeroom" is well on its way, as members of the circulation staff of the Princess Anne growing circulation figures. Each member of the staff takes a certain number of homeroom to which he is assigned and visits each room selling copies of the paper to the students in those classrooms. The Page Staff has noticed a considerable increase in the number of papers sold as compared to those sold at the beginning of the year.

The managers of the circulation staff are Roger Provo and Opal Taylor. When asked about the success of the papers' new endeavor, "Operation Homeroom", Pat Marr, senior business staff manager replied, "We have been very pleased with the increased sales of our paper. I hope that 'Operation Homeroom' will be a boost factor in raising our sales even more. At present, with this new sales promotion effort, it is difficult to determine whether the effect will be lasting, but in view of the recent figures, the sales totals have increased. Let's hope it continues!"

Applications have been turned in to the National Honor Society. Many anxious students of high academic abilities and achievements applied. The Honor Society is an organization founded to promote interest in scholarship. The club is principally for the self-recognition of each member, for having gained membership in the Honor Society, the student will have qualified to stand among the nation's top students. Academic achievement is such an important factor in high schools, as well as colleges, today that the interest in such achievement must be encouraged by having definite, worthwhile goals to work for rather than the abstract terms for which the students can see no definite value. Thus, the National Honor Society and such organizations have been formed in order to set the goals, whereby, students may enjoy the distinction of being an honor student and belonging to an exclusive organization limited to other students of the same academic caliber. But grades are not the sole elements of acceptance. The club also promotes leadership and character, and new members must meet these qualifications.

The officers of the National Honor Society are President, Pam Cole; vice-president, Susan Greenwood; Secretary, Florese Hodge; and Treas., Barbara Watts. President, Susan Greenwood reports, "We are taking in only 12 new members this year." This, of course, means that only a small number of the applicants will be accepted.

In addition to the other advantages of the Honor Society scholarships are awarded to the deserving members. Last year a total of over $700 was given in scholarships.

The foyer of Princess Anne has become a popular place for students who seem to be gathering in two large groups and hovering close to the wall between each period, before and after school. Every few minutes a bright-eyed student pushes from the center of the group and pausing at a trash can, deposits a wrapper and goes merrily munching down the hall.

What is this new form of ecstasy? A brief look at the foyer during classes will reveal two new candy dispensing machines. Brightly chrome plated and usually empty, students are enjoying this new privilege of the candy machines and have just one restriction. To quote Mr. Warren Littleton, principle, when he addressed the stu-

Cape Henry Women's Club Members To Aid Hospital

The December luncheon meeting of the Cape Henry Women's Club was held at the Princess Anne Country Club. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Arthur James. Mrs. H. O. Freeman, president, announced a card party will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Smith, January 17, $1.00 per person and the proceeds to go towards the fund to send a girl to Girls' State.

The Cape Henry Women's Club will canvas the Beach from 50th to 70th Street for the Princess Anne Memorial Hospital.

Fine Arts Dept. will be in charge of the program for January and Mrs. R. J. Steinhilber, asked that the member bring their paintings, ceramics, all hand work and to enter the essay, short story contest.

Mrs. Robert S. Wahab, safety chairman, caution the members to dent body over the public address system. . . . students must put candy wrappers in the trash cans or the candy machines will be removed. The results of this situation seems to be, full trash cans, empty candy machines, and happy students.

keep their Christmas tree wet and when they dry out "throw them out", to prevent fire.

The table decorations were in keeping with the season, were arranged by Mrs. E. P. Seay and place cards and table favor by Mrs. W. H. Smith and Mrs. H. O. Freeman.

The club members bought Christmas Gifts for the patients at Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg.

Mrs. R. J. Steinhilber, introduced Mr. William Miller, musical director, and the choral group, of Virginia Beach High School. They sang a "Bach Carol", "Come, Oh Come Emanuel", "Silent Night", "Carol Of The Bells" and Miss Martha Snell sang "Oh Holy Night". Mr. William Lee, junior court counselor, was the speaker. Mr. Lee was introduced by Mrs. E. P. Seay, chairman of the Home Life Department.

Mr. Lee said publicly on juvenile delinquency has had some good and some bad effect. The good effect has been in the interest has gone on to the churches, congressional and parents are wondering why and what did they do wrong.

There is at least three different views on the cause and what to do. One book will say love them, another will say love and hate them and still another will tell you to leave them alone and let them do what they want. Some of the ideas may be good, but, if not careful they will do more harm than good. Most parents want the law to scare the child and when they will do the rest. Mr. Lee said parents usually put off asking for help with a problem child till it is almost too late. There is no blue print for parents to follow to keep their child from being a delinquent. Mr. Lee gave four basic rules to follow: 1. Acceptance is necessary to a child, if a son treat him as one, not like the girl you wanted. If he can't play a musical instrument accept the fact.

2-Approval-Parent set standards for their children, but children also set standards for their parents; don't let them down.

3-Affection (Love)-It's a basic drive in all of us to be loved.

4-Discipline-Children are as disappointed if they don't have your love as much as if they are not disciplined. You can always tell a well-trained child.

There is a clinic on the market to raise your child by. There is no guide book or basic rule that the Police Dept. pass out to raise your children by. It's all up to you.

Sunday night, December 18, the Junior and Intermediate choirs will present a Christmas play at the evening service. This will be one of the real highlights of the Christmas observance.

Wednesday night, December 21, at 7:30 p.m. the Sunday School will have a Christmas program and party. The program will be presented mostly by the boys and girls of the Beginners and Primary Departments. However others will also participate. The evening of worship and fun will appeal to all ages.

The Adult Department will furnish and decorate the Christmas tree for the occasion. Mrs. Hyman Greer is chairman of the "tree committee". The Christmas program will feature a talent program, the singing of Christmas carols, the telling of the story of the birth of Christ in pantomime, acted out by the children.

Gifts will be brought for Christmas baskets and placed under the Christmas tree. J. T. Wynne and the Young Peoples Department will be responsible for packaging and delivering the baskets of food and toys to needy families.

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB MEETS

The Bayside Lions Club met Wednesday night, December 7th at 7:30 p.m. at Shore Drive Inn. The president, J. E. Abelson, presiding.

Ivan Mapp, program chairman for the evening, presented the guest speaker, Mr. Charles L. Burleigh, who talked about the new Princess Anne County Hospital which is being planned for the Princess Anne Plaza area.

Mr. Burleigh stated that the hospital was first visualized by the late Mr. Guzey who bequeathed $125,000 to the county when he died in 1956. Mr. John Aragona who planned the vast Princess Anne Plaza development, donated 15 acres to the County to be used as a building site for a hospital. The Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County formed a group known as the Princess Anne Hospital Commission with Dr. Ira Hancock as chairman. This group has organized a drive for the purpose of raising the necessary funds for construction. A professional fund raising organization and a number of civic minded citizens are engaged in a campaign which to date has received pledges totaling about $60,000. Several members of the Bayside Lions Club are working with this group.

The commission plans to build a 100-bed hospital which will cost approximately one and a half million dollars.

In future years as the population grows the hospital will be enlarged to 400 or 500 beds. In speaking of the need of such an institution in Princess Anne County, Mr. Burleigh stated that the 24,000 population loss which the county sustained when the East Ocean View and Little Creek areas were annexed by the City of Norfolk two years ago has already been replaced by the heavy influx of new residents. The present population in the county is about 30,000. One very important factor to be considered now is the distance to be traveled from some points in the county to reach the city hospitals.

In cases of emergency the time it takes to get a person to one of the city hospitals could be the difference between life and death. Mr. Burleigh stated that a sufficient number of doctors have agreed to give their time at the county Hospital to make it a success. He urged that each member of the club give careful consideration to this project and make as large a subscription as possible. Subscribers are encouraged to make a pledge for a three-year period, paying a stated amount each month.

President John Abelson announced that the next meeting on Wednesday, December 21, will be preceded by a social hour—beginning at 6:00 p.m. Second vice-president "Hank" Osterander reported that the Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot was a huge success, 128 shoots were run off, making this the biggest shoot which the club has had in the nine year history of the club. The club

VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By VIRGINIA PETTY and PAT WALLACE

The Virginia Beach High School chorus provided the entertainment for the Cape Henry Women's Club Thursday, December 8. The program consisted of traditional Christmas carols, "Echo Carol," "O Come, O Come Emmanuel," "O Holy Night," "Carol of the Bells," "What Child Is This," and "Silent Night." Miss Martha Snell sang the solo of "O Holy Night."

The chorus was represented by eighteen of its members, they were Beverly Kaye, Pam Miller, Tody Garrison, Martha Snell, Jean Mat-should net about $1,000 for its charitable and civic activities.

Third vice president, "Mike" Henry reported that the Bayside Joy Fund is progressing satisfactorily. He introduced Chief Kelly Davis of the Little Creek Fire Department. Chief Davis announced that his men have prepared the toys to be distributed to the children of needy families in the Bayside area.

Members of the Spanish classes are making "pinatas." This is an old Spanish custom at Christmas time. They are made in various shapes and are filled with candy and presents. The students will break open the pinata and scramble for the gifts.

The Virginia Beach High School chorus, under the direction of Mr. J. William Miller, will present Kaannual Christmas Choral Concert Wednesday, Dec. 21 at 8:00 p.m. The public is invited. No admission will be charged.

The Home Economics classes are making Christmas decorations. A couple of suggestions are homemade candles and hanging decorations for doorways, etc.

The candles are made with paraffin wax. Melt one square and use a small amount to stick about four squares together to form one large square. Whip the remainder of the melted wax until it is frothy and then throw it on with a fork. The wax can be colored with food coloring or sparkle may be added while candle is hot.

To make hanging decorations, take two embroidery hoops and wrap them with ribbon, insert the smaller one into the larger until they meet each other. Tie them with a bow and suspend it on a ribbon. Fill the center with angel hair, Christmas balls or mistletoe.

At Friday night's game the Seabawks fans sat through a tense game. Means were heard throughout the gym as the Indians took a 12-point lead in the second quarter. Then in the last quarter the Seabawks began to come up on Southampton and everyone in the gym was on his feet and roaring.

Friends School News Notes

Christmas In Madrid Spanish Christmas Confections

The classic recipes of Spain change from province to province, from generation to generation. From Andalusia, in the south, north to Navarre and the Bay of Biscay, and again, from Cadiz along the curving Mediterranean coast to Barcelona, the recipes are subtly altered and embellished. It is in the capital city of Madrid that all roads and recipes meet. Here is a cosmopolitan cuisine that takes something from New York and Paris, something from the old families—the pure blooded Castilian hidalgoes — and much from the equally pure blooded gypsies.

Hereditary clans of gypsies wandered long ago from Castile into Andalusia in southern Spain. The hills of Granada are honeycombed with caverns and it is in these dark recesses that the light of an ancient Christmas blazes up in the gypsy "grapes" or "lujergas". The spices start on Holy Night (Noche Buena) and continue through Los Reyes—The Feast of Kings, which we call Twelfth Night. On the morning of Christmas (Deno Divinus The Great Day), great ashwood fires are lit in the caves. Barrels of raw red wine are tapped and the castanets begin to sound — a soft, buttery sound made by the mellowed wood of Spanish chestnut trees. The guitars are plucked up and dancers sprin ginto the firelight to the hot music of the fandango.

As the gypsies find their way to Madrid, so do their Christmas customs, their red wine and the cakes and confections that are eaten with the wine. We have adapted three traditional confections that will enhance the holiday gatherings at your own hearth. The Coffee Meringue Tart makes a splendid, edible centerpiece—displaying a gorgeous center of seasonal fruits, flashed with maraschino cherries and orange marmalade. Palma Biscuits are simple sweet cakes, garnished with glace cherries and filberts. They are delicate and light and your family will enjoy them as a snack with milk or coffee in between holiday meals.

MERENGUES DE CAFE Spanish Coffee Meringue Tart (Makes 8 servings)

To Make Meringue Shell
4 egg whites, at room temperature
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon powdered instant coffee
1 cup granulated sugar
Preheat oven to 275°. Combine egg whites, cream of tartar and salt. With electric mixer or rotary beater, beat egg whites until soft moist peaks form. Gradually add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Add coffee with last sugar and continue beating until very stiff, glossy peaks form. Spread half of meringue on bottom of well-buttered 10-inch pie plate. Using a spatula or pastry tube, swirl or pipe remaining meringue around sides and rim of plate, making a decorative edge. Bake 1 hour, or until crisp to the touch. Cool before filling.

To Make Fruit Filling:

2 bananas, sliced
1 cup whole grapes
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 oranges, sliced
1 cup whole maraschino cherries (about 20 cherries)
Combine bananas and grapes with lemon juice. Arrange with orange slices and cherries in meringue shell. Garnish with additional cherries, as desired. Serve with Spanish Cream Sauce.

To Make Spanish Cream Sauce:

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
4 egg yolks
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Combine sugar, flour, milk, egg yolks and butter or margarine. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add vanilla. Cool, stirring occasionally. Fold in whipped cream. Serve with Meringue Tart.

BRAZO DE GITANO Gipsy's Arm (Makes 8-inch roll)

1/2 cup granulated sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons boiling water
1 cup chopped maraschino cherries (about 10 cherries)
1/2 cup orange marmalade
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Confectioners' sugar

Housewives Can Learn About Physical Fitness On WAVY-TV

Be in good form... that's the advice offered by Debbie Drake in her Monday-Friday 8 a.m. television show on Channel 10, WAVY-TV. Debbie, a physical fitness expert, tells housewives how to get in good form and stay that way.

According to a recent article in TV Guide: "No slouches are the women who view 'The Debbie Drake Show.' When these housewives tune up the TV set, they also prepare to do some tuning up on themselves. It's for the sake of good form—something Debbie's been impressing upon her TV audience, howling in on Channel 10, early this month.

"During the daily 15-minute show, Debbie puts her viewers through setting-up poses, dispenses advice for the fashion-conscious, answers figure and diet questions. "The 115-pound former model and reducing salon supervisor, who relies on diet as much as exercise to maintain her svelte proportions, says 90 percent of American women 'could improve their appearance through diet and exercise if they

D.A.R. CHAPTER HAS NINTH BIRTHDAY

The Princess Anne County Chapter D.A.R. celebrated their 9th anniversary with a Christmas luncheon Saturday, Dec. 10 at the Cape Colony Club, with 38 members and guests attending.

WEEKEND PROGRAM
LOREN MOVIE ON
Love and laughter set to the rhythms of old Vienna, and the lush and lovely background of Emperor Franz Joseph's opulent court will be offered movie fans beginning Sunday when the Beach Theatre presents Paramount's Technicolor romantic comedy, "A Breath of Scandal." Starring Sophia Loren, Maurice Chevalier and John Gavin, the Carlo Ponti-Marc Coniglio production also boasts a brilliant supporting cast headed by Angela Lansbury, Milly Vitale, Roberto Russo and Isabel Jeans. "A Breath of Scandal" tells of the romance of Princess Sophia, a headstrong merry widow, and the brash American who will not take "no" for an answer, portrayed by Sophia and Gavin respectively. The spicy story, spiced with delightful music in three-quarter time, was filmed in Vienna in some of the world's most celebrated palaces, castles and gardens to ensure absolute authenticity, and old-world charm. Michael Curdie directed.
Miss Linda Barbara Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snow Jr., Virginia Beach, will begin her Christmas vacation from Centenary College for Women, Friday, December 16, and return to the campus January 3.

MAJOR FARM LAW CHANGES UNLIKELY

Changes in major farm laws in 1961 seem unlikely to agricultural economists at VPI.

However, they say it is obvious that the new Secretary of Agriculture will have enough authority under present laws to make substantial farm program changes. These changes will likely be mainly in the area of increasing price supports. The Secretary could also require acreage retirement as a condition for getting supports. Cross compliance and allotments also could be made applicable.

There seems to be little in most farm states, the economists say, for the proposal by President-elect Kennedy which would guarantee a farm income based on holding sales of farm products to federally determined quotas.

The new administration is not expected to make any major changes in the tobacco program, nor in peanut price support activities.

Emphasis will continue to be placed, the economists believe, on the export phase of Public Law 480. Under this program, surplus farm commodities are exchanged for foreign currencies. Countries lacking dollar exchange are helped in buying surplus commodities. Considerably over $6 billion has been authorized for this type of program. An attempt will probably be made to dispose of even larger amounts of our surplus commodities.

There may be increased emphasis and interest in the two-price plan, especially as it applies to wheat. Under this system domestic prices would be maintained at a high level with the excess being exported at substantially lower prices.

Estimates put the total output of agricultural commodities on a continuing upward trend, barring serious drought or an effective control program. Farmers will continue to adapt new technology (which is generally output-increasing and per-unit cost-reducing) in the intensified cost-price squeeze, so long as it pays.

It is fairly obvious that agricultural production potential will continue to outrun the population growth in the 1960's. People can eat only so much food. Unless large amounts of food can be exported, the demand for food can grow only about as fast as the population. Thus, farm income will grow more slowly than non-farm income, because demand for non-farm products and services is not limited by appetite or capacity for food.

Government programs will probably be directed in the broad area of the feed-livestock economy in an attempt to raise farm income. Even with good intentions and some effort, it appears that farm earnings will continue to remain rather low at least for the next two to three years. However, some adjustments probably will be made enabling the income of farm people to approximate 80 to 85 percent of parity.

Less manpower will be needed on farms in the years ahead. Favorable farm opportunities for youth is a good education, the economists say, and training which qualifies them for non-farm agricultural employment should receive special emphasis.

No Heptachlor For Alfalfa

The Virginia Department of Agriculture has announced there will be no fertilizer-heptachlor mixtures approved for use on alfalfa to control weevils for application in the spring of 1961. The same goes for straight heptachlor.

The announcement followed a meeting of the Department's Fertilizer Advisory Committee, which includes representatives of the fertilizer industry, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and farm organizations.

At the same time, the Department ruled out heptachlor from fertilizer mixtures to be used on peanuts in 1961, but allowed some fertilizer-heptachlor mixtures for corn.

Reasons for all three actions were the same possible residues that might reach dairy or beef cattle through feed crops and end up in milk or meat. Any heptachlor found in milk will cut a dairyman off from his market for extended periods until the residue clears up, the Department said.

To avoid this possibility, the Federal Food and Drug Administration last spring cleared a recommendation of heptachlor in any form on alfalfa shipped interstate.

On recommendation of VPI, the Department approved heptachlor and some of its fertilizer mixtures for use on alfalfa after the 1960 crop was completely harvested, but prior to October 15.

Today's announcement ruled out spring application on corn, sorghum, and alfalfa. The Department said the picture was not clear as to whether heptachlor would be permitted on alfalfa next fall as it was this fall. The decision must await this spring's evaluation by VPI of its research checks on this fall's application.

The Department did announce a series of fertilizer-pesticide mixtures that would be permitted in 1961 for use against Southern Corn Root Worm in peanuts and for the root worm, Seed Corn Maggot and Wireworms attacking corn.

Approved were fertilizer grades 0-10-20, 2-12-12 and 3-8-18 with eight pounds of aldrin to the ton for either peanuts or corn, and 0-10-20, 2-12-12, 3-8-18, 5-10-10, 5-20-10 and 10-10-10 with eight pounds of either aldrin or heptachlor for corn.

Prices paid for Virginia cattle at the recently concluded series of state-graded feeder calf sales were down from 1959 levels — as expected — says K. C. Williamson, beef cattle marketing specialist at VPI.

Steer calves sold for $4.10 per cwt. below 1959 prices. Heifer calves were down $2.47 per cwt. The 30 sales moved 34,517 head, the largest number of calves ever sold through the organized feeder calf sales in Virginia.

The 22,621 head of steer calves averaged $26.51 per cwt. The 11,896 head of heifers averaged $28.40. This year the spread in price between steer and heifer calves was narrowed to $4 per cwt. — the smallest difference since 1961 when heifer and steer calves sold about the same. The demand for heifers was good this year. Many went back on farms in Virginia for building herds.

Williamson believes the relatively good pasture season in most of Virginia last summer helped calves overcome any handicaps caused by the severe winter during which they were dropped.

Steer calves averaged 486 pounds per head, exactly the same as the year before. Heifer calves averaged 433 pounds per head, off only three pounds from the year before.

Calves graded higher at this year's sales, with 44 percent in the fancy and choice grades; 41 percent in good; and only 15 percent in medium. The Charlottesville sale topped all others in quality and weight, with 58 percent in the fancy and choice grades, and weighing an average of 503 pounds per head.

At the 1959 sales, about 40 percent of the calves sold went to the mid-western states of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan. Apparently fewer went to the Corn Belt this fall. Maryland and Pennsylvania buyers were more active and willing to pay slightly higher prices, especially on steer calves. Most of the heifers went to the midwestern states, however, except those that went back to Virginia farms for restocking.

Demand for heavyweight calves was good and the 500- to 600-pound steer calves sold with $1 per cwt. of the 400-pound calves at many of the sales. Most of the heavyweight calves went to the feedlots, while most of the steer calves weighing under 450 pounds stayed in Virginia. Many of the latter will be consigned to feeder cattle sales next April, or will be held over for a season's grazing and sold in a yearling steer calves next fall.

Top Price At Winchester
Top price for a pen of calves this fall was $32.25 per cwt. at the first Winchester sale on a pen of 34 fancy and choice Angus steers averaging 477 pounds. This price was also reached at the Rappahannock county all-Angus sale at Front Royal on 10 head of fancy steers averaging 478 pounds. The Rappahannock sale also sold the top pen of heifers — a pen of four fancy Angus averaging 561 pounds, selling for $27.75 per cwt. The highest individual was sold at Roanoke when a 4-H Club member from Ohio paid $20.50 cwt. for a 525-pound Hereford.

Williamson says prices held up remarkably well throughout the season, with the late sales averaging just as high, in some instances higher, than the September and early October sales.

DAIRYMEN'S SHORT COURSE
PLANNED FOR JANUARY
Economic production, record keeping, and dairy cow nutrition will be stressed at a short course for dairymen at VPI January 9-12.

Paul M. Reeves, professor of dairy science, and chairman for the short course says the sessions should be of interest to dairymen (owners, managers, and herds-men) and to those in service and marketing fields serving dairymen.

Several VPI staff members will serve as lecturers for the short course. In addition, these off-campus speakers will appear: H. W. Craun, dairyman and vice-president, Dairy Foundation of Virginia, Roanoke; G. W. Hall, dairy farmer, Cambria; E. T. Willis, Jr., dairy farmer, Culpeper; Dr. C. H. Gordon, Dairy Husbandry Research Branch, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md.; Dr. W. O. Crutchfield, veterinarian, Roanoke; and Charles Moyer, Jr., dairy farmer, Amelia.

Rev. R. E. Cardwell, Blacksburg Methodist Church, will be the banquet speaker, Wednesday evening, January 11.

Program details and other information are available from county agents, vocational agriculture instructors, or from Reeves.
The VPI Dairy Science Department also reminds dairymen of these coming events: State Dairymen's Association, January 19 and 20, Roanoke; Virginia Dairy Products Association, January 16 and 17, Roanoke; Dairy Fleishmann's, Annual meeting, February 2nd and 3rd, VPI; and Virginia Feed and Nutrition Conference, February 28, and March 1, Roanoke.

Mixtures For Making Silage
For big yields of top silage stick to adapted hybrid corn.

Although corn has been the traditional silage crop for generations, nearly every year some new crop or mixture of crops becomes of interest for use as silage.

Extremely high yields have been reported from time to time with some of these crops. However, good silage. Feed value is much more important.

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

The Meaning of Christmas

By: Rev. John D. Keister, Pastor, Lutheran Church of The Good Shepherd

How wonderful if we could create a vision of the first Holy Night. We would paint with words a picture of the Christ Child, beautiful and pure. We would see Mary and Joseph and the shepherds bending over and adoring the Child. We would see the quiet farm animals standing near and the crude, lowly stable in the background. We would see a glow radiating from the Little Christ and all the figures bathed in soft light.

What does it all mean?

THE CHRIST CHILD

See the Christ Child. Here is the Divine, the life of God, His Son. Here is the gift of Heaven, the offering of Eternity.

The birth itself carries meaning. Every new baby is wrapped in wonder, mystery, miracle. Perhaps no other human experience so reveals the giving role of God and the receiving role of man. Modern man has fashioned many marvels from giant cities to soaring satellites. But only the hands of God can fashion a child. And so like all human births, the birth of Jesus happened suddenly, wonderfully, supernaturally. Into the trembling, grateful, joyful arms of Mary is placed this life. God has given Himself to the world.

That God first appeared as a child has meaning, too. A child is pure. The eyes are bright and clear, the face unstained. We picture angels with faces of little children. A child has beauty. The tiny hands are like stars. The face has soft lines, delicate colors, perfect harmony. A child has the power of love. Nothing else can so change a home, can so forthrightly make us better, persons. God showed the power of love in the weakness of an infant. Has any king ever ruled from his throne as Jesus from his manger? And so to see the little Lord Jesus asleep on the hay, we see the purity and beauty and love of God.

Christmas is what God has done. It is the joyful, wondrous news of the divine deed which God has done for the world.

Father has walked down the stairway of heaven carrying in His arms a child. "God so love the world that He gave His only begotten Son..."

THE HOLY FAMILY AND THE SHEPHERDS

See Mary and Joseph, the shepherds, the farm animals, the manger and stable. Here is the human, the earthly. Here is the ordinary, the lowly, the simple. God has come down into the center of man's life. Heaven has kissed the earth. The Divine has stooped down to embrace the human.

The darkness surrounding the nativity is suggestive of the darkness of war, hatred, frustration, unhappiness, injustice, despair. Man has not been able to light the world with hope and love. But now in the darkness, the Light of the World is born. Notice the homely features of the scene. Mary is a simple maiden and Joseph an unknown carpenter. The shepherds are ordinary working folk. Bethlehem is a small and obscure village. The stable, manger, and farm animals are the plainest things of life. The Holy One of God asks for no privileged position. He does not come to any special class or segment of society. He goes straight to the center of man's life.

In the darkness of the first Christmas night, we see our darkness. The dark specter of the mushroom cloud hangs over us. We know what it is to be of trying, to fall to live up to our aspiration and hopes, to stumble and fail. But the glory of the Child comes into our darkness. If He could come to little and obscure Nazareth, He can come to our little and obscure lives. He can be present in the most plain and ordinary situations of our life.

At Christmas, God embraced our world with arms of love. Heaven stooped down. The Divine became human and shared our life.

THE DIVINE PRESENCE

See the Nativity scene bathed in the light which shines from the Christ Child. His Presence has transfigured and made luminous the life around him. All is wrapped in holiness.

This is the way of salvation. This is the way life is lifted, halowed, made holy—through the Divine Presence. Man was made for God, and when he comes into true relation with his Creator, his life is restored. His life becomes centered around the Presence. The Light of the Presence burns out impurities with truth, heals with love, and glorifies. Only the eye of faith sees the Presence—not only the Presence in the stable in Bethlehem, but the Presence in our life and world today. Said a great saint: "Throughout my life, through my life, the world has little by little caught fire in my sight until, at last, all around me it has been almost completely luminous from within..." Christ, His heart, affire; capable of penetrating everywhere, and gradually spreading everywhere.

Salvation comes when we open our lives to the Presence. Christ must be born in our hearts. The historical event must be a personally experienced reality. His coming on the Holy night is the beginning of His eternal coming. We have not the power or the will to change our life. But through prayer and worship, we can receive, make room for the Presence. Through love and faith, we can let God work through our time and talent and effort. So we not only receive the Divine Light, it shines through into the lives of others. Every situation is a vehicle for the Christ. Every moment has the possibility of His coming to us. Goethe has said: "So, waiting, I have won from you the end of God's presence in each element."

See again the Nativity scene. See the Child of Heaven. See Mary and Joseph, the shepherds, the farm animals, the manger and stable. Are you there?

RESCUE SQUAD HAS BUSY DECEMBER 14

December 14 proved one of the busiest days in the history of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad. The volunteer organization answered six calls that day within an eight hour period.

From December 1 through December 17 the Squad answered 43 calls. Of these calls 28 were in Princess Anne County and 17 in Virginia Beach. The calls involved 47 persons.

On December 14 the Rescue Squad's six calls included an automobile accident, an attempted suicide, another automobile accident and various other calls.

WINNER ANNOUNCED IN LIONS DRAWING

Wilbur Snow of Virginia Beach is the lucky winner of a trip for two to Miami, Florida, and the Orange Bowl football game on New Year's Day.

Snow held the lucky number in the drawing held by the Virginia Beach Lions Club. He will have a reserved seat for the grid game between Missouri and Navy and a reserved seat in the big Orange Bowl parade through Miami.

BEACH BAND PLAYS AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Virginia Beach High School Band played Christmas selections for the annual Firemen's Children's Christmas party Monday night at 7:30. The W. T. Cooke School Band also participated. The party was held at the Convention Center with much enthusiasm from the younger set.

After the music was presented Santa Claus made his grand entry atop the Fire Dept's white miniature fire truck that encircled the crowd, amid cheering and waving. He gave the little ones a good look at him.

From the stage he passed out Christmas stockings filled with goodies. The children went happily home knowing Santa was in town.

Major Fantone Given Air Force Commendation Award

Major William H. Fantone, Jr., Chief of the Financial Division, Directorate of Comptroller, Headquarters Second Air Force, has been presented the Air Force Commendation Medal for meritorious achievement during the period January 1959 to July 1960.

Colonel Lewis E. Lyle, Chief of Staff, Second Air Force, made the presentation during a brief ceremony held last week.

The major entered the Armed Forces in October 1940. His first six years of military service were that of a fighter pilot. Later, after studying economics and finance, he transferred into Comptroller career field work. He joined the Barksdale-based Second Air Force Headquarters staff in 1957, following a brief overseas duty tour in Tokyo, Japan and later Hawaii, with the Far East Air Force.

Major Fantone, a native of Norfolk, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fantone, who reside in Linkhorn Park, Virginia Beach.

City Receives Pedestrian Safety Award

Virginia Beach Mayor Frank A. Dusch, center, is shown accepting the 1959 pedestrian safety award of the American Automobile Association from George Elliott, representative of the AAA, prior to the City Council meeting on Monday. Looking on is Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson. The award was presented to the city for its perfect safety record during the year. It was the eleventh such award to be presented the city during the past 12 years. (See Story Below)

11th Time For City

A.A.A. Cites Virginia Beach For Safety Record

At Monday's City Council meeting, George Elliott of the Tidewater Automobile Association presented Virginia Beach an AAA citation for having no pedestrian death during 1960. At the same time, Elliott commended the city for having a pedestrian fatality thus far during 1960. "We all have our fingers crossed," Elliott remarked, "and we hope and pray that the city will complete this calendar year without pedestrian fatality."

The city's diligent effort over a number of years toward protecting pedestrians from injury or death was praised by the AAA official, who is nationally recognized in the traffic safety field. Local safety director for the Tidewater Automobile Association, Elliott also is a member of the National AAA Traffic and Engineering Committee, in which capacity he represents several southeastern and southern states. He also has served for a number of years as special consultant to President Eisenhower's Highway Safety Committee.

Virginia Beach's long and diligent effort in protecting pedestrians from injury or death was praised by the AAA official. For eleven years, Virginia Beach has participated in the AAA National Pedestrian Appraisal Program. This nationwide evaluation is conducted by the American Automobile Association, in conjunction with more than 1,800 cities and towns and forty-seven of the states. Explaining the program, the AAA safety official said that it is a concise, comprehensive analysis of all factors which involve pedestrian protection. AAA evaluates detailed and voluminous statistical reports submitted by cities and towns, and it compares each municipality on a relative basis. For example, Elliott said, Virginia Beach is compared favorably with other towns in population group.

"Virginia Beach has compared favorably through the years," the safety director said. "In some respects, the town does an unbelievable safety performance," he said. Elliott explained that during the summer Virginia Beach copes with pedestrian problems comparing in gravity and magnitude with cities of 40,000 and 50,000 people. "Yet the Virginia Beach Police Department and entire city government do this job with a police and engineering facility for a town of 10,000 people. It seems unbelievable," he declared.

Police Chief Reeves Johnson and his staff were praised before Council. "Your police efforts in the field of traffic safety compare most favorably in a national appraisal," the safety director said. "Virginia Beach has good reason for being highly pleased with this achievement," he stated.

CANDLELIGHT SERVICE AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

The traditional Candlelight Service will be held at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, 18th and Atlantic avenue, at 11 p.m. on Christmas Eve.

The church will be decorated with greenery and hundreds of candles will be used for lighting. The Altar Guild, which is headed by Mrs. Meredith Hagler, will be in charge of these preparations.

The congregation will sing the traditional carols and there will be special music by the choir. Mr. James Midgett is Choir Director and Mrs. John Marshall, Organist. The Rev. John D. Keister, Pastor, of the congregation, will deliver a Christmas meditation.

BEACH STUDENT IS U-VA. SOCIETY MEMBERS

A 20-year-old student at the University of Virginia brought a high honor home with him for the holidays Friday—election to the University's Raven Society for scholarship and leadership.

Richard Tucker Scully, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius D. Scully of 76th St., Virginia Beach, was one of 11 students selected for the tribute. He is in his third year at the University.

Few Days Remain To Help Joy Fund; Contributions Needed

The Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce will distribute food baskets, toys and clothing to needy families of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne area today.

The Joy Fund contributions will be given out from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. from the A&P Building on Atlantic Avenue. The building is known as the "Joy Fund Toy Bank."

Jaycee members will distribute food baskets on an emergency basis on Friday to those persons unable to get to the Toy Bank.

Gene Joyner, club president, and Jim Crumlish, Joy Fund chairman, said public response to the toy and clothing drives has been good, but money contributions to the fund has been lagging.

Crumlish said donations are still needed if needy families here in our area are to have a little more happier Christmas this year. "Please make your contribution to your Joy Fund," he said, "you'll be repaid by a warm feeling in your heart."

Money donated to the fund is tax deductible, club members pointed out.

Joyner asked that contributions be made out to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Joy Fund, Box 274, Virginia Beach.

This is the 11th annual Joy Fund drive sponsored by the Jaycee chapter. Over 300 families, who wouldn't otherwise know the joy of Christmas, are benefitted each year through this campaign.

Toys and wearable clothing are still needed. The Jaycees pointed out, and should be brought to the fund's Toy Bank. "Every bit helps and if everyone pitches in, the spirit of brotherhood and peace on earth will prevail," Crumlish said.

Gene Joyner, Jaycee president, said he would "particularly like to thank Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies Corp. for their donation of paint, brushes, supplies to repair the many toys we give away each year. This year as in years past they have donated $100.00 worth of materials to the Joy Fund is especially proud of the fact that many of the others who donate time and materials to make this project successful."

The Christmas Party of the Soroptimist Club of Norfolk and Virginia Beach will be held Tuesday evening, 7 o'clock, December 20 at the Princess Anne County Club, Virginia Beach. Members of the event, an organization of younger women sponsored by the Soroptimist International, will be among the guests.

Donations to Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Joy Fund as of Dec. 18, 1960.

Supervisors Approve Re-Zoning For Hilltop Shopping Center

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors Monday officially approved a rezoning change in the Hilltop area that would permit the construction of a shopping center there.

Approval of the Hilltop matter was made in a motion by Supervisor James G. Darden that included a provision that the owners post bond to guarantee adequate drainage and sewage. Previously the Board had rejected a petition for the zoning change.

The dog problem again faced the Supervisors. The question is whether dogs should be required to be penned up or on leashes or to roam at will as they now do. A public hearing on the matter has been set for 2 p.m. on January 23. The Board voted all bids on the new county court building opened last week. This was done because plans had been enlarged. A resubmission of bids at a later date will be permitted.

Another matter that came before the Board was a complaint against the Independent Norfolk & Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Company that serves parts of Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties.

Supervisor James E. Snyder of the Blackwater District told the Board that he had received complaints from 107 subscribers of the company asking aid of the Virginia State Corporation Commission. The main complaint was explained as congested lines.

The Board of Supervisors agreed to ask state aid in solving the telephone problem.

County, City Fires Now Under Investigation; Arson Suspected

A series of fires in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are possibly linked to the work of arsonists and a widespread investigation is continuing, according to an official working on the case.

Investigation is being conducted jointly by the Princess Anne Police and the office of the state fire marshal. It was reported that an estimated 40 to 50 persons have been questioned in the lengthy probe into what has been termed "suspicious fires."

The following statement was released concerning the fires and the investigation: "We are at the present conducting an investigation surrounding the destruction of a number of buildings in Princess Anne County. At this time we are not at liberty to go beyond this statement."

It is anticipated that arrests will follow and the investigation is continuing.

In a separate investigation Virginia Beach fire officials have reported that the recent fire that destroyed the Trafalgar-Chalfonte Hotel was "definitely arson."

Investigators in the Virginia Beach case are Garland Adams, Alexander and Lt. W. W. Davis of the Virginia Beach Police Department.

Eye-witnesses to the hotel fire reported that flames were coming from all parts of the building simultaneously.

The day of the hotel fire, Lucy Trafalgar, owner, stated "I don't think it was set maliciously, but I do believe that someone broke in, perhaps boys, and started a fire."

Teen Scene

This is the final Teen Scene before the Christmas Holidays. Old Charley may not have a column next week, with so much going on during the Christmas vacation.

TEENAGER OF THE WEEK

This week's Teenager of the Week is Smiling Bill Haver. Bill has lived in Virginia Beach ever since he was 11 years old, but is going to move away in the summer.

While going to Virginia Beach High School, Bill has piled up honors as first string junior varsity halfback, member of the eighth grade basketball team, president of his home room, president of the debating team, vice-president of the chess club and a member of the wrestling team.

Bill has gained all these achievements in just a year and a half. He also maintains a high average in his studies.

Bill is 15 years old and lives at 104 York Lane in Cavalier Park. We hope great success will come Bill's way.

P.A. TRAINING SCHOOL NEWS

By LINWOOD HOLSEY

With the end of the second six weeks examinations and marking period, the Training School students are ready to begin their third and are waiting for a wonderful and well deserved Christmas holiday.

The Student Council is still working on its plans and activities for the school term. Mr. W. J. Watson is working faithfully and diligently along with the body to promote student participation in the overall school program.

Twelve new teachers were introduced formally to the Princess Anne Teachers' Association on Monday night, November 21, in the school cafeteria. They were Mrs. Beale Bemberry, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Mrs. L. N. Mornings, Mrs. B. W. Newby, Mrs. D. J. Ames, Mrs. M. K. Hill, Mr. Robert Barco, Miss Bertha Caffee, and Miss Isabelle Kling.

Others recognized were five teachers who have ended 25 years of service in the school system. They were Mr. T. C. Smith, Mrs. L. R. Holoman, Mrs. Hazel H. Bell, Miss H. L. Goodman, and Mrs. Esther Turner.

There were four retired teachers honored but were absent due to illness. They were Mrs. L. Whillbee, Mrs. Ida Reid, Mrs. Carrie Winfield and Miss Cora Wilson. These teachers were sent a token of appreciation.

Mr. Bettie F. Williams, Elementary School Supervisor, was presented a gold bag of silver dollars contributed by students and the Teachers' Association for her devoted service toward education in the county.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Mrs. Otis Jennings.

Princess Anne Court House News

FAT GODWIN

On Thursday, Dec. 15, the Court House Volunteer Fire Dept. had a steak dinner for all members and their wives, at the Court House Restaurant.

At this time the following officers were installed by Mr. Jack Etheridge who was guest speaker. President, Curtis Payne; vice president, C. E. Schreyer; secretary, Lankford Malbone; treasurer, Alvin (Sally) Rodgers; chief, Robert Lee; assistant chief, Russell Lee; captain, R. J. Capps; first lieutenant, Alvin Dawley; second lieutenant, Russ Gallup; engineer, Frank Kellam Jr.; first assistant engineer, Ben Canady; second assistant engineer, Richard Reader; chaplain, Rufus Rodgers; training officer, Lankford Malbone.

Mr. James Tyre won the door prize which was a radio. After dinner the Christmas tree, on the Court House lawn was lit.

On Thursday, Dec. 15, the Court House School B-4-A held their monthly meeting.

The Court House School Chorus presented a Christmas program, "A Festival of Lessons and Carols." Narrator: Arthur Ayers and Director, Mrs. Thomas Harrell Jr.

On Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 2 p.m., Mrs. Louise B. Kyle, who writes The Family Mail Box and is an authority on the Princess Anne, met with the Fourth and Seventh Grades at the Court House School. Mrs. Kyle read a story which she had written for the newspaper about three years ago. The story was what she thought Christmas was like in the Adam Thoroughgood House.

On Monday, Dec. 19, at 8 p.m. at St. John's Baptist Church, Mr. John Rannick gave a report and showed slides concerning his tour of Baptist Mission work in Mexico last summer.

On Dec. 24 at 11 p.m. there will be a Christmas Mission Service at Nimmo Methodist Church. Everyone is invited to attend this service.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Ayers will hold open house for all their friends on Dec. 23 from 6 until 10 p.m.

Mrs. Elaine Walke, and Mrs. Bernadine Rasmussen. Mrs. E. W. Halstrom is president of the association.

The Dramatics Club's rehearsal for the three act comedy, "Real Assured," began on November 13. Playing the leading role is Linwood Holsey. Other main characters are Bernette Williams, Sylvia Parker, Jesse Snyder, Bernard Williams, Mary Alice Redd, Alferette Morgan, and Melita Gregory. Mary Henry, Joseph Somerville, and Roland Sidney also have important roles in the play.

On Wednesday, December 14, Albert Shaw, Elbert Knight, Ois Parsons, Clay Freeman and Howard Smith went on the basketball court to face their first competitors, the Fighting Bookers of Norfolk.

The moment was tense when the referee blew the whistle and the ball was tossed up. The Mighty Tigers began their first season in the Group I, VIA. This was Mr. Goss' first test of his rehabilitation of the Tiger squad. The game was centered around the nucleus of the old members. These boys were put up against Booker-T's Mason, Hood, Boyetie, Myrick, and Banks in the starting line up.

At the end of the first quarter the score was 10-10, Booker-T. The Tigers came back in the second quarter, and at the end of the first half the Bookers lead 30-21. Eight minutes elapsed and at the end of the third quarter the Bookers still lead 57 to 25.

The Tigers again in the fourth quarter did better, but to no avail. Albert Shaw racked up 13 points, Elbert Knight 16, Howard Smith 13, Freeman 4, and Johnson 2.

The Bookers in the third quarter still leading put the cap on in the fourth. Banks of the Bookers scored 16, Mason 15, Boyette 15, Davonport 8, and Hood 12, to take a decisive victory of 74-48.

On Friday night at 7:30 the Mighty Tigers played host to Mary N. Smith of Accoonac. Mary N. Smith put Parker, Cropper, Austin, Himmn, and Baltes in the line up. Coach Goss again put his first string, Freeman, Shaw, Knight, Parsons, and Smith in the line up. The competition was tough, but at the end of the first quarter the score was 12-7 Tigers. The Tigers put on a fine exhibition of basketball in the next quarter. The score at the half was 27-14. Mary N. was only allowed one basket and a free throw in the third quarter. The final score was 73-23, and for the Tigers a 1-1 standing. Albert Shaw was high point scorer on the Tigers with 22 points, Howard Smith 17, Elbert Knight 16, Clay Freeman

4, Johnson 9, and Lee Otis Wright 6.

The Tigerettes began their season with a victory over Mary N. Smith. Their first string included Mary Henry, Cora Wilson, and Dolly Moore guards; forwards were Maud Uzzie, Deloris Jefferson, and Ethel Smith.

The Mighty Tigers were on the road in their third meet against Phoenix at Hampton. The schedule of the Tigers is as follows:

January 4—Norcom, home
January 6—East Suffolk, away
January 11—Huntington, away
January 13—N. Hampton, home
January 18—Crestwood, home

ANNOUNCING PAYMENTS TO RAMBLER BUYERS AS RAMBLER'S SALES VOLUME INCREASES

Why You Should Join Rambler's New Crusade For Adequate Progress Sharing With Customers

"I believe participation by all consumers in economic progress is absolutely necessary in meeting the nation's economic needs."

GEORGE ROMNEY
President, American Motors Corporation

Rambler's rise to a top position has put us in position to undertake a new crusade. This program, which could provide greater individual and national benefits than any we've yet undertaken, calls for customer progress sharing.

As volume goes up, costs come down. So, sharing economies that would result from a 50% Rambler sales gain over last year for the period December through March could provide payments to customers of $18,698,062.

But, before presenting our new Rambler crusade, let me review some highlights of the first one.

When we forged our basic Rambler concepts, U.S. cars were in a size, horsepower and styling-change race that cost the car buyer money. So, we developed the compact, economical, modernly engineered Rambler.

CONSUMER BENEFITS FROM LOWER PRICES

Because of low volume, we had to price our first Rambler Americans about equal with Chevrolet and Ford, traditionally "lowest priced."

As our output and economies increased, we shared the resulting economic advantages with Rambler customers. Despite inflation, we kept prices low. We also concentrated on durability and quality. That is why Rambler excels in trouble-free operation, as shown by trade surveys made by others.

What has this done? It has increased our sales—made us a vigorous new competitive factor, compelling all competitors to introduce compact cars. Their compact cars unquestionably are better buys than their big cars, because their big cars don't have the compacts' advanced engineering.

Despite these moves to meet Rambler competition, Rambler American models are now priced not only below competitive big cars but below their economy compacts as well.

In addition, Rambler provides customers several exclusive trouble-free engineering advances such as the acid-proof, rustproof Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe.

The Rambler line includes three basic sizes of compact cars—Rambler American, Rambler Classic and Ambassador, the latter two developed after the original American series.

RAMBLER SALES SOAR

In two years, Rambler's per cent of market has more than doubled. For the last 38 straight months, Rambler sales have established a new record for that month. We want to continue this growth by serving you even better.

THE NEW RAMBLER CRUSADE

Our new Rambler crusade, like our compact crusade, is based on sharing Rambler progress with car buyers.

We believe the new Rambler crusade has timely significance. Our country currently is experiencing a mild economic slowdown—with rising foreign competition and weakness of the dollar. Our larger competitors are considering partial manufacture and importation of cars for the U.S. market from abroad. There is a general profit squeeze.

We believe the greatest single economic cause is that relatively too much of the fruit of industrial effort has been going to a few well organized economic groups, not to the consumer.

CUSTOMERS TO SHARE RAMBLER PROGRESS

We decided there was something we could do. We decided to share future progress with ALL customers who take

HOW PAYMENTS TO BUYERS WILL BE DETERMINED IN AMERICAN MOTORS' CUSTOMER PROGRESS SHARING PROGRAM

IF SALES ARE UP over last year	U.S. SAVINGS BONDS (Maturity Value)	BOND PAYMENT SALES LEVELS
		DECEMBER (Dec. sales)	JANUARY (Jan. sales)	FEBRUARY (Feb. sales)	MARCH (March sales)

40%	$100	45,231	91,159	136,796	182,883
30%	$75	39,214	84,644	121,453	169,820
20%	$50	36,198	78,136	112,111	154,757
10%	$25	33,181	71,623	102,768	143,694
SALES FOR SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR		30,165	65,114	93,426	130,631

NOTE: In all cases, "BUYERS" means a person who actually takes delivery, not places an order.

WHY IT WILL PAY YOU TO BUY NOW. This unique program is cumulative and retro-active. Early buyers can get more, but never less bonds, than buyers in succeeding months. Your Rambler dealer will be happy to give you the complete details of the plan but here is a quick example of how it works and keeps on working for you:

If December Rambler deliveries increase 20% over last December, December buyers of new Ramblers or Metropolitan will receive $50 bonds. As the four-month period progresses, additional bonds will be mailed to the December buyer each time the cumulative sales reach a higher bond payment sales level.

Also, if sales increase for the four-month period exceeds 50%, proportionate additional payments will be made to all buyers during any of the four-months.

delivery of a new Rambler, or new Metropolitan between December 1, 1960, and March 31, 1961, from an authorized Rambler dealer (excluding governmental sales), giving them most of the benefit of additional cost reduction resulting from further increases in Rambler sales volume.

This can mean a sharing with Rambler buyers during the 4-month period of government savings bonds (Series E) with a maturity value from $3,679,850 (10% sales increase), to $24,930,750 (50% increase). See chart for details.

BOTH CUSTOMERS AND AMERICAN MOTORS GAIN

You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by joining this crusade. The same is true for you.

You can't lose because Ramblers are better than big cars and the best of the compacts. Ramblers are more trouble-free, more useful, lower priced.

You make your regular deal in the regular way for a new Rambler. You then may share proportionately in the economies and profits of higher Rambler volume in December, 1960, and the first three months of 1961.

We gain by acquiring more Rambler owners, which will make our growing market even larger in the future. That's because Rambler owners become Rambler salesmen and are the most loyal "repeat buyers" of any make.

Ask your neighbor all about his Rambler, then join the Rambler crusade. Join us in focusing the nation's attention on the essentiality of equitably sharing economic progress with ALL consumers if the WHOLE NATION is to prosper.

George Romney

P.S. Some may say one company can't do much about national problems as big and complex as those cited above. Well, that's what skeptics said about Rambler's first crusade. Let's remember, every great thing is born small. If this new Rambler crusade is right, it can succeed and spread, just as the compact car concept did.

Mr. Romney's recent New York Press Conference on "Customer Sharing and the Nation's Economy" attracted nationwide media. For complete text of his statements, write American Motors, Box 29, Detroit 32, Mich.

Monkeys are caught by filling a coconut shell with chopped coconut meat. The monkeys grasp a flimsy and, unwilling to let any go, cannot withdraw their paws. So, they are easy victims. The U.S. consumer is not yet as scrawny as shown, but unless there is a more equitable division of the productivity increases, he will get that way. One of the three American groups must let go and set an example—or all will be captured and, along with the consumer, all will suffer.

Happy Yuletide Greetings

As we approach another Christmas it is well for us to remember the true meaning of Christmas and the reason for joy at this time of year.

There is much we should think about during the happy Christmas holiday season. It is a time for us to count our blessings and for most of us in these United States there are many, blessings to be thankful for.

In the true image of Christmas, as is pointed out in the Christmas message on Page one, how wonderful if we could create a vision of the first Holy Night. We would paint with words a picture of the Christ Child, beautiful and pure. We would see Mary and Joseph and the shepherds bending over and adoring the Child.

We would see the Nativity Scene bathed in mystic light which radiates from the Christ Child. His Presence has made life around him. All is wrapped in holiness.

These are the true meanings of Christmas. But, also in our modern day the scene of the youngsters opening their presents and the glow of excitement in their eyes is another typical scene at Christmas time.

All of us of the Sun-News family take this time to wish all of our subscribers and readers a most pleasant Christmas and a most Happy New Year.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL

11th Safety Award For City

Monday afternoon the City of Virginia Beach was presented a safety pedestrian award for 1959 and was cited for having no pedestrian deaths so far in 1960 by the American Automobile Association.

The award is the eleventh such award presented to Virginia Beach during the past 12 years. George Elliott, of the Tidewater Automobile Association, presented the award and praised the city, its police department and its citizens for the fine record it has maintained through the years.

It was pointed out that Virginia Beach's record of pedestrian safety is all the more remarkable when considering the influx of visitors during the summer months.

As Elliott pointed out to Mayor Dusch and other members of the City Council Monday, when presenting the award, Virginia Beach gains this award with a police and engineering force for a city of 10,000 people yet its population is swelled in the summer to 40,000 to 50,000.

Mr. Elliott and City Council had warm praise for Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and the men who serve under him for the outstanding record and fine program of pedestrian safety carried on by the City of Virginia Beach.

The Sun-News joins in praising the Virginia Beach Police Department and is proud of the record of achievement in this field of pedestrian safety.

Business Booming As Usual At Santa Claus, Indiana

Business is really booming for Santa Claus this year — you can take that directly from "Santa Claus."

Postmaster Elbert S. Reinke reports his Santa Claus Post Office, Ind., already has well over 10,000 Santa Claus letters from children — more than usual at this time during the Christmas season.

Included are letters addressed to Santa Claus from many countries, Mr. Reinke noted.

Many of those letters, of course, are in foreign languages. But this is no problem. The Postmaster sends them to the nearby St. Meinrad Monastery, and the monks translate.

Letters from foreign youngsters, as well as those from the American children, are answered diligently. However, the foreign replies are especially written so that they are adapted, as far as possible, to different customs and ideas that foreign children may have about the holiday season.

The American Legion at Santa Claus handles the letter writing operation at Christmas. Postmaster Reinke explains, Every child who writes in receives a letter directly from Santa Claus (provided he has included a return address in his letter).

The gaily-decorated letter from Santa Claus assures the children Santa's Brownies are already hard at work making piles of toys for them. It also admonishes them to be good and say their prayers regularly.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has said that the Post Office at Santa Claus "has helped make Christmas a living reality for millions of youngsters since it was established more than a century ago."

Besides many thousands of Santa Claus letters, many adults have their Christmas cards mailed from Santa Claus, so they will bear the unusual postmark.

In all, the office handles well over 3,000,000 pieces of mail during the holiday season.

The story of how the Santa Claus Post Office received its unusual name goes back more than a century. Postmaster General Summerfield observed.

According to this story, it happened at a meeting of the citizens in that community around Christmas time many years ago, before the post office was officially established in 1856.

Someone dressed up as Santa Claus came in. Childer, attending the meeting with their parents cried out "Santa Claus!"

The adults — who were looking for a new name for their community — thought that "Santa Claus" would be fine, and the name was adopted.

Ever since, Santa Claus, Indiana has helped in carrying on the great traditions of the season, and has become known all over the world as a place where Santa Claus gets his mail.

In addition to the one Santa Claus Post Office, in Indiana, the Postal Service has a Santa Claus Rural Station in California. The Station is operated under the Carpenters, Cal., Post Office.

And, of course, Mr. Summerfield noted, there are many post offices with names closely associated with the holiday season—for example, Christmas, Fla., and the North Pole Stations of the Palisades (Alaska), Colorado Springs (Colo.) and Lake Placid (N.Y.) Post Offices.

VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By VIRGINIA PETTY and PAT WAILLACE

The Virginia Beach High School Monogram Club will hold a Christmas dance Wednesday, December 22.

To raise money, members of the club are collecting penny votes for candidates for Monogram Sweetheart.

The three candidates are Miss Diane Abbott, Miss Nani Swartz, and Miss Bonnie Terry. Diane is a Senior this year and co-captain of the cheering squad. She was Senior attendant to the Beach Bowl Queen. Nani is a Junior and was a Junior attendant to the Beach Bowl Queen. Bonnie is a Sophomore and she was also an attendant to the Beach Bowl Queen.

The name of the Sweetheart will be announced Wednesday night at the dance.

The Virginia Beach High School Chorus presented its annual Christmas Concert Wednesday night, December 21, in the school auditorium.

The program began with a professional by candle light. Martha Snell, soloist, sang "O Holy Night" and the chorus sang many of the traditional Christmas carols. Rusty Ramsey sang "Sweet Little Jesus Boy."

During the second part of the musical, the chorus stood behind giant Christmas cards and sang favorite old Christmas songs depicting the scenes.

Miss Faye Coppedge, a graduate of 1960, sang "Ave Maria" while a lone Madonna portrayed by Sharon Meredith stood in a spotlight.

On Tuesday night the annual Alumni Basketball Game was held. Former students of VBHS played against this year's varsity team.

Vincent Grayson, a graduate of '58 and star forward of that year's Seahawk team and Mike Foley, a member of the graduating class of 1959 and another outstanding player will be among the returning members of the team. Other members are Bob Keville, Bob Gormley, Mike Gregory, Paul Gregory, Brian Ziltn, and Jimmy Holland. Former VB cheerleaders will lead the alumni section in support of their team.

Playing against the alumni for this year's team are Chester Branscome, Stuart Bryant, Rocky Sanderlin, Tom Ward, David Helfrich, Footsie Borum, Pat Hicks, Bob

Housewife Is Found Hanged

The body of a London Bridge housewife who hanged herself in a garage adjoining her Alantone home was discovered about 3 p.m. Friday by a drycleaning deliveryman.

Police said Mrs. Maude Jarvis Hudgins, 41, of East Road hanged herself with a length of clothesline.

Princess Anne County medical examiner said the woman probably died soon after noon Friday. The body was found hanging from a garage door bracket, police said.

Her husband, Walter Edward Hudgins, is an engineer on a merchant ship, now at sea, police said. Sgt. R. J. Hladky and Detective R. C. Davis said they are trying to locate the deliveryman who saw the body through a garage window and called police. He left the house before police arrived.

Two simple but necessary products we use every day are waxed paper and gummed paper wrapping tape. According to the archive of McGraw-Hill, the inventor of these two products was none other than Thomas A. Edison, who is better known for his scientific inventions such as the electric light, the phonograph and the storage battery.

Club Hears Of Hospital Plan

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, December 13.

Dr. Frank Kellam visited the club and briefly explained the plans for the proposed Princess Anne Memorial Hospital.

The International Relations department was in charge of the Christmas program.

Mrs. Ina Root was introduced by Mrs. H. L. Fulford, chairman of the day. Mrs. Root is a native of Venezuela. Her husband is a student at the College of William and Mary. She spoke to the members on how Christmas is celebrated in her homeland. "Christmas, much like your land, is a time of gaiety, and much visiting. Relatives and friends come to town to visit with each other." Mrs. Floy Burford explained the Mexican Christmas festivities. The club voted to pledge $1,000 to the Princess Anne Memorial Hospital. The pledge will be paid over a three-year period.

Mrs. Elwood A. Hudson announced that the Education Dept. was planning a fashion show for February, to benefit the Scholarship Fund.

A Bloodmobile visit will be sponsored by the club at Little Creek on Friday, Dec. 23.

Following the meeting, the club members enjoyed a Christmas Tea in the church fellowship hall.

On Dean's List

Woman's Club
Enjoys Holiday
Filled Meeting

As if by magic, the banquet room of the Pine Tree Inn was transformed into a room reflecting the goodness of Christmas. The occasion was the regular Christmas luncheon meeting Tuesday of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne.

A little white snow covered church, madonnas, candles, pine sprays and pine cones, and gaily wrapped Christmas packages decorated the tables. An ornamented tree filled one corner of the room.

A special treat was in store for the ladies as the exceptionally fine choir from Princess Anne High School rendered a number of Christmas carols. Mr. Clark Graves directed the choir. Graves was introduced by Mrs. George L. Aldridge, music chairman.

After a message of Christmas in song by the choir, the Reverend Charles O. Kidd, pastor at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, delivered a monologue, of the first Christmas, leaving a feeling with the members of sentiments of peace on earth, good will among men.

Mrs. C. L. Hershsberger was in charge of decorations. Mrs. Charles O. Kidd and Mrs. William C. Aschman were in charge of the program.

New members Mrs. B. S. Dickenson, Mrs. Curtis Diggs and Mrs. Roy Jackson were welcomed.

The president reminded members of the blood bank to be held Friday, December 16 at the Convention Dome.

Mrs. R. H. Owen thanked members who are participating in the canvas for raising money for the proposed Princess Anne Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. George Miller asked that the ladies of the club be prepared to contribute to CARE at the January meeting.

Mrs. Reginald Whitehurst, safety chairman, asked that everyone be particularly careful with Christmas lighting.

Plans are being made to hold Men's Night on January 24th at the Cavalier Beach Club.

Among the invited guests were Mrs. Norman Brown of Hampton, president of the Tidewater District of Women's Club and Mrs. W. H. Mabry, president of the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

According to the archives of the McGraw-Hill Company, Thomas Edison's inventions were not limited to the phonograph, electric light and storage battery. In fact, he even ventured into the field of snow removal. Edison constructed a machine that would scoop up snow and turn it into little blocks of ice. The blocks occupied one-tenth as much room as the snow and fewer vehicles were required to handle them.

Lutherans Plan Special Service

Plans to celebrate locally ten years of a world-wide cooperative ministry by Lutherans to military personnel were formulated here on December 4.

At a meeting of the Norfolk Lutheran Servicemen's Committee, The Rev. Kenneth Carbaugh, chairman, said that April 23, 1951, would be a special day of observance in the anniversary year.

The Servicemen's Committee supervises a recreational and spiritual program at the Lutheran Service Center located at 1253 Brook Ave., across from the Navy Y in Norfolk and a summer Service Center at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, Virginia Beach.

The Norfolk Center is under the direction of Mrs. Neil Rose Wise and Mrs. Evelyn Spaw, Asst. The Virginia Beach Center is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Watson and Mrs. Catherine Singer. They are sponsored by the Lutheran Service Commission which began operations in 1951. The LSC is a joint agency of the National Lutheran Council and the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod and maintains service centers for military personnel throughout the world where U.S. armed forces are concentrated.

The Norfolk Center is open seven days weekly from 3-10 p.m. weekdays; 2-10:30 p.m. Saturday; and 2-10 p.m. Sunday and holidays. The Virginia Beach Center is open on weekends during the summer. Activities at the Center in Norfolk include lounge and recreation facilities, refreshments, and religious counseling. Activities at the Virginia Beach Center include shower house, lounge and recreation facilities.

Ten Lutheran congregations here cooperate in this program. Named as the local Tenth Anniversary Committee Chairman was the Rev. Kenneth Carbaugh. He announced that subcommittees had been appointed for specific aspects of the anniversary celebration. Subcommittees and their chairmen are: Invitations and Hospitality, the Rev. Gordon Hite; Program and Arrangements, Lt. Commander Elliot P. Hite; the Rev. John D. Keister; and Refreshments, Mrs. Joseph A. Sisson.

In Washington, D.C., Dr. Carl F. Yeager and the Rev. Walter E. Kraemer, LSC associate secretaries, issued a joint statement.

"The year-long observance (1951) will include recognition by the Commission of the thousands of individuals who throughout the past decade have consistently and Santa Claus never had a happier job than these Salvation Army men delivering Christmas baskets.

Crippled Children's Hospital to Hold Annual Christmas Pageant

Angels on crutches with sparkling tinsel halos and feathery white wings hover over the Christ Child when the annual Christmas pageant is presented at Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond.

This is a tradition at the hospital which gives free care to children from throughout Virginia who need orthopedic or plastic treatment and whose families cannot afford prolonged hospitalization. The Christmas pageant is under the direction of the three school teachers assigned to the hospital by the State Board of Education and the occupational therapist, Miss Mary Elizabeth Blayney.

A slight which never fails to touch the heart is the entrance of the wise men bearing gifts. They are dressed in satin robes and usually wheel themselves swiftly onto the stage, since it seems that none of the older boys can ever go anywhere slowly in a go-cart or wheel chair.

As Crippled Children's Hospital marks the Christmas season with its pageant, it also marks the end of the year with its Donation Drive totaling only 44 per cent of the amount needed to meet its operating expenses for the current year. The Trustees are hoping that gifts during the holidays may arrive as swiftly as the wise men in the Christmas pageant.

BEACH AIRMAN NOW AT NORFOLK STATION

Walter B. Young, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas G. Reid of Mayflower Apartments, Virginia Beach, Va., is serving with Air Anti-Submarine Squadron 26 which is undergoing preparatory training for the operation of a new version of the SBF "Tracker" aircraft at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

Upon completion of the training, the squadron is scheduled to resume operations with the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Randolph.

District Scouts Being Honored

The many adult scouters of the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach District who have contributed so much of their time and talents in support of the activities of the Explorer Scouts, the Boy Scouts and the Cubbers of the PAVAB District will be honored at an Appreciation Dinner to be held at the Princess Anne High School Cafeteria on Monday, January 30th at 6:30 p.m.

This is the third annual Appreciation Dinner held by the PAVAB District, and marks the beginning of Boy Scout activities in the District for the 1961 Jubilee Year of Scouting in America.

Parents and friends of Scouts of the PAVAB District desiring to attend this occasion may make reservations by calling Bill King, District Scout Executive, at MA 7-4348 or UL 5-4201. The charge is $1.50 per person.

Included in the program for the Appreciation Dinner will be Orloff, the Mysterious Mentalist, who will appear courtesy of the Paramount Agencies of Norfolk and the speaker for the evening will be Mr. Edwin L. Lamberth, Superintendent of Norfolk Schools.

Capt. J. R. Horn, USN of the Naval Air Station Oceana, who is the Chairman of the PAVAB District Activities Committee, has announced that "the sole purpose of the Appreciation Dinner is to show the adults who contribute so much to the lives of our boys that the parents appreciate their efforts and will not allow them to go unrecognized."

Upon further pointed out that "the Boy Scouts of America are the greatest counterbalance against juvenile delinquency in effect during this day and age. By channeling their interests and boundless energies into useful purposes, our boys are kept occupied with activities that will better fit them for the year ahead."

Thoroughgood Garden Club The Thoroughgood Garden Club will decorate miniature Christmas trees for patients at Municipal Hospital.

Ribbon winners are Mrs. J. T. Bradbury, Mrs. C. L. Owens, Mrs. J. R. Cruser, Mrs. G. J. Levin.

Special Christmas Holiday TV Viewing

Thursday, December 22
 6:00-6:30 A.M. - "Captain Kangaroo" - Grandfather clock "invents" a Christmas song. There'll also be a medley of Christmas songs composed by humans.
 10:00-11:00 P.M. - "The Du Pont Show With June Allyson" - Harpo Marx stars in "Silent Panic." He portrays a deaf mute who witnesses a murder while performing as a mechanical man in a department store window during the Christmas season. Ernest Truax also stars, and Harpo's son, Bill, makes his acting debut.

Friday, December 23

New Norfolk Firm Member New York Stock Exchange

Investment Corporation of Norfolk, oldest investment and mortgage banking firm in the Hampton Roads area, announced today that its stockholders had formed a new corporation, Investment Corporation of Virginia, which has been admitted as a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. The new corporation has acquired and will expand the stock and bond brokerage business previously conducted by the Securities Department of Investment Corporation of Norfolk and will become the first and only Member Firm with its principal offices and key personnel located in the Hampton Roads Area.

Investment Corporation of Norfolk is affiliated with Investment Corporation of Virginia and the two corporations have the same directors, officers and stockholders. The membership is in the name of William A. Charters, President of the two corporations, and Mr. Charters becomes the only member of the New York Stock Exchange in this area. The other officers and directors will include C. Wiley Grandy, Vice-president and Secretary, G. Powell Davis and W. Selden Grandy, Vice-presidents and E. M. Stephens, Jr., Treasurer.

The new firm will conduct its business through its various departments. The stock department, in addition to New York Stock Exchange transactions, will specialize in underwriting of both national and local stock issues and the handling of orders traded on other exchanges and in the unlisted market. The bond department will continue its underwriting and trading of municipal and corporate bonds both on a local and national scale. Another department, recently organized, will specialize in the sale of mutual funds. In addition to the officers of the firm, Registered Representatives include O. B. James, Jr., Monroe Nash, Jr., Charles F. Moore, S. Wharton Johnson, James E. Marble, Jr., and Alan D. Pless.

Investment Corporation of Virginia has appointed Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades & Company as their New York correspondent. This firm has been recognized by "Fortune", "Business Week", and other publications for its influential research department and profitable stock recommendations. As a respondent of this outstanding firm, Investment Corporation of Virginia will have access to the research facilities of one of the major houses on Wall Street and through the Loeb, Rhoades wire system, will be able to communicate instantaneously with other banking and brokerage houses in over 100 cities. Investment Corporation of Virginia will continue and expand its own activities in both original research and the trading of local securities.

Investment Corporation of Norfolk will continue as one of the leading mortgage banking firms in Virginia, originating, selling and servicing deed of trust loans, Federal Housing Administration, G.I. and conventional, both residential and commercial.

The new firm will occupy the same quarters and use the same telephone facilities as Investment Corporation of Norfolk. Future plans include the continued expansion of all departments and the addition of experienced personnel to keep pace with the growth which has been experienced over the past several years.

Little Creek Ferry System Enjoying Big Travel Season

The Little Creek Ferry system, linking the southern tip of Virginia's Eastern Shore with the Norfolk area on U.S. 13, is enjoying the biggest winter travel season in its history.

Nolan C. Chandler, general manager of the world's largest ferry system, attributed the significant step-up in traffic to several causes. First, another ship, the M. V. Virginia Beach, has been added to the fleet. Now seven 1200-passenger ships make the 85-minute Chesapeake Bay crossing. The addition of the new ship has enabled the system to increase the number of trips made across the bay, effecting a steady flow of traffic.

In addition, the Ocean Highway route has been improved and is in better condition than ever before. More than half the length of the route is now dual-laned, and 10 miles have been cut off the mileage since last winter, due to highway straightening and improvement.

After a busy summer season, the seven ships in the fleet have been painted and generally spruced up for the winter north-south traffic season. According to Mr. Chandler, the 21-mile trip across the bay will be more enjoyable this year than ever before.

The Little Creek Ferries have become increasingly popular with motorists because of the opportunities for relaxation they afford. Road-weary travelers appreciate the fact that they are progressing on their trip while enjoying a meal in the dining room, having a quick lunch in the snack bar or just strolling on the open decks. In addition to complete dining facilities, all ships are equipped with rest rooms and lounges.

Your Social Security

The social security law now provides workers with an "ace" in the hole—potentially worth thousands of dollars, particularly to the relatively young worker with a young family.

The 1960 amendments to the law removed the age-50 limitation on when a disabled worker can start receiving cash benefits. Regardless of his age at the onset of disability, the worker now can receive cash payments monthly for himself and dependent children.

Depending upon past earnings, disabled workers with two or more children can receive as much as $254 monthly. In terms of income over extended periods of disability, these benefits can mean several thousands of dollars at a time when family income is much reduced or has stopped.

Payments to the disabled worker continue until recovery, death, or age 65. If a disabled worker reaches 65, benefits continue, but as retirement, rather than disability benefits. If the disabled worker dies before reaching 65, his widow and single children under 18 begin getting social security survivors benefits. Family benefits stop when the youngest child reaches 18 or marries, but the worker's widow is again entitled to social security benefits when she is 62.

The social security law applies, of course, to disabled women workers as well as to disabled men workers. The disabled woman worker and children under age 18 and unmarried for whose support she is responsible get monthly disability benefits regardless of her age if she is under 65. If she dies, survivor benefits continue for each child until he reaches age 18 or marries.

Two conditions determine whether a worker who has been seriously injured or has become seriously ill can receive social security disability benefits: (1) the length of time the worker has been employed under social security, and (2) the severity of his illness or injury.

If a worker has social security credit for 20 calendar quarters in the 10-year period ending when he becomes disabled, he qualifies, workwise, for disability benefits. Roughly, this is 5 years of covered employment or self-employment out of the 10 years just prior to disability. The 5 years do not have to be consecutive; nor is it necessary for work to be steady.

The worker's physical or mental impairment must make it impossible for him to—in the words of the law—"engage in any substantial gainful activity. This inability to do gainful work applies both to the job he is in when he becomes disabled and to any other work he may be able to do despite his handicap. The mental or physical condition must be one that will show up in medical examinations and tests. Further, it must be expected to last a long and indefinite time or to result in death. The person's age, education, training, and skills are also considered in determining whether he can get social security disability benefits.

Illnesses and injuries usually severe enough to prevent a person from doing gainful work include loss of the use of limbs; loss of sight; brain damage; and heart and lung conditions which make it hard to do such things as stand, bend, and move about. Further, the disabling condition must have lasted for at least 6 months before he can receive payments.

A seriously ill or injured worker may apply at his nearest social security office to find out if he is eligible. Disabled workers who had their social security records "frozen" under the old law are being informed by the Social Security Administration when to expect payments. Seriously ill or injured workers under 50 who did not have their records "frozen" may now be eligible for monthly payments and should visit or have a member of their families visit, the social security office as soon as possible.

Copies of disability booklets OASDI-29 and OASDI-29d, and other social security booklets recently revised to include provisions of the 1960 amendments may be had by contacting your Social Security office.

CLUB ENJOYS PRE-CHRISTMAS MEETING

The pre-Christmas party of the Cape Henry-by-the-Sea Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Pauline Battley on 45th St., Virginia Beach.

Guests present at the meeting were Mesdames John H. Bell, Earle H. Barclay, N. Garrett Smith, Paul Herman and A. P. Homer.

In the absence of Mrs. Delmar J. Dea, Sr., president, Mrs. George Dana, the first Vice-president conducted the meeting.

A letter was read from the Coordinator of Volunteers Services, at Eastern State Hospital, Williamsburg, thanking club members for their generous donation of garden tools for use in the garden therapy program of the hospital patients.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Christmas carols were sung, followed by a delightful Christmas party.

The MIXING BOWL ... IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food facts and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Christmas Half Ham

It's a Christmas half ham all decked out in holiday motif. In this picture, a shank portion of ham is used. It's festively garnished with pineapple slices tinted red and edged with sparkling green sugar. Citron and almonds combine to add an air of glamour to this meat of distinction.

Make this Christmas, the most remembered one in your memory. There are many ways of captivating the holiday spirit, but certainly the most memorable is the Christmas feast.

Christmas ham and Christmas Turkey, a perfect twosome. If you are expecting to have a big family dinner you will certainly want to cook a whole ham; and you can decorate it with a floral design of citron stems and almond halves.

Cook the ham according to directions on brand of ham you choose. Then decorate.

Hot mustard sauce or perhaps mince-meat stuffed apples make delicious accompaniments.

Hot Mustard Sauce

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 cup vinegar
- 1 cup bouillon
- 1/2 cup sugar

- 1 cup prepared horseradish mustard
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- Melt butter or margarine and add flour, vinegar, bouillon, sugar and prepared horseradish mustard. Cook slowly until thickened. Gradually add hot mixture to 2 beaten egg yolks and continue cooking slowly for about 2 minutes. Serve hot with baked ham.

Hustle and bustle is the order of the day, and from Christmas week right through Twelfth Night, something's got to give in the meal department. Usually, it's breakfast—eat it and run!

But breakfast should be a fun time, too—a time for the family to report on the previous day's doings, to discuss the upcoming festivities. And, if there are youngsters home from school, it's just about the only time you ever get to see 'em!

So, why not plan on real breakfast get-togethers during the holidays, and tempt your crew with a promise of a special treat now and then, say, Quick Cranberry Upside-Down Muffins, or, if there's a little extra time, Cranberry Pinwheels. Both have a perky, tart-sweet flavor, just right for morning tastes, and the scarlet fresh cranberries fit right in with the seasonal mood. Nice for a company brunch, too.

P.S. The fresh cranberry season will be over all too soon, so why not freeze a few packages now for future use? Just put the unopened window boxes or cellophane bags of fresh berries right in your freezer, then, when you want to make cranberry muffins or any other cranberry dish, you'll have a supply on hand, to use either frozen or defrosted.

Quick Cranberry

Upside-Down Muffins

- 1 cup fresh cranberries
- 1/2 cup orange marmalade
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 egg

Leave cranberries whole, or chop if desired. Combine cranberries and marmalade. Drop a tablespoon of fruit mixture into each of 12 greased large muffin cups. Combine remaining ingredients and stir together until dry ingredients are dampened. Fill muffin cups 3/4 full. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 minutes, or until done. Loosen and turn out while warm. Makes 12 muffins.

Cranberry Pinwheels

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup canned crushed pineapple
- 1 cup fresh cranberries
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- Butter

In a saucepan combine sugar, pineapple and cranberries. Cook and stir until berries pop, about 10 minutes. Blend cornstarch with water and stir into hot fruit mixture. Cook a few more minutes, or until mixture starts to thicken. Cool. Combine biscuit mix, sugar, milk and melted butter. Mix well. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently. Pat or roll out into a rectangle approximately 12x8-inch. Spread with cooled filling, dot with butter and roll up from the long side. Cut into slices and place cut side down on lightly greased cookie tin. Bake in a hot oven (425°F.) about 15 minutes. Makes 8 to 12 pinwheels, depending on thickness desired.

Merry, Merry Christmas! The best ever!

Thomas Edison's first—and completely unsuccessful—patented invention was the vote recorder, according to the archives of McGraw-Hill. The idea was that each member of a legislative body could register "yes" or "no" by means of a switch at his desk. When he took his vote recorder to Washington, the Chairman of Committees told Edison that a time-saving device was impractical. The vote recorder would eliminate delay and filibustering, which representatives used to defeat "bad" legislation.

NOTES FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

"Oh, what a funny cow," the chic young thing from the city told the farmer. "But why doesn't it have any horns?"

"There are many reasons," the farmer replied. "Why a cow does not have any horns. Some do not have them until late in life. Others are dehorned, while still others are born without horns. This 'cow' does not have any horns because it is a horse."

CHRISTMAS
Christmas Time in the Country. A joyful season when all the family is gathered around the Christmas tree, and the dinner table. The peace and joy of this holiday season is unlike any other during the year. This is the season to be thankful for all the good things we enjoy in life.

Son is home from college or the service, and during the vacation time, a deer is bagged, a goose killed, or a rabbit shot and skinned. Later in the evening a splendid brown bird which Mother has prepared is enjoyed.

Friends come to visit. Other families may pack the wagon and go to Grandmother's house, where the kiddies find Santa has come again.

The parties, the dances, and the extra special dates that Junior must have the car for and also the extra money.

The gifts to be presented, the Christmas cards to be addressed and mailed, and cooking fruit cake and mince meat pies. Yes, all of these things represent Christmas.

This year we all have an opportunity to go to Church on Christmas day, since this special day occurs on Sunday. This is our opportunity to observe the real and true spirit of Christmas.

All these many things make Christmas in the Country a wonderful opportunity for each of us. Let us be grateful for the many privileges we enjoy each day. It is so easy to forget or take for granted. Look at each opportunity with a new look and give thanks for all the things that are ours.

Each year at Christmas, I would like to pay special tribute to all the people who have helped so much in assisting the Extension program during the past year. As always, it is impossible to list each person, organization, or business. I can only put all of you together and say "Thank you for your help and may all the joy, peace, and bountiful blessings be yours during this holiday season and for all the years to come."

VPI ELECTRONIC FARM RECORD

Two new farms will be enrolled in the newest of the new in farm records in 1961.

R. H. DeFord, Jr., was the first to enroll for the '61 program. Bob and his farm operate a 100-cow dairy farm. They, of course, are particularly interested in the dairy enterprise account.

Mrs. J. B. Dudley has enrolled her poultry operation. She, of course, especially concerned with the poultry enterprise account.

The new system of farm records was started by VPI in 1956. A. C. Brown's farm was selected as pilot farm for a two-year period.

This system is a method of farm record keeping whereby you record your items of farm income and expense on special forms supplied by my office. These forms are mailed to me at the end of the month, are reviewed by the Agent and then mailed to the VPI Computing Center.

This program provides a systematic approach that permit you to maintain an accurate, complete, and up-to-date farm record, with relatively little effort.

You may ask, "What do I get back in terms of an analysis of my farm business?" First, this record is designed to analyze and is not generally used for filing income tax returns, since your system of tax filing may of necessity be different from this system. Second, every three months you receive an accumulated summary by various expense and income accounts. At the end of the year, a business analysis is made, which includes various efficiency factors on your farm.

AH REGISTERED BREEDING STOCK

Last week, on one of my many trips around the county, I stopped in to see Willie Padon. Willie is the proud owner of an exceptional fine Yorkshire gilt he received through Sears, Roebuck Pig Chain.

Willie is doubly proud now since the little lady presented him with a fine litter of pigs. These pigs are now ready to wean, and Willie is anxious to pass on his good fortune to others. He is offering these boars and gilts for sale at very reasonable prices. Any pig sold for breeding stock Willie will register them at no extra cost.

The foundation blood lines of these pigs is from the finest in the East. Five years ago, the parent stock was purchased from Brunswick Farm, one of the East's finest Yorkshire herds. Each year the five best gilts from the five best litters are selected to pass on to the next years five members. To match these gilts, the best boars available are purchased to give you the finest in breeding stock.

Stop by and see Willie and his pigs. He lives just off Route 615, between Barnes' Store and Camp Pendleton.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN

After the Christmas season, it is a good time to do your soil sampling for the 1961 crop year. Many thousands of dollars can be made by proper fertilizing and liming of crop land and pastures. Choosing the proper analysis of fertilizer to meet the crop and soil needs can be correctly done through the use of a soil sample of the field in question. Time spent sampling soil is not a cost. It results in more net profit.

In 1960, over 1000 soil samples were taken in Princess Anne County. I wonder if there will be more in 1961. You know that you can't read in the dark, so how can you fertilize properly without knowing your soil needs.

Soil samples boxes are free from my office. Write for or drop by the office for your supply.

SHEEP JOBS THIS MONTH

No animal will give greater response to good management than a sheep. The average sheep flock will return $2.00 an hour for labor or the highest labor return for either beef cattle or hogs. Most of the five hours of labor required per year will be during the winter around lambing time when labor is usually available.

The following are some of the more important jobs for January: (1) Keep ewes with lambs separate from those that have not lambed. Feed ewes with lambs 11 pounds of grain per day with hay. (2) In large flocks, it will pay to separate ewes with twin lambs from those with singles for better feeding. (3) Mark twin ewe lambs from good milking ewes for possible flock replacements. (4) Dock and castrate lambs before two weeks of age. (5) If a ewe loses her lambs, transfer a twin lamb that is not doing well to her. (6) Use small grain pasture and creep feed lambs.

Trees, trees, trees, everywhere. From the top of Virginia's highest mountain to sea level are trees. And the king of trees is the Pine Tree.

The tall "Lonsome Pine" brings to mind romance, in its scenic beauty, homes, furniture, and paper from its lengthy logs, and seed from its cones.

Virginia has state forest covered with pine trees, corporations own large tracts of land crowded with the rich natural beauty of the pine, farmers have small woodlots harvested each year so that the pine now becomes a farm crop.

You may own one of these, but maybe you are only the "land baron" of one acre. But, surrounding your lot and framing "Man's Castle" are Pine Trees. Beautiful Pine trees that provide shade from the hot summer sun, and provide a never ending windbreak from the icy winds off the Atlantic.

Pine trees are a luxury to some, and an essential part of the livelihood for others, and crucial for the continued safeguard of our children's soil and water.

Luxury, yes, because the Pine Tree is a beautiful plant. It plays a major role in the landscaping of many of our county homes. Wouldn't it almost seem silly to cut one of these Pine trees. Yet, in the other areas, Pine trees must be harvested. What feeling of pride to know that "out there in them them woods" grows a gold mine. Yes, I know about that Pine Tree Gold Mine, because it helped finance this one's college days.

When you cut one pine tree, does another take its place? Or, is it crowded out by its older brothers of the forest who are rather shiftless and one of little or no economical value.

Did you ever plant a pine tree, several trees, an acre, or a whole forest of pine trees? Regardless, of the size of your planting it is something to be proud of. Pine trees have always been an important part of our economy. Let's keep it that way. Plant Pine Trees.

Pine trees will soon be available from the Virginia Division of Forestry. The cost is $4.50 per 1,000 trees, and that's a lot of trees. Orders are filled on first

News for Veterans

Beneficiaries (widows, minor orphans of veterans, and non-service disabled war veterans) of Veterans Administration pensions will receive with the December 1960 checks the annual income questionnaire with instructions as to their preparation. I understand that Virginia beneficiaries whose files are in Washington received their forms with the November checks.

As usual, the completed reports should be returned to the VA within a month, not later than January 31, 1961, so as to avoid discontinuance of the checks. As in the past, also, the questionnaire will be in the form of a punched card to be processed through tabulating machines upon its return to the VA. Care must be taken that the card is not bent or mutilated so as to prevent its passing through the machines. Creasing, stapling, or otherwise defacing the card will only result in delay of the checks.

My office is prepared to help any person who wants aid or advice in filling out these questionnaires. Inquiries should be directed to: Thomas A. Moore, Area Director, Division of War Veterans Claims, 203 East City Hall Ave., Norfolk 10, Virginia.

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest from former servicemen and their families:

Q.—Before the new pension law went into effect, I was getting pension from the VA as a disabled World War I veteran. This September I received a bequest which will put my income for this year above the legal limit. When I again become eligible to receive pension may I return to the old system of payment or must I come under the new law?

A.—You may continue to receive payments under the old law, so long as you tell the VA immediately of this excess income you have received. To protect yourself in your right to get pension under the old law later on, do not wait until the end of the year to report income to the VA.

Q.—A neighbor of ours, a veteran holding GI insurance, has been hospitalized for some months and another person has been handling the payment of his insurance premiums for him. Does that person have the right to make any change in the way the premiums are paid, or to modify the beneficiaries of the policy in any way?

A.—He definitely does not. The policyholder himself is the only one in a case like this who can make any changes affecting premiums or the payment of proceeds to beneficiaries.

Q.—In talking with other veterans I get the impression not everyone understands that compensation and pension are two different things. Will you define each kind of payment, as it applies to living veterans?

A.—Compensation is payable to eligible veterans whose disabilities are DUE to service. Pension is payable only to eligible veterans whose total and permanent disabilities are NOT DUE to service.

Q.—May a veteran change his Korean GI Bill program of training if his progress in his present course has not been satisfactory?

A.—He may, provided he shows that the lack of progress was not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application, and if he has not changed his program prior to that time.

(Veterans living in or near Norfolk, Va., who wish further help about their various benefits should write or visit the VA Office at 217 Post Office Bldg., in Norfolk.)

come, first serve basis. A crew of two men can hand plant 1,000 or more trees per day. Spacing of 6 1/2 feet require 1,000 seedlings per acre. The Division of Forestry will provide for the loan of tree planting bars.

Pine Tree seedlings should be ordered now in order to ensure your seedlings. Orders must be submitted on an official "Tree Seedling Order". These forms may be secured from my office at Princess Anne, or you may fill out the form below and send it to me for your seedling order form. Artist Must Transform From Reality to Symbol in Painting

When an artist sets about the painting of a religious scene he is faced with an almost insurmountable problem, for he must transform manifestations of the Deity into visible symbols. Christian painters have solved this problem in a multitude of ways but perhaps none more interestingly than the Flemish painters of the 15th Century who developed what might be called a "reality-symbolic" manner.

The Virginia Museum of Fine Arts' "Annunciation," painted by an unknown artist between 1470 and 1480 and purchased through the Williams Fund, is an excellent example of the Flemish conflict between, and the synthesis of, realism and symbolism.

The realism is everywhere apparent. The room itself is a faithful representation of a 15th Century Flemish interior. Even today it is possible to find floors of the same pattern surviving in old buildings in the area or windows of the type before which the Virgin is kneeling. All the details of the room have been observed with an accurate and reportorial eye.

In the midst of all this realism, however, there is an enormous amount of symbolism as well. The landscape itself is a glimpse into infinity from the confines of the room. The lily in the foreground and its green vase both symbolize presence is a symbol for he is both the perfect purity of the Virgin, the symbol of redemption and the Archangel Gabriel's very Chief Messenger of God. His Utter-

Virginia's Art

By Leslie Cheek, Jr.
Director, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts

The Virginia Museum is celebrating its 25th birthday. In 1935, in the nation's first state-sponsored art museum, it was given a mission to promote the enjoyment of the throughout Virginia. Today it is one of the leading non-metropolitan museums in the world. Its pioneer friends visit the state and towns of Virginia, and traveling exhibitions go routinely to schools, libraries, clubs, colleges and are centers throughout the Commonwealth. The nationally known director of the state museum, Leslie Cheek, Jr., describes the great masterpieces of art in the museum's collection—the cultural heritage of all Virginians. This is one of a series of articles which will appear each week in this newspaper.

The Jaycees have as one of their projects, taking under privileged children Christmas shopping. The children must buy a gift for someone else rather than themselves. The tour will wind up with a Christmas party for the children.

LAKE SHORES GARDEN CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Lakes Shores Garden Club held its annual Christmas party Monday night, December 12 at the home of Mrs. William George.

In lieu of a potpourri, each member brought a gift for a patient at the City Hospital. These will be delivered along with a Christmas arrangement for each bed.

The erection of the new Princess Anne Memorial Hospital was discussed and the membership voted to pledge $25.00 a year for three years.

THE FOLLOWING WERE AWARDED GOLD RIBBONS FOR THEIR OUTSTANDING ARRANGEMENTS:

Mrs. G. H. Hamilton and Mrs. C. E. Smith.

They will stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Simpson at Chesapeake Beach, Rev. and Mrs. James De Foe's at Lake View View Shores and Chaplain and Mrs. Peter Mc Phee's in Thoroughgood for their progressive dinner.

Tuesday, December 27 the Woman's Missionary Union will hold their Christmas Party at the home of Mrs. George Williams, 2022 Sea View Ave., Chesapeake Beach.

On Christmas morning the Adult Choir of the church will sing five or six Christmas numbers. The theme of the service will be that of First Christmas Music.

The Bayside Junior Women's Club held their Christmas Party December 6 at 7:00 p.m. at Frankie's Restaurant, Chesapeake Beach.

There was a Christmas tree and caroling. Santa was even present and distributed gifts to the members.

Ten of the club members will go to Williamsburg on December 17 and take gifts to twenty ladies in the Eastern State Hospital who have no families.

The Bayside Junior club assisted in the collection of 147 pints of blood at the recent bloodmobile which was held at Little Creek.

Mrs. R. L. Bailey, Mrs. J. Powell and Mrs. R. L. Ingram were on the Bloodmobile program.

Mrs. R. L. Bailey assisted the Red Cross in serving guests at Ft. Story for the recently held Military Manuvers.

Mrs. H. R. Pierce and Mrs. Albert Mackay were welcomed as new members.

It was reported that the club collected $96.95 in the recently held Muscular Dystrophy Drive.

One of the main projects of the club, the establishment of a Girl's Club, for Girls in the Bayside area, is having difficulty getting underway because of lack of a building to hold the club in. The club is not in a position to rent a building but would be willing to pay taxes and improve same for the use of it.

Anybody got an old building, cottage, or garage that the club could use?

The club members have once again this year volunteered their services at the gift wrapping booth at the Gator Club, Little Creek Amphibious Base and are busy wrapping Christmas gifts for the servicemen.

BAYLAKE METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The three church choirs, the Junior choir, the Chapel choir and the Chancel Choir under the direction of Mr. Freeland Cook will present a Candlelight Christmas Service Sunday night, December 18 at 7:00 p.m.

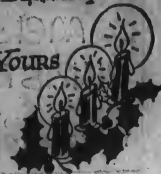

The program for Christmas morning will be the regular Sunday Schedule.

The sale of Christmas trees and other decorations by the Adult Fellowship is continuing on the church grounds each night.

The Junior High M.Y.F. will be caroling Friday night, Dec. 23.

Members Lease Cavalier Club

Members of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club will lease the club from the new owners for a year for $48,000. E. Ashley Haycox said Tuesday.

Haycox spoke at a meeting at the clubhouse called to name new officers.

Rufus S. Kight, secretary-treasurer, said that representatives of the club will meet next fall with the Southwestern Development Co., the firm which bought the property last spring from Cavalier-Jefferson Corp. At that time it will be decided whether or not the members will buy or continue to lease the club from the new owners.

According to the terms of the agreement between the new owners and the Cavalier Corp., the golf course can't be sold for a 10-year period. Kight said that guests at the Cavalier Hotel will be permitted to use the golf course according to the terms of the lease.

New officers elected were: Pinckney S. Cook, president; W. F. Ferrell, vice president; R. S. Kight, secretary-treasurer; and W. H. Terry, yacht secretary.

Directors are Haycox, W. L. Pool, Marvin Marshall, Dr. Edward Myers, James Hunt, R. E. Davis, William M. Snider, L. C. Hanebrough, Ray Cascott, Tom Oxenham and Everett Fairbank.

Cook appointed these officers of the yacht division:

Charles J. A. Kinnach, commodore; Raymond A. Cascott, vice commodore; Roy C. Ivey, rear commodore; and O. Jennings Cain, fleet captain.

Doorway Contest Winners Listed

The Council of Garden Clubs announced the winners of the 1960 Doorway Contest on Saturday, December 24th. Council President Mrs. John W. Field presented the silver engraved awards and the red and gold ribbons Saturday afternoon.

Judges started in various areas on Thursday, returning to the same areas on Friday for further appraisals. These ten judges of County and city areas submitted their choices to the five final judges who visited all of the area selections on Saturday morning. Judging this year took place both at night and in the day. Final judging was made only after close scrutiny of the individual doorways. "This was one of the most extensive contests the Council has ever promoted," said Mrs. Field. "The judges also noted with pleasure that this year the decoration arena was a return of the traditional doorway wreath."

Winners in the Most Original Category were: First—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Burton, North Bay Shore Drive, displaying a large packaged Nile's red seal accompanied by reindeer; doorway greens and swag highlighted by little elves completed the scene. Second Place—Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stephens, Crockett Rd., Birchwood, using a six-branch candelabra set in a large present of Christmas greens. Third Place—Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hurst, Chesapeake Trail, Lynnhaven.

Most Beautiful First Place was the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Limroth, 211 Oriole Drive, Birdneck. The Limroth home presented a complete picture of Christmas using several small green Christmas trees highlighted by red balls and ribbon. Second Place went to Mr. and Mrs. William Gresham, Sandy Valley Rd., Chesapeake Colony, using a large green magnolia doorway tree with a focal point of gilded cones. Third Place—Mr. and Mrs. John Traxew, 205 Linkhorn Rd., Woodhurst.

The Best Traditional Doorway was the home of the Joseph O. Goodspeed, 404, Princess Anne Hills. This doorway highlighted a beautiful wreath of traditional greens and cones with complementing wags and cones on the entrance stairs. Second Place, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Miller, Linkhorn Drive, Linkhorn, displaying Epiphyllum Trees of greens and frosted fruits, the cones blending with the Miller home. Third Place—Mr.

Joy Fund Here Ends On Successful Note For Needy

The 1960 Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Joy Fund campaign ended successfully Friday when the final bushel basket of food was delivered.

Over 40 Christmas baskets were delivered to needy families in the area Friday by members of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the drive. Earlier in the week the Jaycees distributed over 200 baskets of food, toys and hundreds of pounds of clothing at its Toy Bank Headquarters in the old A&P building on Atlantic avenue.

Each basket was filled with a picnic ham, canned goods, bread and other staple items, fruit and candy. Toys given away included 25 bicycles, tricycles, wagons, toy tractors, toy automobiles, an untold number of dolls, and stacks of books, games, and other smaller toys.

Toys and items of clothing were donated by residents of the beach and surrounding Princess Anne County. Over $600 was collected in monetary gifts. That money will be used to help cover the $1,700 spent for the food baskets, Jaycee President Gene Joyner said.

James Crumlish, drive chairman, said the campaign was a joint success. "It couldn't have been possible without the help and aid of others," he said.

Among those groups and individuals assisting were: The Virginia Beach Fire Co. members who rebuilt and painted toys; the Jaycees, wives of Jaycee members, who gathered dolls collected at schools, refinished them and dressed them; the Boy Scout troops which collected toys and clothing; area newspapers and radio stations which publicized the drive; and the more than 50 Jaycees involved in the campaign.

Jehovah's Witnesses Prepare for Beach Meeting January 6-8

H. L. Brissett, traveling representative of the Watchtower Bible & Tract Society and district supervisor over the southern states of Jehovah's Witnesses will arrive here Saturday, Jan. 6, to assist the host congregation in making final arrangements for the semi-annual circuit assembly which convenes in contact with Jehovah's Witnesses the same day of my landing in America and what I heard made me give up any idea of devoting myself to music. I felt constrained to study the Bible instead. The more I studied the more I became convinced that the sensible thing and, indeed, the only thing to do is to "seek the Kingdom first" as Matthew 6:33 says.

Brissett is a full-time minister. By appointment of the Watchtower Society he has served as congregation overseer in Pittsburgh, Pa. and Brooklyn, N.Y. In 1952 he came south to engage in circuit work visiting in circuit fashion 10-20 congregations to offer a week of special assistance and training every six months. A few months later he was assigned the district work and has served 10 states in this capacity of service. During the past five years he has traveled extensively abroad visiting England, Italy, France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany and Luxembourg.

As district supervisor Brissett travels from circuit convention to circuit convention in his assigned territory, now covering nine states, remaining one week with the host city congregation to work with congregation members and overseers in their house-to-house ministry and to oversee convention arrangements, which is his purpose next week here in Virginia Beach.

Brissett will be in charge of the convention. Ivan L. Maxwell, circuit supervisor, will assist him. Both will appear on program each day.

"Convention Center will be transformed into a huge Kingdom Hall," Brissett says, "where Jehovah's Witnesses and their friends will assemble to be taught by Jehovah by receiving Bible knowledge of His Divine will for our day. The program will consist of inspirational talks, interspersed with skits and demonstrations presented by various ministers throughout the circuit, he said.

The keynote address will be Sunday, January 8, at 3:00 p.m. by Mr. Brissett on the subject: "Is God Interested in The Affairs of Men?" He extends a personal invitation to the public to attend all sessions.

Melvin G. Chittum, interior communications electrician, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Roseboro of 222 High Point and Virginia Beach, returned to Norfolk, Va., Dec. 1, aboard the Coast Guard ship USCGC Spigot Grove following amphibious helicopter training exercises with Amphibious Squadron 10 in the Caribbean. During the exercises, the Spigot Grove visited Kingston, Jamaica.

Local Posters In National TB Contest

Six posters made by Virginia junior and senior high school students were selected for entry in the national "Art Against TB" poster project sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association, Jack Woodson, Virginia's honorary chairman of the 1960 Christmas Seal campaign and chairman of the judging jury, announced today. The winners were: Jean Bryant and Sara Milliken, Harry A. Hunt, Junior High School, Portsmouth; Junious Hayes, West End High School, Chase City; Mary Ann Neal, Brunswick High School, Brunswick; Beverly Ann Newsome, Princess Anne County Training School; Nannette Sumpter, Albert H. Hill Junior High School, Richmond.

Woodson said that fifty-eight entries were submitted in the poster contest. Entries could be built around two themes: Fight TB with a Checkup and Christmas Seals Fight TB. Winning posters came from small country as well as from large city schools.

In selecting the Virginia winners, the posters were selected on the basis of clarity, effectiveness, appropriateness to the theme and artistic value. The national judging will take place early in January.

Other members of the jury were: Milton Hull, art director of the Baughman Printing Company and Franklin Shepperson, director of advertising and art of the Standard Paper Manufacturing Company, both of Richmond.

Admiral Hughes, War Hero, Dies Suddenly; Area Saddened

A Regular Mass was said in Norfolk Tuesday for Rear Adm. Francis M. Hughes, who died Friday of a heart attack. He was commander of the 5th Naval District.

The brief service was held in Our Lady of Victory Chapel at the Norfolk Naval Station. Nearly 600 friends and relatives attended.

After the service the body was flown from Norfolk Naval Air Station to Baltimore. A graveside service was held at Annapolis at 3 p.m. by Rear Adm. George A. Rosco, chief of Navy chaplains.

At Annapolis platoons of Navy and Marine Corps personnel stood at attention in graying snow as a seven-man Marine honor guard fired three volleys and a bugler sounded Taps. The Navy Band sounded appropriate honors as the flag-draped casket was rolled from the hearse.

Secretary of the Navy William B. Franke, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, Chief of Naval Operations; Adm. Robert Lee Dennison, Atlantic Fleet Commander; and Rear Adm. John F. Davidson, academy superintendent, were among Navy dignitaries attending the services.

Honorable pallbearers included Adm. Burke; Adm. Dennison; Vice Adm. Robert B. Pirie, deputy chief of Naval Operations (air); Vice Adm. R. W. Rubie, retired; Vice Adm. W. V. O'Regan, retired; Vice Adm. Alvin D. Chandler, retired; Rear Adm. John G. Crommelin, retired; and Lt. Cmdr. Zeus Soucek.

The body was sent to the Ueber Funeral Home, Slippery Rock, Pa., where funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m.

Avoid "Holi-Daze" Advice Of Police Chief Johnson

"Avoid Holi-Daze and enjoy the Holidays,"

This was the advice given Virginia Beach motorists and pedestrians today by Chief Reeves E. Johnson.

Johnson characterized holi-daze as a mixture that constitutes an intangible holiday hazard.

"Holiday hazards" is the December traffic theme of Virginia Beach Police and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

"Holi-Daze," Chief Johnson said, "is made up of last-minute shopping, office parties, home celebrations, distracting holiday sights and sounds, crowded streets and hurrying pedestrians and motorists."

"No one of these items itself can be called a holiday hazard," he said, "but put them all together and they result in heedlessness that makes both motorists and pedestrians more careless than usual."

HOTEL FIRE, ELECTION HIGHLIGHTS OF YEAR

A big real estate transaction, a sale of a huge bond issue, a spectacular hotel fire and a national election highlighted the news picture during 1960 in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

Reviewing the year as it nears a close these were the news items that held the spotlight during 1960 in this area. A review of the Sun-News file for 1960 marks the year as one filled with its share of news.

The real estate transaction was the sale of the Cavalier Hotel properties, which had been rumored for months. The spectacular fire was the one that destroyed the venerable Trafon-Chalfonte Hotel in late November.

The important election was the presidential election that found Senator John F. Kennedy and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic nominees for president and vice-president, the winners. Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County both gave the winners a comfortable majority.

The important bond issue was the sale of more than $200,000,000 in bonds to finance the gigantic Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel project, which is now underway. Here is a breakdown of the news highlights here for 1960:

Beverly Jo O'Hagan Weds W. C. Stewart

The marriage of Miss Beverly Jo O'Hagan and Wynant Clair Stewart took place Dec. 18 at 4 p.m. in Chest Methodist Church.

The Rev. A. E. Acy, pastor, officiated.

The bride's parents are Lt. Cmdr. Joseph Elliott O'Hagan, USCG (ret.) and Mrs. O'Hagan of Princess Anne. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Frank C. Stewart and the late Mr. Stewart.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of silk tulle and lace with bouffant skirt accented by lace panel with formal chapel train. Her finger-ring veil of silk tulle was arranged from a pearl trim. She carried a cascade of brides roses, stephanotis and white pompanos.

Mrs. Jean E. Sparrow was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Stern of South Norfolk and Miss Barbara Carmichael of Portsmouth.

The bridegroom has as his best man his brother, George F. Stewart. The groomsmen are Robert A. Desouteaux of Norfolk, Robert M. Summerlin of New York and Joseph E. O'Hagan, brother of the bride of Princess Anne.

A reception was held in the social hall of the church. After a wedding trip to Washington, the couple are living at 1245 Westover Avenue.

Miss Abdill To Marry Mr. Nevin

Mrs. Everett Woolman Abdill announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Charlotte May Abdill, to George Miller Nevin of Falls Church.

Miss Abdill is the daughter of the late Capt. Abdill, USN, a member of the U.S. Naval Academy, Class of 1924. She and her mother moved to the beach last January from the Washington, D.C. area.

Miss Abdill was graduated from McLean High School in McLean. She is a junior at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mr. Nevin will be graduated from the University of Virginia in electrical engineering in June. He is a member of Trigon engineering fraternity.

An early summer wedding is planned.

Debutantes Honored At Tea Dance

Mr. and Mrs. James Nicol Bell Jr. of Virginia Beach, Judge and Mrs. Thomas Morgan Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willing Boyd Ruffin of Norfolk, entertained Saturday, from 4 to 7 p.m., at a tea dance at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club.

The dance was given in honor of their debutante daughters, Misses Fendler Thomas Bell, Mary Cary Johnston and Lella Garnett Ruffin.

The bandstand in the ballroom was banked with magnolia leaves and on either side was a large Christmas tree surrounded by many colored Christmas packages. The buffet table was decorated with Christmas greens and two Christmas trees, made of red apples. Small tables around the ballroom were arranged with white candles in hurricane lamps trimmed with holly.

Music for dancing was played by Tommy Gwaltney and his orchestra.

The guests of honor were dressed in red cocktail length gowns and carried bouquets of holly. Miss Bell wore a dress of deep red tulle with a full skirt made with four wide unpressed pleats and Miss Ruffin wore Christmas red brocade satin trimmed with a front bow at the high waistline.

Three hundred guests attended.

Arlington spent the Christmas holiday weekend with Mrs. Perkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brown at their home on 62nd St. Their son, H. Webb Brown Jr., a student at Campbell College in North Carolina, also is visiting his parents for the holidays.

Miss Florence Lefkaine is spending the holidays in Petersburg with her brother in law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Zimmerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Darden III and their young daughter, who have been living in Blacksburg, are spending the holiday season with Mr. Darden's parents on 54th St. They will now make their home at Virginia Beach.

W. George Maser III of Richmond is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Norfleet at their home on 53rd St.

THROUGH ALL TIME

Yesterday is gone. We tear its page from our calendar, for we live in the present.

But often we look back with nostalgia to the many yesterdays which make up the past. In a different mood we plan for the uncertain days ahead, sometimes filling them with happy expectations, sometimes with anxious forebodings.

Where is God in this time pattern of our lives?

Is He in the past alone, incarnate two thousand years ago in the great Teacher of Nazareth? Or does He walk with us through the present, our Companion each day? Does He remove all fear from the future with His promise, the promise of the living Christ, "And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world?"

Come to Church and learn to know this Christ who is "the same yesterday, today, and forever."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Boy Can't Make Up His Mind

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am nineteen. I have been going with 'Bill' for several years. He is four years older than I, has a good job, and we are both out of school. I love him and believe that he loves me. But he sometimes says that he isn't sure. This, of course, is when he gets mad at me over 'some little nothing' that doesn't amount to anything. He will get mad and I won't see or hear from him for a few days. He also seems to give me the impression he considers me still 'a child' and perhaps a bit too unsophisticated for him. Could this be true and should I marry him?"

OUR ANSWER: We're inclined to doubt it. Our impression is that a man who can't make up his mind whether he loves a girl is certainly not very sure of himself. Love, or affection, is not turned off and on like tap water. If we love someone, we don't love them on Sundays and Mondays and not on Tuesday and the other days of the week. We love every period.

Take the matter of food, for instance. Have you ever heard anyone say, "I love apple pie—but not on Fridays. It always disagrees with me on a Friday?" Seems rather silly, doesn't it?

Another thing to consider is that it is a sign of immaturity when a person gets mad over "nothing." We're not talking about those rare individuals who are always looking for something to be "mad" about, but about the apparently perfectly composed individual who can smile through the worst of storms and then go off the handle for no reason at all. There is, of course, a reason, always, when someone gets mad. But, quite often, the thing that apparently displeases them is not at all the thing that upsets them in the first place.

Summing it up, marriage is "for better or for worse" and not just for Sundays and Mondays.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORD, ST.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Be There For The Holidays

"Joe wasn't there for Christmas!"

You can picture mother standing there, Joe's letter in her hand, in the midst of Christmas holidays.

The disappointment is clearly marked on her face, is mirrored in the eyes of dad, finds a reflection in the sad expressions of the others.

Joe never missed a Christmas before and the disappointment was easy to understand. The annual family gathering wasn't the same without his presence.

But it could be worse. And chances are it will be worse in some American homes this Holiday season.

They are the homes where Joe's absence won't be told by a letter . . . where more likely a hurried telephone call or a grim-faced policeman will bring the sad news that Joe will spend this Holiday in some hospital.

They are the homes made sad by the outcome of a winter traffic accident . . . an accident that in many cases might have been avoided.

It takes care to drive safely under winter conditions. Winter driving calls forth every bit of the driver's attention, all his experience, all his driving know-how.

There are six rules that may help. All winter drivers would do well to remember them and to practice them.

Get the "feel" of the road. Adjust speed to road and weather conditions. Keep the windshield and windows clear. Use tire chains for severe snow and ice conditions. Brake rapidly and intermittently to stop. Follow other vehicles at a safe distance.

The rules are no guarantee of safety. But they can go a long way towards making sure the winter driver will be among those present . . . that he will get home for The Holidays.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

CAPT. NORMAN NEW

Capt. Hugh W. Norman will assume new duties at Ft. Story as Commanding Officer of the 40th Transportation Company, Captain Norman is scheduled to relieve Capt. Richard E. Criner who is soon to depart for duty in Vietnam. Norman's last assignment was in Korea as Battalion Communications Officer, 23rd Transportation Battalion (Inf. Div.), 1st Cavalry Division. He reports that this is the "only front line Transportation Battalion in the US Army today."

Active duty for the Captain started in 1943 at Ft. Lee, Va., as an Enlisted Man. During WW II he served in the European Theater of Operations with the 344th T. Harbortraft Co. Other tours included Guam in 1945-50 as a 1st Sergeant.

Capt. Norman was commissioned September 1949 in the Transportation Corps as a reserve officer. He came on Active Duty as an officer in January 1950 and has served in that capacity since then.

Capt. and Mrs. Norman, the former Pauline Darby, have one child, Larry, aged 9. They reside in post.

FT. STORY SGT. MENTIONED

ON ALL-ARMY FB SQUAD

Chuck Robinson, Ft. Eustis end, last week was given honorable mention on the All-Army Football squad.

ROBINSON, A Sergeant in the 14th

Battalion's 417th Transportation Company, was placed on Special Duty from Ft. Story to Eustis last August at the start of the football season. He made first string end for the Wheels, playing both on the offensive and defensive teams. In the ten games played by the team, the Wheels racked up a total of 208 points against their opponents 170. Of the 203 points, Robinson contributed 12 TD's and 3 extra points for a total of 74 pts.

Capt. Dan Tassell, Wheels' Head Coach, stated that Chuck "was one of our most valuable players, a fine athlete, has tremendous speed, displayed outstanding attitude and team spirit, and is a good leader."

Three other fine players who were on the 1960 team also were from Ft. Story: Al Warden, 40th Transportation Company, Bobby Redman, 417th T. Co. and George Burdette, 508th T. Co.

SGT. MAJ. DEEGAN RETIRES

AFTER 20 YEARS

Sgt. Major James R. Deegan will retire at Ft. Story next month after 20 years of service.

New Kensington, Pa., was where S/Maj. Deegan began his military career in 1940. He served in Panama during WW II and with the 40th Infantry Division from 1952 to 1953 in Korea.

S/Maj. Deegan plans to marry Margie H. Taylor of Piqueland, S.C., and reside at 405 Ft. Worth Ave.

"COURAGE, BROTHER, DON'T SLEEP"

Jerry Lewis On Beach Screen

As if the world weren't topsy-turvy enough, Jerry Lewis takes an old reliable like the age-old favorite legend of Cinderella and turns it into a film story called "Cinderella," a Technicolor comedy with music, which is tailored to his inimitable talent and which will arrive at the Beach Theatre.

Produced by Jerry Lewis for Paramount release, "Cinderella" co-stars Ed Wynn as the Fairy Godfather, Judith Anderson as the wicked stepmother, Henry Silva and Robert Hutton as the mean stepbrothers and Anna Maria Alberghetti in the role of "The Princess." As is immediately obvious, only the stepmother retains her original sex, but there are many other changes in this modernized version of the old fairy tale.

When Cinderella goes to the Ball he does some fancy stepping to the music of Count Basie and his World Renowned Band, while the singing of Joe Williams. And he doesn't get there in any kind of a pumpkin transformed into a coach. No sir! His bicycle is miraculously changed into a 475,000 custom-built automobile of pearl essence and 24-carat gold trim, equipped with every known electronic and radar gadget imaginable. Cinderella never had the so good! And movie fans will agree that Jerry Lewis never had a better frame in which to display his particular brand of hilarious lunacy than "Cinderella."

TRACY, MARCH, KELLY AT BEACH THEATRE

Stanley Kramer's "Inherit the Wind" which has been widely acclaimed by leading motion picture critics wherever it played will open at the Beach Theatre. The United Artists release stars Spencer Tracy, Fredric March and Gene Kelly.

Produced and directed by Kramer based on the Broadway smash by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, "Inherit the Wind" was inspired by the famed Scopes "Monkey Trial" of 1925 in Dayton, Tennessee.

Tracy portrays the defense attorney, a character patterned after Clarence Darrow, who represented a young school teacher accused of teaching the theory of evolution in violation of a state law. March is cast as the prosecutor, similar to William Jennings Bryan, who traveled to Dayton to represent the state. March was honored with the "Best Actor" award at the recent Berlin Film Festival for his portrayal in "Inherit the Wind."

Kelly is seen as a reporter reminiscent of H. L. Mencken, who covered the original courtroom proceedings and dubbed the case the "Monkey Trial."

WHISPERING PINES GARDEN CLUB

On December 15, the Whispering Pines Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Lewis E. Smith, 929 22nd Street, Virginia Beach.

Mrs. J. A. Horlen was elected to the office of recording secretary to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Edward Barco. The club voted to give $5.00 to the Joy Fund at Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Richard Dyer and Mrs. Avery W. Lawrence and Robert E. Lee, "Inherit the Wind" was inspired by the famed Scopes "Monkey Trial" of 1925 in Dayton, Tennessee.

By DAN HALLIGAN

(Ed. Note: Dan Halligan will be glad to answer questions submitted by teen-agers and children. Send them to him at Box 120, Williston, N. D. For personal replies, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)

Dear Dan: I run around with kids a few years older than I am and so do a few of my close friends. These kids are bright and can think of some pretty neat things to do.

My parents don't think I should hang around with them but they're a lot of fun. What do you think I should do? Wondering at 13.

Dear Dan: As long as I'm okay with my landlady, it's okay with me. However, I suggest you keep your door open and don't let your boy friend stay any longer than is reasonably necessary. Okay?

Dear Dan: I've been invited to a formal dance at our high school next month and would like to know if I should buy my own corsage or will my date bring me one? My parents say he'll buy one. Is that true?—Anousis.

Dear Dan: The boy should buy you a corsage and I'm sure he will. You by the way, should buy your date a boutonniere, a flower for his lapel. A carnation will do fine.

Dear Dan: My father is being transferred in his job to an out-of-state city next month and we've got a problem. He's already rented a house for us and wants my mother and I to move there. I'm a high school senior and will only have five months of school remaining and I want to stay here and graduate with my class.

I guess the big reason my parents don't want me to stay with a friend is because I might get into trouble or might not study or something like that. There isn't any reason for them to worry but try to tell them that. My buddy's parents said I could stay with them and I'm sure we would make out fine. What do you think I should be able to do?—Walt.

Dear Dan: I'm afraid I'll have to answer your question as a parent and as a parent, I say your place is with your mother and father. I realize what it means for you to graduate with your high school class but remember, as soon as you graduate your life will be different and changed and you won't be the "little boy" your folks still consider you. Chances are you may be going away to college or into military service and your parents can't be blamed for wanting to hang onto you as long as they can.

Your solution, of course, is okay but I favor you staying with your family and not with a friend's family.

Dear Dan: Our home room teacher is having a birthday soon and several of us have been talking about giving her a present. Would this be in good taste?—Shirley.

Dear Shirley: It certainly would be and the present would make the biggest hit possible if each student chipped in something. Anything from a slice to a quarter per student will buy a nice present from the entire class.

Dear Dan: I have a small apartment with a kitchenette in a boarding house and would like to invite my boy friend in some evening for coffee. I can use the living room whenever I wish but usually there are three or four other boarders sitting around and you can't have any privacy. May I invite my boy friend in for a few minutes?—Loretta.

The National Outlook

What happens to the price of securities on the New York Stock Exchange is of fundamental importance for the three following reasons.

First, many millions of individuals own securities directly and many more millions own them indirectly through pension and mutual funds, and other investment organizations.

Second, the behavior of the market has a widespread psychological effect upon business men and the public at large.

Third, many persons believe that the stock market is a correct measure of the business trend. The record does not support this contention, but the belief persists.

Recently the market has been having a rather tough time. What may one conclude as to the future?

As usual we shall use the Dow Jones Industrial average in discussing the market. This is the most widely used measure of stock prices, and it also is the basis of the so-called Dow theory. This theory is accepted as a guide for investment by only a limited number of persons, but it proves correct so much of the time that it has a decided influence upon the market itself.

The high of the market as measured by the Dow Jones Industrial average was last January 5, at 695—and that was an all-time high. At that level stock prices obviously were vulnerable. The yield on high grade stocks was well below that on the best bonds, and prices were at a very high multiple of earnings. A decline was in order and it came, not as a continuous trend, but persistently. By March 8, the average was 669. Then came a substantial rally.

Now, under the Dow theory, a low must be tested. That took place in May and the previous low held in July the low again was tested and it held. The low again was tested and it held.

Usually when the market makes a low and that figure holds under a test, it means that we are ready for a sustained advance. With two tests that failed to penetrate the previous low, it appeared we certainly should move forward. But this time it was not to be. In September the market went through the previous low, and in October still another new bottom was reached. We are now in the position, therefore, of having a low which has not been tested. Almost certainly it will be in time.

Does this mean that an investor should sell his securities with the hope of buying them back at a lower cost, or should he sit on a cash position that he should delay making purchases?

It certainly does not mean this. If one needs some money to offset gains, it is better to shift to cash. If the young man has a car coat, he can travel to school easily. These longer length jackets keep the boys warm even during cold weather.

Look for fall and winter effects made all in one place as well as smooth. Add all appealing ingredients and you will.

Cropped legs are going nautical for the young miss. These can be worn with tapered pants or skirts if they're picked in suitable colors or prints to go with either.

PRINCESS ANNE SCHOOL NEWS

The Cavaliers couldn't seem to get going in the first half and were outscored by Halifax County 46-41 here last week. Halifax County was a standout team in last year's playoffs for the state championship. This was the first of a two-game series to be played between P. A. and Halifax. The Cavaliers will play a visit to South Boston later in the season.

Behind 23-12 at the half, Princess Anne moved within three points during the fourth period. The Cavaliers of Halifax were not to be denied, however, and with the help of good shooting on the foul line went on to win the game. Billy Boyce was high man for Princess Anne with 21 points while Don Smith sank 20 for Halifax County.

Asked earlier this year about hopes for a good wrestling season, coach Dick Harrison said the Cavalier's outlook was only fair. Graduation took a heavy toll and left many weak spots in the team. Then the Cavaliers went through 1960.
 The Singles tournament will be Friday, Dec. 30, 1960, same squad two practice matches whitewashed last opponents. They followed up by posting a 5-0-0 record and Churchland 4-5 in regular matches. In view of these developments even usually cautious Harrison feels there is cause for optimism.

Here's how the squad shapes up:
 Class—
 98 lbs.—David Miller returns from last year and has been impressive so far this season, recording two first period pins in several matches. Falson and Hogg will be trying hard for Miller's berth.
 103 lbs.—John Harrison was second to Jim Crowling in this class last year and is looking better now. Harrison will be kept on his toes by Jenkins.
 112 lbs.—This is an open weight but either Hogg or Kite are expected to fill the position.
 120 lbs.—Gary Miller is the standout in this class. He is the older brother of David, the 98 lb. star. Bill Roberts completes this class.
 127 lbs.—This is a tough class, but Mike Howe must be considered top man. He was second in the state tournament last year and is a good bet for the championship this year. The addition of Harvey Bennett and Frank Shields give added depth to the class.
 133 lbs.—This is also a rough class. Tom Wood will probably start with Ray Almond and Lee Blehm fighting for the position.
 138 lbs.—William Melvin seems to be no one in this class.
 145 lbs.—Greg Tedesco is starting as prospect in this class. Greg lettered last year at Great Bridge and transferred to Princess Anne last summer.
 154 lbs.—Gary Boyd and Eddie Melton figure prominently in this class. Boyd, the number two man in state last year is a strong choice to do at least as good this year.
 165 lbs.—Ronnie Wood is the captain of the 1960-61 Cavalier Wrestling squad. He was second in state last year and is unquestionably the best man in this class.
 175 lbs.—Steve Miller is back from last year and will probably remain in the class this season. Curtis Forbes has moved into this class from a lower weight.
 Heavyweight—James Tarter has been filling this position, but Disprend Harris also long give this

Birdneck Club Holds Christmas Party for Group

The setting for the Christmas Party of the Birdneck Point Garden Club was truly one of Christmas throughout the house of Mrs. R. B. Limroth on Oriole Drive on December 20th. The holiday spirit was very much in evidence with every room decorated.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Limroth were Madeline H. W. Sweetfinger, R. A. Briggs, and C. N. Grubbs. Mrs. Briggs presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. C. N. Grubbs poured for the Christmas buffet.

Guests of the club were Mrs. R. H. Farmer and Mrs. Jeff Hurst. Mrs. Cecil Mears and her committee decorated the Virginia Beach Hospital on Monday, December 19. Plans are being made for doorway decorations to be judged on Dec. 26th and lighting in the Virginia Electric and Power Contest.

The president, Mrs. E. A. Martin presided at a short business meeting followed by the program. Mrs. Robert Wahab introduced the speaker, Mrs. Mary Deal, who gave a delightful informative talk on current Christmas customs. She spoke of popular carols written by Americans, the National Christmas tree of the White House, and the origin of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal.

The meeting closed with group singing of Christmas carols.

P.A. AFRICAN VIOLET SOCIETY HAS MEETING

The Princess Anne African Violet Society met Thursday in the home of Mrs. L. C. Mallory.

White decorations with Madonnas and evergreens gave a Christmas air to the meeting.

The President, Mrs. C. L. Hershberger presided over a short business session.

Honorary membership was bestowed upon two Past Presidents for their outstanding work in the club. Mrs. A. J. Kestales and Mrs. L. C. Mallory.

The displaying and judging of African Violets was omitted to make time for a Christmas program and exchange of gifts.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Frank Klepper who was in charge of the program.

A Christmas story composed by Mrs. Klepper was read.

Several piano selections were played by Mrs. Ripley.

Mrs. S. T. Whitfield read a poem entitled, Your Christmas Guest.

Carols were sung, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Manges.

The meeting was climaxed by the serving of colorful refreshments from a beautiful decorated dining room.

MUSIC CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS MEETING

A varied program of Christmas music was presented to the Virginia Beach Music Club on December 10th at the home of Mrs. Donald Hood. Mrs. M. M. Terrie served as co-hostess.

Mrs. Earle Van Buskirk, Vice-President and Program Chairman, led the group in singing carols, accompanied by Mrs. E. H. Church.

Mrs. Hood sang "Jesus of Nazareth" with Mrs. Terrie at the piano.

Miss Carol Shoemaker sang "Jesus Bambino" accompanied by Mrs. Irene Korte.

Mr. Carol Trant performed "Adoration" on the violin with Mrs. Marian Steinhilber at the piano.

Mrs. Van Buskirk sang "O Holy Night" accompanied by Mrs. Goldsborough Robinson.

Mrs. Terrie sang "I Wonder as I Wander" with Mrs. Steinhilber at the piano.

Punch and coffee were served to the members by Mrs. Robinson, President, and Miss Mary Page Hilliard.

LABOR, CAPITAL, EFFICIENCY

STUDIED ON GRADE A DAIRIES
Are labor and capital needs more—or less—with the conventional stanchion barn still in use on most Grade A dairy farms in Virginia than with the milking parlor-loose housing system?

And when will it pay to shift from the conventional barn to the newer system?

These are among the questions being asked by farmers as labor costs go up and the trend toward larger farms continue. They also are among the questions asked by agricultural economists at Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station in recent intensive study of 24 Grade A dairy farms in Virginia.

R. Lee Champbliss, Jr., project leader for the study and author of the recent report "Labor and Capital Efficiency in Grade A Dairy Barn Operations," points out that if the least-cost method of producing milk is adopted, both the dairyman and the consumer stand to gain.

The 24 farms range in size from about 20 to 200 cows and include farms showing the main variations in type of facilities: (1) stanchion barn with cans, (2) stanchion barn with bulk tank, (3) stanchion barn with bulk tank and pipeline milkers, and (4) milking parlor with loose housing.

The average size herd was 86 cows, of which 71 were milking. About 87 percent of the cows were milking in the winter and 77 percent in the summer. Milk sold per day per cow milked averaged 27.6 pounds in the winter and 29.6 lbs. in the summer.

About 18 man-minutes per day per cow milked were required in dairy chore work during the winter and about 14 man-minutes during the summer. For each 100 lbs. of milk sold, 72 man-minutes of chore labor were required during the winter and 48 man-minutes during the summer. About 14 man-minutes less time were required to produce 100 pounds of milk when a milking parlor was used than when a stanchion barn with cans was used.

On the average farm, about $40,000 was invested in farm buildings, and over $20,000 in buildings and equipment used with the dairy herd. Investment in buildings averaged $545 per cow on farms with stanchion barns, and only $305 per cow on farms with milking parlors and loose housing. The most common number of milking machines operated per man milking was 3, and this number seemed to give the best labor efficiency.

The most commonly cited limitations to expanding the herd were housing facilities and the amount of roughage which could be raised on the farm.

The researchers found that capital efficiency increased as herd size increased. An increase in the number of chore workers employed per 10 cows milked reduced labor efficiency in the several dairy tasks. An increase in the number of cows milked per stall generally improved labor efficiency, as did adding a bulk tank in a stanchion barn. Substitution of a milking parlor for a stanchion barn with cans reduced the total capital investment in dairy buildings and equipment by about $368 per cow milked. It reduced the annual ownership costs of such facilities by $18 per cow milked and by 18¢ per cwt. of milk sold. It also reduced the annual ownership costs of building by about $18.50 per cow milked but increased the annual ownership costs of dairy equipment by $1.71 per cow milked.

Adding a bulk tank in a stanchion barn increased the annual ownership costs of dairy equipment by $1.57 per cow milked. Adding both a bulk tank and pipeline milkers in a stanchion barn increased the annual ownership costs of such equipment by $5.71 per cow milked. A complete report on the study is available from its office at Princess Anne, Virginia.

Social Security Covers Disabled Under 50 Years

About 125,000 disabled workers under age 50 and their families are now eligible for social security disability insurance benefits. Before recent changes in the law, only people between 50 and 65 could receive disability payments. People under 50 years of age could have their earnings records frozen, but could not collect benefits.

Most persons under 50 who had had their social security records frozen had been contacted by his office, and steps taken to start the payment of their benefits.

If you have had your social security record frozen, but have not ownership costs of dairy equipment by $1.57 per cow milked. Adding both a bulk tank and pipeline milkers in a stanchion barn increased the annual ownership costs of such equipment by $5.71 per cow milked. A complete report on the study is available from its office at Princess Anne, Virginia.

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Use Leftover Turkey In Salad

For a different, distinctive second-day dish, combine leftover turkey with cooked rice, celery, grapes or kiwifruit and pack for a truly exotic salad. Then bring flavors together in happy union with a spirited dressing—one made by combining mayonnaise with a special herb dressing blended from a salad dressing mix.

Turkey Salad De-Luxe
1 package Good Seasons Salad Dressing Mix (any flavor)
Vinegar, water, oil
1/4 cup mixed salad dressing
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Combine salad dressing mix, vinegar, water and oil as directed on the bottle or package.
Blend 1/2 cup of the dressing, mayonnaise, salt, and pepper, mixing well. Combine turkey, celery, grapes, and pecans in bowl. Stir in mayonnaise mixture. Then add rice and mix lightly with a fork. Chill at least 1 hour. Serve on crisp lettuce. Makes about 6 cups, or 4 to 6 servings luncheon or entrée salad.

Thought you might be wondering what to do with that leftover turkey. Here are some recipes that are a little unusual and really good.

Turkey Paprika
3 cups sliced turkey
1 stick butter or margarine
1 (medium size) onion, sliced
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup chicken stock
3 ounce can of mushroom (drained)
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2 egg yolks
1 cup dairy sour cream
Poppy seed noodles
Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add onion and cook without browning 5 minutes or until clear. Blend in flour, add stock and cook.

stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Reduce heat very low, stir in mushrooms, salt and paprika. Add small amount of sauce to beaten egg yolks and stir quickly then add to remainder of mixture in skillet and thoroughly blend. Cook 2 minutes, add turkey slices, then sour cream. Stir in and cook until mixture is hot. Serve over Poppy seed noodles.

Poppy seed noodles may be prepared by cooking 8 ounce package of noodles as directed on package. Drain, stir in 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons of poppy seed.

Turkey Jambalaya
2 or 3 cups turkey (cut medium pieces)
1 lb. sliced bacon
1 medium onion, chopped
1 medium green pepper, chopped
Dash garlic salt
1 12-oz. can tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups turkey stock or chicken bouillon
2 cups cooked rice
Cut bacon in 1 inch pieces, pan-fry until almost crisp. Remove bacon and drain on paper towel. Add onion, green pepper and garlic salt to drippings. Cook until tender, not brown. Add bacon, tomatoes, salt and stock, cover and cook over low heat about 30 minutes. Add rice and turkey and cook about 5 minutes or until rice and turkey are hot. Serve piping hot with crusty rolls and a crisp green salad or chilled fruit salad, which ever you prefer.

Best wishes of a Happy and prosperous New Year.

New Federal in New Office

An authentic colonial ceremony was used to open the new Thomas Corner office of Home Federal Savings and Loan Association.

A prospective similar to that used at the opening of the colonial capital in Williamsburg in 1705 was followed at the formal opening of the new building at 604 Virginia Beach Blvd., between Janaf and Thomas Corner.

The colonial opening ceremony was observed as befitting the authentic colonial Williamsburg-style building. The building was opened for business at 9 a.m. Wednesday according to J. R. Sears, chairman of the board of Home Federal.

At the request of Home Federal officials, Colonial Williamsburg authorities searched records of the House of Burgesses and discovered this entry dated Nov. 2, 1705: "The four Master Keys to the Locks of The Capital in the hands of Mr. Henry Cary (the builder), Mr. William Robertson and Mr. Charles Chiswell be called in and Destroyed."

The next day the Speaker of the House announced that "The four master keys to the locks of the Capital were broke in his and several other Members' presence."

At the formal opening L. J. Hoy, general contractor supervising construction of the building, broke his building keys and presented a set of new keys to Sears. The invocation was given by Rev. George H. Boyd, pastor of Larchmont Methodist Church.

T. David Fitz-Gibbon, architect, designed the building. Sears said cost of property, building, furnishings and fixtures is approximately $150,000. The building has approximately 3,000 feet of working area, plus a paved parking lot and drive-in window.

The exterior is oversize colonial brick. The main entrance on Virginia Beach Blvd. is a colonial portico with white columns. A side entrance also is provided. The spacious lobby has terrace floor with customer lounges on each side of the entrance way. Rich mahogany counters extend the full length of the building. Window posting permits the immediate and automatic posting of loan payments and additions to savings accounts.

A huge vault with stainless steel door is centered in the rear wall. Office area on both sides.

Handsome brass chandeliers add to the colonial atmosphere. Printed linen draperies and colonial colors carry out early American motif.

Sears said prize contests will be conducted during the opening festivities. Through the cooperation of Zala's Jewelers, Home Federal will award a $500 men's or lady's diamond ring in an interesting contest. A second place award of a radio will be made.

Also a treasure chest containing certificates for savings accounts from $1 to $50 is on display in the lobby of the new building. Keys are available to visitors. Some keys unlock the treasure chest. Sears says these activities are staged to encourage visitors to inspect the new building and to become acquainted with the services offered by the Association. The diamond contest is being staged as part of the 75th diamond anniversary observance of Home Federal. The Association was organized in 1885 and will celebrate its diamond anniversary in 1960. The opening celebration will continue until Feb. 10.

Participating in the formal opening ceremonies were Sears, Guy E. Beale, Home Federal's president; John R. Sears, Jr., executive vice-president; and Robert T. Sears, manager of the new branch office. Directors attending were Dr. H. G. Ashburn, L. D. Tuttle, William H. Darden and J. E. White, Jr.

Home Federal now has assets in excess of $30,000,000 and savings of more than $46,000,000. Home of the "at it" West York St., Norfolk, with branches in Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton and Suffolk.

What Is Right 'Tidewater' For Gift

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "My mother tells me I shouldn't talk about boys until I'm 16; shouldn't walk with boys until I'm 16 and shouldn't go steady with a boy until I am 18. I am now 15—what should I do?"

OUR ANSWER: The opinion of this corner is that the mother's "timetable" is a general one. As teenagers often do, our letter writer has taken a mother's expression or opinion as a black-and-white statement.

Certainly, a girl of 15 is not to be expected to never mention the word "boy"; a girl of 15 can't refuse to walk down the sidewalk with a lad who lives next door or up the street if they are both headed in the same direction, say to the corner grocery store. And, is the mere fact that a girl has turned 16 indication that she is ready to go "steady?" We don't think so. This is like saying that every boy who reaches 16 should be able to swim. The odds are high that he can't—it has never before been near the water.

Life is a "timetable," in a sense. We must attain a certain age before we can drive an automobile, before we can vote and, most everywhere, before we may obtain a marriage license. Yet, age alone is not enough. We must learn to drive before we may se-

There are reasons, of course, why there is a minimum age requirement for a driver's permit or a marriage license. It is assumed, let us say, that a youngster of 16 is responsible enough to be trusted with an automobile, that a girl of 16 is mature enough to realize and appreciate the obligations and responsibilities of marriage and parenthood. This assumption, of course, is based on the belief that every boy who reaches 16 or 18 years. Sadly enough, this is not always true.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Virginia Beach In Eating, Lodging, Lodging

Six years after eating and lodging establishments received national recognition in the new 1953 edition of the Duncan Hines Travel Book, "Adventures in Good Eating" and "Lodging for a Night," this year's edition, according to an announcement from Roy H. Park, editor-in-chief of the Duncan Hines Institute here, publisher of the travel books.

The Virginia Beach establishments are among 5,000 eating and lodging places in North America "Recommended by Duncan Hines." They are: Charcoal Room, the Colony Restaurant, and Pine Tree Inn—listed in "Adventures in Good Eating"; Cavalier Hotel, Golf Ranch Motel, and the Tides Motel Hotel and Lodge—listed in "Lodging for a Night."

In addition, there is the third Duncan Hines Travel Book, "Vacation Guide," now in preparation for publication in February, 1961.

"These 1961 editions mark the beginning of our second quarter of a century of service to the American traveling public," Park stated. "In 1935, the first 'Adventures in Good Eating' launched a new and unique publishing venture, one that has pioneered in upgrading the standards of service offered the American traveler."

"The establishments we list are truly a select group," Park said. "They represent the top two per cent, for we recommend only 9,800 out of nearly half a million eating and lodging places in North America."

Once again the new editions have been completely revised, listing by listing, Park explained, as well as having new covers which were designed for quick identification.

"The 1961 'Adventures in Good Eating' is the largest we have ever published," Park revealed. "This year it totals 616 pages containing 450 listings. Although the total number of listings has decreased by some 200 from the previous year, there is more up-to-date information about almost every establishment listed. In addition, there are many new eating adventures to be found by the users of this new book, for we have made some 1,000 changes in the listings since last year."

"Lodging for a Night" represents some 1,000 changes in listings in 284 pages, the same size as in previous years, containing 400 listings, he noted.

Park stated that the listings in these books are "authoritative and unbiased," based on "thorough inspection by a corps of field inspectors and 'thorough survey and analysis' by the Institute headquarters staff. 'No establishment is listed without first having been inspected,' he explained. 'There is no charge for a listing—the Duncan Hines recommendation is based on merit. It has to be earned.'"

Every effort was exerted this year, the Institute spokesman noted, "to make traveling and dining out with these books an even greater adventure, as Americans seek more variety. These books were edited to save the traveler time, money, and disappointment by providing the most up-to-date facts and figures on how to find these places with ease, prices to expect to pay, recommended food specialties, days and hours open, services and accommodations, and telephone numbers. For quick reference, all listings are arranged alphabetically by state and town, and proximity to airports and seaports is also indicated."

NOTES FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

"Who cleans your shoes, Harry?" a college student asked his friend.
"I do them myself, of course," was the reply.
"Ah, well," the other said, "it's nice to be bright at one end, anyhow."

NOW IS THE TIME TO START FIXIN'

In the rush to get farm equipment ready for spring work, farm shop arrangement and practices are often neglected.

National Safety Council studies show that repair work can be done much easier and safer in an orderly, well-ventilated shop. Good housekeeping also encourages safe work habits.

Take time to go over your shop with a critical eye to locate accident hazards and inconveniences. Also, question the way you work. Hazards and unsafe practices may have remained unnoticed for years. Don't stop until they are corrected. The remedy is usually obvious — often some forgotten thing.

Do some housecleaning and set things in order if the benches, storage cabinets, and work areas are cluttered and obstructed.

Don't work in the dark. See that dangerous corners and work centers are well lighted.

Avoid storing loose materials over head, and see that all tools are kept in a safe condition and in a safe place.

Adequate ventilation to remove harmful fumes is also important.

Don't overlook fire hazards. See that heating equipment is installed and operating safely. Avoid unsafe use and storage of flammable materials. Check for defective electrical appliances or wiring, and avoid unnecessary accumulation of grease or oily rags. Install a fire extinguisher or other fire suppression aids.

Here are eight rules practiced by the men who went broke last year.

1. Don't clean your tractor engine air filter. Your engine will wear out several times faster when engine filter are clogged.

2. Use bailing wire or any piece of scrap iron as a substitute for a broken part. Soon you'll have plenty of scrap iron for further repairs.

3. Skimp as much as you can on grease. This way parts wear faster and break sooner.

4. Let it rust. This is a sure-fire way to the scrap heap.

5. Don't use anti-freeze in your tractor radiator. The stuff wouldn't freeze and break your engine block and then you'd have to use the same one for years.

6. Always use pliers on gasoline connections and carburetor fittings you'll soon have corners worn so that connections won't turn even with the proper wrench.

7. Let the battery run down. It will either go dead or freeze in cold weather, and you can get exercise cranking the tractor.

8. Never follow any safety measure. You'll find up in the hospital and your farm equipment will never be used.

Get These Weed In Alfalfa Now—Especially Chickweed

Don't wait until next spring to control weeds in alfalfa fields. Special attention should be given new, fall seedings of alfalfa.

The reason for this is that weeds in such fields are more susceptible to control measures at this time, when they are young, than when they are more mature.

Chickweed is the major weed problem in alfalfa. In pure stands of alfalfa or legumes, either new or old stands, this pest can easily be controlled by using 2 pounds (active ingredient) of Chloro-IPC in 20 gallons of water. The material should be applied with a low-pressure, boom-type sprayer.

The best time for applying Chloro-IPC is when alfalfa is dormant.

As mentioned, the material (chloro-IPC) is effective against chickweed in other legumes. It will also control German Moss.

Where legumes are mixed with grasses in the stand, another chemical, Dinitro (DNBP) is recommended. This material should be used at the rate of 1-1.1 pounds in 30 gallons of water, to the acre in a boom-type sprayer.

In addition to chickweed, this treatment will control other winter annuals such as wild mustard, wild radish, creases, and shepherd's purse. For effective control, Dinitro should be applied when the weeds are small, with rosettes the size of a silver dollar, or smaller. Dinitro kills weeds by contact, so complete coverage is needed.

After one full growing season, mixtures of a control grass and legumes may be treated for the control of chickweed with Chloro-IPC.

4-H's BUSY PLANTING TREES
The planting time is here again in Princess Anne County and 4-H members will be busy at this job until about April.

In Virginia, the eastern part of the state starts planting approximately 400,000 trees allotted them for their projects, and about 150,000 provided by industry.

Most of these were loblolly and white pine, with a few yellow poplar. Last year orders for additional 120,000 seedlings were not filled because of a shortage of seedling stock. About 1500 4-H members had forestry projects in the state in the 1959-60 season.

Southwest, Tidewater, and Southside Virginia are the three areas in the state that are doing the largest amount of planting. For every dollar spent planting pine trees in a good location, in 30 years this dollar should return $15.00.

The 4-H forestry program is designed to teach members principles of conservation and to increase future returns from the land. Club members work in four main areas of forestry.

Included are forestry appreciation in which they learn basic facts about trees, wood-using industries, and conservation. Tree planting is studied and put into effect in the forest establishment projects. Thinning and harvesting are taught in forest management. Care of forest products is the main interest in the forest utilization project.

A 4-H member wanting to plant trees contacts his local 4-H leader or county agent. He is given an order blank, and a letter of requirements that he and his parents read. This letter tells where to plant, how to care for trees, and gives the best soil types for different species. It asks the member if the new trees will be protected from grazing, and if his parents will help with the project.

The order blank is filled out by the member and signed by him and his parents. Order blanks are collected in the county and forwarded to the Extension forestry office at VPI. Here they are processed, and sent to district offices of the Virginia Division of Forestry to be filled.

Members can obtain from 100 to 300 trees for their project, free. Trees are packaged in individual orders to the proper number. These orders are shipped together to the county agent who distributes them to the 4-H members.

When seedlings arrive, if they cannot be planted immediately, they should be baled in a brush prepared for this purpose. At planting time, roots should be kept wet, either in a bucket of water, or mud.

Planting can be done with a planting bar, grafting bar, or shovel. The planting hole should be deep enough to take all the roots without bending them back up toward the surface of the soil. They would be put in the ground straight.

One man can plant about 100 trees an hour by himself. When two work together, they can plant about 1500 trees in an eight-hour day. Spacing of the trees will depend upon soil fertility and type.

4-H members have again been allotted a quota of 500,000 seedlings for projects this year. There are two state nurseries in Virginia. One is at Charlottesville and the other at Providence Forge. They supply the seedlings used in the 4-H Forestry Project.

Soil Conservation District Supervisors To Meet In Roanoke

Reports, discussions on current problems and trends, and election of new officers will highlight the annual convention of soil conservation District Supervisors from throughout Virginia in Roanoke January 9-11.

The supervisors will register Monday afternoon, January 9, and that night will take part in various committee and Board meetings. The first general session will be Tuesday morning, with welcoming addresses and officers' reports first on the agenda. Speakers that morning will include Gordon Zimmerman, executive secretary, Na-

GETTING AROUND

...to Our Pleasant Places and People

It's just about time again for the good people of Bainbridge Island, Washington, to collect their annual Christmas Fund — a unique affair if there ever was one — and, in their words, "the best thing we do on this island." What makes this so different from any we've ever heard of is that no donation — not one, ever — is acknowledged publicly. True, the records are always open for inspection, but in all the years that the fund has been collected for "neighbors temporarily down on their luck," no one has ever asked the Bainbridge Review, which manages the fund, for an accounting. Last year's total: $1216.04.

There's a brand-new ladies' bowling league now being organized in Hallandale, Florida. The only qualification for getting on a team is grandmotherhood, and the lady to see, grannies, is Reta Baker, of 113 N.W. 1st Avenue.

Other Police Departments, please note—Miss Mary Boyde Ayer of Chula Vista, California, hurried back to her overtime-parked car to find, instead of the expected ticket, a message from the police explaining that they realized she had been inadvertently detained, and they were therefore placing a penny in the meter for her. Along with this intelligence, there was a gentle reminder that she be a bit more careful in the future.

When Mrs. V. M. Hawksley went through customs on her way from England to settle in Shawnee, Kansas, the customs man pulled out a photo of Mrs. Hawksley's son, an actor, dressed as Hamlet. "In the service, sh?" commented the inspector.

A bright red sticker, observed on an automobile bumper near Mountain Brook, Alabama, read: "Help Stamp Out Bumper Stickers."

Mrs. W. H. Thomas, of Warrenville, Illinois, writes to tell us about an exclusive drive-in theatre she visited in Buffalo, Missouri—the world's first with a private screen for each of the 250 cars the lot holds.

Every Wednesday the air-raised sirens are heard in Overbrook, Pennsylvania. The Civil Defense test also touches off a cooperative cleanup in which merchants, housewives, and citizens in all walks of life from around Philadelphia get together and spend fifteen minutes ridding their area of litter.

The late Vice-president Alben Barkley once did a hitch as assistant janitor in a Clinton, Kentucky, school. The site now bears a commemorative marker which reads, "Al Barkley Swept Here."

A Bethesda, Maryland, correspondent informs us that a seven-year-old of his acquaintance was asked to illustrate the song, "America The Beautiful," part of which goes, if you'll recall, "For purple mountain majesties, above the fruited plain." Well, the teacher recognized everything—the flag, the map, the purple mountains, and even the youngster's interpretation of "from sea to shining sea." The only puzzle in the entire series was a picture of an airplane covered with red and yellow balls. "Why," explained the artist, "that's the fruited plane."

A group of Locust Valley, New York, citizens love the theatre but found travel, dinner, and ticket expenses coming high. They solved their problem by forming a group and hiring a bus. Dinner is served to the group in Long Island, and then the chartered bus, equipped with a well-stocked bar and bartender, gets them to Manhattan just at curtain time.

Mr. Erle J. Grant, of Doraville, Georgia, wants the world to know that it still costs him twenty-five cents to get a first-class haircut. His barber has not changed prices in forty years, business is very good, and need we add that he's one of the most popular people in that part of the country?

Our Hamden, Connecticut, correspondent swears that the following is a true story: It seems that a few days after a rising young executive got a promotion and a larger office, a maintenance man came by with a pair of shears and cut away a neat 12-inch border of carpeting from all four sides of the room. On his way out he explained to his astounded on-looker, "Company Orders. Only vice-presidents and better get wall-to-wall carpeting."

Almost 12,000 babies have been photographed, within minutes of birth, through the Torrance, California, Memorial Hospital's Identifoto program. As soon as the new-born infant is dressed and put into its bassinet, the nurse wheels it under a special camera and takes its first picture. The baby's parents can then, if they choose, buy one or more pictures as mementos of the blessed event. The project was started in 1954 by the Women's Auxiliary and has since then enabled the ladies to donate about $8,000 worth of special equipment to the hospital's maternity wing.

Along with machines and gadgets that do everything these days but take your vacation for you, add a salt shaker you don't have to shake—the invention of one Matthew Zotas, of Brockton, Massachusetts. You just press a button, and air pressure does the rest.

What have you heard that's new, unusual, or funny? We pay $10 for each item we accept. Write to "Getting Around," SUBURBIA TODAY, 60 East 56th Street, New York 22, New York.

THE BAD CHILDREN

BY SHIRLEY JACKSON, author of "The Lottery," "The Hounting of Hill House," etc.

MY CAREER as a playwright is over, thank you. I am going back to the writing of novels, where I belong. I have tasted the infectious joys of the drama, and it is not for me.

I didn't want or mean or intend or even try to write a play. At first, I was only a not-very-interested observer; my children and a group of their friends thought that they would like to put on a play, a fever which I believe can strike any group of children at any time, and they went about it in the completely practical manner in which children do go about these things—first they chose their costumes, and then they decided where they would give their play and how much they would charge to get in, and then they quarreled for a while over who could be in it and who couldn't, and then went looking for a play.

My older daughter came to me and asked me if I had any idea what play they could put on, and I, being engaged in some terribly important activity like frosting a cake, said absently that I believed they might try the library, where they would surely find a dozen volumes of one-act plays for children. My daughter went off. I finished frosting my cake and went out and got the evening paper and was sitting quietly reading when my daughter came back and stood compellingly in front of me.

"Listen to this," she said, and lifted a book and read in a high singsong voice: "I fear me, good husband, that this wretched hut of ours will not long withstand the rigors of the wintry blast."

"What?" I said.

"It means she thinks their house is going to fall down," Jannie said.

"Why does she have to say it like that?" I asked.

"Because it's in the play. If we want to do that play we have to say junk like that. Or listen to this one: 'I am Lafayette, a gentleman of noble birth, and I have left my homeland and come to this new country to aid General Washington in this great battle against tyranny.'"

"Hard to get out in one breath," I said.

"We want a play of our own," Jannie said. "We want something where we can talk naturally and enjoy ourselves. With a good part for everybody and not much trouble over costumes, and funny. You're a writer," she said. "You write a play for us."

"No," I said.

"You just write it. We'll put in all the acting."

I had a strong feeling that this is how Shakespeare must have started—his kids came around teasing him to write them a play with a good big part for everybody, and funny. I said that I had never written a play before, and that about the best I could do was dramatize a familiar fairy tale, trying to make it funny and to make the language and action as unstilted as I could. They thought that would be fine.

Since their acting group included a couple of ten-year-olds, as well as several older children, I thought that a story like Hansel and Gretel might be a good choice, providing at least two parts for the younger ones, and because I have always been particularly resentful of Hansel and Gretel anyway. I feel strongly that two children who go around eating other people's houses ought to be spanked, not rescued. I thought it would be nice to see Hansel and Gretel get what was coming to them. After all, that witch probably paid taxes on potions (you just drop them into boiling water) and earnestly keeping up with all the new inventions in witchcraft.

I had to put in an enchanter, to accommodate an older boy in our cast, and I thought I might do well to make the enchanter a lazy, old-fashioned type, so that he and the witch could quarrel constantly about whose magic was better.

I made Hansel and Gretel into the two most objectionable children I could imagine, whining and inoleant and greedy. Then I set up for the mother and father a pair of bewildered, helpless parents, who wanted their children to be well-mannered and nice, but nothing seemed to help. The parents pointed out that they had joined the P.T.A. and the Little League and bought Girl Scout cookies and paid for tickets to the Junior Prom and given the children bicycles for Christmas and gone to the Class Play and helped out with Home Ec., and still the children were bad.

They were just kind of mixed-up and tired parents, like all parents.

I had a wonderful time writing it. Every time I thought of something my children do that I can't stand—and there's a lot of it—I put it in for Hansel and Gretel. As I went along I thought of a little song that Hansel and Gretel could sing; it went like this:

You're mean . . . you're mean . . .
You're bad . . . you're bad . . .
You're a pig . . . you're a pig . . .
I won't play with you.

I found that it went quite nicely to a simple little tune, and as I wandered around the house picking things up I caught myself whistling it.

I brought a carefully-typed copy of the play into the kitchen where my children were sitting around the table, occupying themselves with homework, crayons, and building blocks. "Here," I said, and fled.

After a few minutes I could hear them laughing, and I thought complacently that they had come to the quarrel between the witch and the enchanter which comes early in the play, and I was glad they thought it was funny. Then I heard Jannie saying "Hey, listen to this, everybody," and she read, in a dismal, tearful voice, a line which went, "Children, we'll never get our work done today if you don't stop quarrelling . . ."

"No, no," I said, hurrying into the kitchen. "Jannie, that line is spoken by the mother—the doesn't whine like that."

her gingerbread house and had to put out just as much money as the rest of us for mending leaks in the roof and getting the place painted, and here these two kids come along and do a tremendous amount of damage and then go off blithely and live happily ever after. I decided that I had better not make the witch altogether sympathetic, because that might get all the fairy tale people after me, so I made her into a kind of progressive-type witch, full of new ideas about using frozen magic

*And what happened when this distinguished novelist
...who is also their mother...wrote a play for them*

"You're mean," Sally sang, and Barry answered, "You're mean."

"You're a monster."

"You're a monster."

"You're awful."

"You're awful."

"I won't play with you."

Something had gone terribly wrong with my play. As soon as it got into the hands of the children it altered. It became hideously clear that my poor tired mother and father were going to be the comedy relief. When the lines were read in a slightly exaggerated style, they became self-pitying and dreary. The witch and the enchanter had become the powerful central figures. Hansel and Gretel, that frightful pair, were regarded as sensible, charming children, and everyone wanted to play every part. My little moral lesson about nice children had faded like yesterday's flowers.

Worse, the children were so pleased with the spiteful little song that they wanted more songs, particularly a song for the witch to sing—Jannie rather fancied herself on stage belting out a solo number—and a song to close the play. My older son, who is by way of being a trumpet player, volunteered to write the music if I would write the words. My first efforts were rejected without discussion. It was then decided unanimously (my vote not counted) that the song the enchanter sings must be a real low-down blues, to be called That Mean Old Wizard Blues, and to open with the lines: "I want a rich witch, baby, no others need apply..."

WHILE I SAT there with my jaw hanging, the blues somehow got itself composed and firmly embedded in the family culture. I wrote a heartfelt little number called "What Wonderful Parents We've Been," for the mother and father, and Laurie set it to a comically lugubrious tune.

I began to perceive why the plays written for children are so firmly held down to the I-am-Lafayette-a-gentleman-of-noble-birth kind of thing. I had been indulging myself in a little sardonic humor at the expense of parents and children and fairy tales, and the children had taken it into their own hands and—because parents and children and fairy tales are the stuff with which children deal so intimately—turned it into a statement of their own about the world and their place in it, and all the sardonic humor had become their own. They found a deep satisfaction in the wicked children and the whining parents, the selfish witch and the lazy enchanter, and to go with all of this they wanted the excitement of fast, heavy music and a far-out drum. It got through to me even more vividly when I found out what had happened to the end of my song about the wonderful parents; I had ended it with some trifling, amiable couplet, but now it read: "And what are we now, for our time and our prayers, our science fairs and cleaner airs and Papa Bears and anxious cares?—Squares."

I made one desperate, ineffectual attempt to rescue the play and my moral lesson; I wrote an ending to it, in which by means of magic Hansel and Gretel are transformed into sweet, dear, good, kind, little kiddies. The children threw it right out again. Hansel and Gretel stay horrid to the end.

Now, beyond anything else, I am desperately afraid that they are going to try to perform the play. I am quite sure that we will be everlastingly disgraced if this souped-up fairy tale finds its cynical way onto a stage, and the thought that I am the official author terrifies me. I have suggested halfheartedly that they do "Pinafore" instead; I have schemed and contrived to have the production put off until the fall school term on the grounds that it is too late in the year for any large-scale production, and I have secret hopes that some overwhelming new fad will sweep the country before fall. Unfortunately, the songs have gotten out, and I listen to little children going past our house on their way to school singing "You're mean . . . you're mean," and my own children and their friends do not tire of quoting lines to one another endlessly.

In spite of every obstacle that I can put in their way, they have their cast and their parts, and everyone shows up for every rehearsal. They are using our barn for a theatre; when I pointed out that the barn was too dark, too drafty, and too dirty, they cleaned it out, hung old blankets over the windows, and arranged a set of footlights out of flashlights. I said that maybe just the mummies and daddies ought to be invited, but there is a suspiciously great massing of benches and old garden chairs along one side of the barn. The enchanter is going to wear a derby hat. Hansel and Gretel have decided, after much deliberation, to wear cowboy suits. The mother and father are joyfully ripping apart old shirts to deck themselves in rags. The witch is wearing high-heeled shoes, and she carries a long cigarette holder. Everyone shows up for every rehearsal.

I got the last word, for what it is worth. Since I wrote the play, I insisted on the right to title it. It is called "The Bad Children; a play for bad children."

"Now you're the daddy and I'm trying to keep you alive."

Women Play Better Bridge!

BY HELEN SOBEL

The world's leading female bridge player gets the last word—almost

CHARLES GOREN was the first one to say that women make better players than men. Since Mr. Goren is a man and also our number-one ranking player, his gallant statement might seem a little hard to prove. But in some ways, I really think we women are better!

Through the years, men have not exactly encouraged women to use their brains. The kitchen seemed a nice, safe place for them. Consequently, devious things have taken place, and not only at the bridge table. The effect has been to make us women more acute and no doubt, much happier. And better players.

There are also several psychological factors involved.

If a charming, attractive woman is at the table, for example, our hero may ask himself, "My, my, what in the world is she doing here?"

After some admiring glances, amiable chitchat, and lighting of her cigarette, the bidding finally gets under way.

By this time, he may not be paying his customary attention to his hand and will find himself a trick or two too high. There are not too many susceptible men around, more's the pity, but the woman who meets one across the bridge table starts ahead of the game.

Another male opponent, much less enjoyable, is the aggressive, hopes-to-be-overpowering kind, who not only doesn't light your cigarette, but if you aren't quick, will put it out. Such tactics at the bridge table frequently cause a normally placid, easygoing lady to outdo herself completely. I remember watching a game at a club where this happened.

The lady in question was a visitor from another city, and though she knew quite a few members, she was not, naturally, completely at ease.

The first crack out of the box was the announcement that the game was for pretty high stakes. And in a rather patronizing way she was told that, as she probably wouldn't want to play for that much, she could be carried.

But nothing daunted, after a small gulp, she said, "No, no, I'll play for the same stakes as everyone else."

Perhaps I've underestimated her, and she would have defended the same way in any case. But I think a little irritant is sometimes very helpful.

This is the hand—South dealer, neither side vulnerable:

WEST		EAST
♠ 962		♠ KO
♥ 109532		♥ KQ7
♦ Q83		♦ 1072
♣ A2		♣ Q7654
		SOUTH
		♠ AJ8754

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

The opening lead by the visitor was the ace of clubs, followed by the deuce.

Declarer won in dummy with the king of clubs, discharging a heart from his hand.

He then led the singleton heart, winning with the ace in his hand, and ruffed a heart in dummy.

Now, of course, his problem was how to get back to his hand to ruff his remaining heart. The opening lead of the ace of clubs, followed by another, surely looked like a doubleton. So he played the ace and king of diamonds, intending to return to his hand by ruffing another diamond.

Well, here is where West's really inspired play occurred. Without a blink or hesitation, she dropped the queen of diamonds on the king.

That brought declarer up short. He mulled about the situation for a while and finally came to the conclusion, I suppose, that it was more likely she had only two diamonds than that she would drop the queen if she could help it.

So he led a club and trumped with the eight of spades, which was promptly overtrumped with the nine.

A trump was returned, and now there was no way South could find to make his contract. He had already lost two tricks, and was obliged to lose a spade and a heart.

I really felt sorry for the poor fellow. He played the hand the way almost anyone would have, but was just outsmarted by a very determined woman. Incidentally, her side won the rubber on the next deal.

As you have probably gathered by now, I tend to be taken with a bit of ethical flimflamming whenever it is possible. The dividends are high, and it makes for a lovely day.

Pass	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—king of hearts. I was playing South's hand, and our preponderance of high cards, plus my eight-long suit, made it impossible to stay out of slam.

Still, we could have been set. Unfortunately for us, West's heart holding was such that he had no problem about his lead.

My partner, who had bid the hand so beautifully, still had no re-entry for me with the heart opening.

So there I was with two losing diamonds in my hand, and two winning spades in dummy.

On the surface, I couldn't get to them, but supposing I didn't win the king of hearts—would he continue? Well, I didn't and he did, as who would not? So I won the second heart with the ace and discarded my ace of spades and was then able to get rid of my two small diamonds on the king and queen of spades.

Squeezes are for girls, too, as you shall see. This is the hand, and North and South, who happen to be women, are playing against the men.

The bidding, North dealer:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Double	Redouble	Pass
Pass	1 ♠	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	6 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass	—	—

Though North had a minimum holding, her hand improved with each of South's bids.

Consequently, her 4-diamond bid, which shows either 1st-or-2nd-round control, was very good indeed. A slam was not necessarily in the bag, since a spade lead would have broken the squeeze.

However, nothing is certain, particularly at the bridge table.

West opened with his diamond jack and East won dummy's king with his ace, and returned a trump.

South won with her ace, and ruffed her losing diamond.

She then led a heart from dummy, overtaking in her hand, and led the queen of spades. West played low, and South, instead of taking the finesse, went up with the ace and returned to her hand with a trump. She then ran all trumps but one, coming down to this situation:

♠ 9	♥ —	♦ —	♣ —
♦ KO 4 3	♠ —	♥ —	♣ —
WEST		SOUTH
♠ 7	♥ 8	♠ 10	♥ 8
♥ 7 6 5	♠ A 2	♦ —	♣ —

The last trump was led, and the spade thrown from dummy.

East was now in the unpleasant position of having to discard his spade king or his fourth club. He conceded the slam to the lady.

Bridge wouldn't be the game it is without these titillating and challenging situations that constantly arise. It makes lots of dull hands bearable just to have some of the "spectaculars."

Well, fun's fun, but I suppose sooner or later we'll just have to admit it—men are really very good players, too! (Sometimes they show remarkable insight.) And the woman who plays her cards right may receive an invitation to play with one of them in the next tournament.

Why Bright Children Sometimes Get Poor Grades in School

by FRIEDA E. VAN ATTA

Mother of two, a practicing teacher for 17 years, Mrs. Van Atta has taught all grades and taken courses in education at several universities.

YOU DON'T have to be a "School Marm," as I am, to know that many bright children get poor grades in school. This is something that puzzled me when I began teaching over 17 years ago. "Why," I wondered, "do some of the brightest youngsters in this class turn in homework assignments and test papers that show less familiarity with the subject than those of pupils with much lower I.Q.'s?"

The Key To Better Grades

Then I made a startling discovery. In practically all cases where bright children were getting poor marks, most of their trouble stemmed directly from a lack of understanding of the old-fashioned "3 R's"—Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic.

The result is what I believe to be a very valuable handbook for every parent who is worried about his child's schoolwork. I have called it, simply, How To Help Your Child in Reading, Writing & Arithmetic. In 384 pages, clearly illustrated, the three basic subjects are explained, step by step, from kindergarten through 8th grade. With my book at hand, you can pick out exactly the subject and grade of work in which your child is weak—and help him by means of tested teaching methods.

Worksheets For All Grades

At the end of each section in my book you'll find special WORKSHEETS for practice and review. You and your youngster can sit down together and work out these problems, discussing any points on which the child may not be clear. By using the WORKSHEETS you will be able to see exactly where your child's difficulty lies—and help him correct it on the spot. Here are some of the WORKSHEETS you'll find:

- PICTURE GAMES for children in kindergarten, to make them aware of familiar things around them.
- READING GAMES to help children in 1st grade learn new words and phrases.
- ADDITION, SUBTRACTION, MULTIPLICATION and DIVISION EXAMPLES for youngsters in 2nd, 3rd and 4th grades.
- FRACTIONS to practice in 5th grade.
- PUNCTUATION EXERCISES for 6th graders to help them master the principles of English.
- SENTENCE DIAGRAMS for 7th graders to fill in, so they can better understand grammar.
- DECIMALS and PERCENTAGES for 8th grade students of this tricky phase of mathematics.

Of course, these are only a small sampling of the WORKSHEETS in this oversize (8½ x 11¼), hardbound volume.

YOU CAN SAVE $1.00 IF YOU ORDER NOW

My publisher has just announced that the price of "How to Help Your Child in Reading, Writing & Arithmetic" will be $5.95 as of January 1, 1961 but you can still get your copy for only $4.95 postpaid if you act immediately. And, if you don't feel that my book will help you improve your child's school work in reading, writing and arithmetic—return it within ten days for full refund.

DRESSING UP FOR CHRISTMAS

The whole town pitches in, each year, to transform Altadena, California, into a giant, living, Christmas card

BY JOHN Q. COPELAND

Fake snow helps prove that the town, once a year, is really a suburb of the North Pole.

J. ALLEN HAWKINS

and the sun has left the sky.
It's time to take the window to see Leerie going by;
For every night at teatime and before you take your seat,
With lantern and with ladder, he comes posting up the street . . .*

THIS WARMLY REMEMBERED verse of Robert Louis Stevenson glows in reality along the downtown streets of Altadena, California, during the Christmas season. Sixty old-fashioned lamp-posts line the business district of the suburban foothills community, and schoolboys costumed in top hats, gayly colored scarves, and topcoats serve as Lamplighters.

The annual event is but one of the numerous spectacles which magically transform Altadena into a giant, living Christmas Card.

Seeds of this ambitious civic spirit were literally sown 75 years ago when Col. Fred Woodbury planted 200 Himalayan deodars along the roadway climbing to his ranch. The exotic trees grew into giant landmarks, and some 30 years ago Altadenans began decorating the trees with thousands of multicolored Yule lights.

Thus was established the annual tradition of Christmas Tree Lane, a week-long nighttime phenomenon of nature and man which over the years has drawn several million entranced tourists.

Down Christmas Tree Lane, processions of cars coast slowly, with their lights out and motors cut. For the mile's silent, awe-inspiring duration of this unique Christmas pilgrimage, even old-timers find themselves in the spell of a holy forest.

Yet, behind the scenes of the event there's plenty of hard work, perseverance, and unselfish contribution of time and money required. County firemen volunteer services in stringing the lights from precarious 100-foot ladders. Boy Scouts join sheriff's deputies in directing the heavy traffic. A nonprofit association composed of leading businessmen and clubwomen has tirelessly solicited funds and taken over the preplanning chores.

F. B. Nightingale, a local electrician living high up on the foothills of Altadena, decided some years ago that visitors should have a beacon to guide them to Christmas Tree Lane. So he built an impressive, 20-foot illuminated star above his home. The star, too, became a landmark, visible on clear nights from the distant city of Los Angeles.

Then, eight years ago a group of mothers were inspired to create still another Christmas fantasy—this one to appeal primarily to children. They called their project Story Book Lane and formed their own association to devise ideas and pool talent. Housewives, clerks, professional men, and older children borrowed a vacant lot on which to construct the cardboard and plywood Mother Goose characters, Hansel and Gretel settings, and other fairy-tale "productions" which would come alive under colored spotlights on fifty lawns and rooftops at nightfall.

"Every year we wonder if anyone will be willing to do all the work and put up with the inconvenience of staging another Story Book Lane," says Mrs. Clarence McFarland, an Altadena post-office employee who helped found this particular institution. "Then the children start getting excited about Christmas, and asking us when we're going to get to work. It's their enthusiasm that keeps alive our Christmas spirit and makes it worthwhile!"

And that's the spirit that hovers over the entire town. For the local Rotary Club in cooperation with the community newspaper, The Altadena, now sponsors an annual home decoration contest that takes in the whole of Altadena. Hundreds of homes light up during the Yuletide with Santa Claus vignettes at the chimneys, elves dancing on the lawns, replicas of the Manger and the Wise Men traveling toward the Star of Bethlehem, gardens bedecked with jeweled lights and tinsel, king-size candy canes, and wreaths of eastern holly. . . .

ALONG ABOUT the time the Lamplighters set the lantern wicks aglow against the "teatime sky," just off the main business district yet another outdoor event is readied every year by the Theatre Americana troupe, joined for the holiday occasion by service clubs and professional and amateur talent. This is Christmas in Our Town Square, a musical pageant which traditionally blends regional lore with the sacred spirit of Christmas. Professional Hollywood set designers, musicians, and actors often work side by side with PTA members, shopkeepers, ministers, and neighbors from all walks of life to produce the pageant.

Churches of all denominations, meanwhile, as in small towns across the face of America, have their own Christmas season programs and pageantry. One of the most widely known is the block-long sidewalk tableau staged by St. Elizabeth's Church—a display of life-size scenes from the life of Christ, softly lighted and in a natural setting, which bears a resemblance to far-away Jerusalem.

Altadenans don't seem to mind the work, though. Already they have started writing invitations to friends in all 50 states, asking them to drop around this coming Christmas time. There's one thing sure about Altadena's Christmas card. It won't fit into any ordinary envelope!

The battered wooden doll linked three generations of love and Merry Christmas

MEMORIES With Evelyn Grace

BY IRENE SCOTT

I WAS HOUSE CLEANING the deep hall cupboard when I came upon a neatly wrapped package tied with Christmas ribbon. I opened it to find a battered wooden doll with some old-fashioned clothes. Evelyn Grace and all her worldly possessions!

That dear old dolly predated even my earliest memories. Every year she had sat under our Christmas tree. I don't remember that first time when I was two, but I was told how my impatient young father could not wait and gave me the doll several days early. Mother had made her clothes. Here, still in the box, was the pink flannelette nightie, the only remaining "original."

Other dolls and Christmases came and went, but Evelyn Grace was always there, the favorite. I still remember the black day she fell off our gramophone and chipped her nose. It made her more loved than ever, for I felt that I had failed her.

This little dress of unbleached cotton and turkey red—I recall that my mother had made it to cheer me up when I was home from school feeling lopsidedly miserable. We named it the "mumps dress."

Here was my very first bit of knitting, a wobbly scarf, and another first, a skirt of uncertain stitches but one thing a certainty—the dome fastener was sewn on for life.

My doll lost many more chips of paint, but to me she was always beautiful. One day a grownup commented: "All she needs is a coat of paint." My sudden tears baffled her. How bitterly I resented the implication that she needed anything.

Time passed. High-school days came. Evelyn Grace appeared each year under the Christmas tree, as much part of the scene as the tinsel star on top.

More time passed. I was in another home, and there was now a living doll near the tree, but still the wooden one, too. One day when our little daughter was convalescing after an illness, I brought out Evelyn Grace. She found her an amusing oddity. "Mummy, she can't even cry or sleep."

The real snub came ten years later as my young teenager and I decorated the Christmas tree.

"Do you have to bring out that horrid old doll?"
"No, dear." Momentary resentment turned to compassion. She had yet to learn of beauty coming through love. Again I rewrapped my doll and neatly tied her up with Christmas ribbon.

The Jet Age

BY ART BUCHWALD

The Buchwalds—Art and Ann with Connie, Joel, and little Jennifer

WE ARE LIVING, so all the ads read, in the jet age. In the next few years jet airliners will be streaking across the sky, making it possible for people to have breakfast in London, breakfast in New York, breakfast in Los Angeles, and breakfast in Tokyo all in the same day. A whole new vista is opening for people who like big breakfasts.

Recently I flew the Pan American Boeing 707 jet from Paris to New York and then back again. It gave me an opportunity to see the jet in action, and also gave Pan American a chance to test the cabin under the stress of three very young and violent children.

Both the children and the cabin survived the trip, and as a parent I can recommend the flight. But I'm not sure the pilot can recommend the children.

There are two classes on a 707 jet—De luxe and Economy. The front of the plane is reserved for De luxe passengers and the back for Economy. De luxe has the following advantages: You go up the same ramp as the pilot and his crew; you have roomy seats; you're plied with liquor and hot hors d'oeuvres, and served a sumptuous meal prepared by Maxim's (there is usually an orchid on your plate), and there is a bar open all night.

Economy has these advantages: You go up the same ramp as the stewardesses; you have seats three abreast; you are not plied with liquor (you can't get or buy a drink in Economy); you are served large sandwiches and coffee, and you have the company of children that stay up all night.

Wives and children should travel Economy —and husbands should go De Luxe

Economy is half the price of De Luxe.

Since both classes arrive at the same time, I suggest, in order to save money, wives and children should travel Economy, and husbands should go De Luxe.

In my case this was vetoed as soon as it was presented, and I was forced to travel in Economy class, which is a very sobering experience, even at thirty-seven thousand feet.

As I mentioned before, Economy class has three seats across on each side of the aisle. While this serves the purpose of Pan American very well, it does present problems to the passengers.

It is very rare that three people are traveling together, and most people are either traveling alone, in twos, or in fours. The main problem when traveling with another person is which two out of three seats to take.

My wife was all right, since she had two of the children on her side of the aisle. But I was stuck on the other side with my six-year-old son. He chose to sit next to the window. I sat in the middle, and a stranger was foolish enough to sit on the seat on the aisle.

As soon as everyone had eaten and the stranger had dozed off, my son said, "I have to go."

"Why didn't you go before the lights were turned out?"

"I didn't have to go, then," he replied.

My son woke up the man by the simple process of almost breaking his leg.

When we returned after several runs up and down the aisle, we woke up the stranger again to get back in the seats.

An hour later my son, after playing with the light, the air conditioning, and the buzzer for the stewardess, declared, "I want a drink of water."

"You don't need a drink of water," I whispered.

"I do too," he cried. Having the choice of either waking up the stranger or everyone else on the plane, we chose the former, and once again pushed our way over his tangled feet.

LATER MY SON said he wanted to tell his mother something.

"Tell her when we get to Paris."

"I want to tell her now."

"Shout it to her."

"It's a secret."

This time when the stranger was awakened, he was pretty mad.

"Why don't you sit by the window," I suggested, "and we'll sit on the aisle."

He grunted, mumbled a few words, and moved over next to the window. I stayed in the middle, and my son was placed on the aisle.

Finally the boy went to sleep, and so did I. But after a half-hour we were both rudely awakened. The stranger was trying to get past us to the aisle.

"I have to go," he explained apologetically.

It's enough to make a man bring his own flask.

What a blessing to be able to trust in the wonderful germicide protection Norforms can give you. Norforms have a highly perfected new formula that releases antiseptic and germicidal ingredients with long-lasting action. The exclusive new base melts at body temperature, forming a powerful protective film that guards (but will not harm) the delicate tissues.

And Norforms' deodorant protection has been tested in a hospital clinic and found to be more effective than anything it had ever used. Norforms eliminate (rather than cover up) embarrassing odors, yet have no "medicine" or "disinfectant" odor themselves.

And what convenience! These small feminine suppositories are so easy and convenient to use. Just insert—no apparatus, mixing or measuring. They're greaseless and they keep in any climate.

Now available in new packages of 6, as well as 12 and 24. Also available in Canada.

Memorable Christmas Gifts

CHRISTMAS CONSERVE

To complete the selection of preserves on your gift list, include Christmas Conserve in interestingly shaped glasses or jars.

TO PREPARE AND COOK: ABOUT 45 MIN.

- 1½ lbs. dried apricots, cooked and cut in pieces
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 2¼ cups orange juice
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 5 cups sugar
- ¾ cup walnuts, coarsely chopped

1. Wash and sterilize eight 8-oz. glasses.

2. Mix first five ingredients together in a large, heavy saucepan. Bring mixture to boiling and cook until thick, about 15 min., stirring frequently. Remove from heat and mix in the nuts.

3. Ladle into hot glasses, filling to within ½ in. of the top. Cover while hot with an ¼-in. layer of melted paraffin. Cool completely and then pour on another ¼-in. layer of melted paraffin, tilting glasses carefully to distribute paraffin evenly over the top and seal it to edges.

About eight 8-oz. glasses

TOFFEE

TO PREPARE AND COOK: ABOUT 1 HR.

- 2 cups butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups salted almonds, coarsely chopped
- 6 tablespoons water
- 2 tablespoons light corn sirup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 8 oz. milk chocolate

1. Start melting butter in a heavy 2-qt. saucepan over low heat. Gradually add sugar, stirring constantly. Blend in 1 cup almonds, water, and corn sirup.

2. Set candy thermometer in place. Cook over medium heat, stirring a few times, until temperature reaches 300°F.

3. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla extract. Quickly pour into buttered 15½x10½x1-in. pan and spread to corners. When candy has cooled slightly, mark into squares with a sharp knife. Cool.

4. Meanwhile, melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. When candy is completely cool, spread melted chocolate evenly over top. Sprinkle remaining nuts over chocolate. When chocolate is set, break toffee into pieces. Store in a tightly covered container. About 3 lbs. toffee

Honey-sweetened fruitcake, laden with colorful fruits and nuts, is a welcome Christmas gift.

HONEY FRUITCAKE

TO PREPARE: 1¼ HRS.

TO BAKE: 4 HRS.

- 6 oz. (about 1 cup) dried prunes
- 5 oz. (about 1 cup) dried apricots
- ½ lb. (about 1½ cups) dark seedless raisins
- ½ lb. (about 1½ cups) golden raisins
- 5 oz. (about 1 cup) blanched almonds, sliced and toasted
- 4 oz. (about 1 cup) walnuts, coarsely chopped
- 12 oz. (about 2 cups) dried candied pineapple
- 3 oz. (about ½ cup) candied red cherries, cut in quarters
- 3 oz. (about ½ cup) candied green cherries, cut in quarters
- 6 oz. (about 1 cup) dried candied orange peel
- 6 oz. (about 1 cup) dried candied citron
- 3 oz. (about ½ cup) dried candied lemon peel
- 2½ cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves
- 1¼ cups butter
- 1¼ cups honey
- 6 eggs

1. Grease a 10-in. tubed pan and line bottom and sides with two thicknesses of greased parchment paper and one of waxed paper. Set aside.

2. Cover prunes and apricots with boiling water and let stand 5 min.; drain. Remove pits and cut prunes and apricots into small pieces. Plump and drain raisins. Mix all fruits and nuts together in a large bowl.

3. Sift flour, baking powder, salt, and spices together. Set aside.

4. Cream butter and honey together. Add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add dry ingredients in fourths, blending only until smooth after each addition. Turn batter over fruit mixture and mix thoroughly. Turn into the prepared pan and spread evenly.

5. Place a shallow pan containing hot water on bottom rack of oven during baking time. Bake cake at 250°F about 4 hrs., or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

6. Remove from oven to cooling rack; remove cake from pan before completely cooled. Peel off paper and cool thoroughly. Glaze and decorate with candied fruits and nuts. (See photo.) Wrap tightly in aluminum foil or other moisture-vapor-proof material and store in a cool place. About 6½ lbs. fruitcake

Glaze—Boil light corn sirup for 3 to 5 min. Brush cake lightly with sirup; place fruit and nut decorations on cake; brush again.

PANETTONE (FRUIT BREAD, MILAN STYLE)

Panettone is as traditional at Christmas in Italy as Stollen is in Germany. Wrap it on a decorative breadboard as a handsome gift.

TO PREPARE: 35 MIN.

TO BAKE: 40-45 MIN.

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------|
| 1 pkg. active dry yeast | 2 eggs |
| ¾ cup warm water (110°F to 115°F) | 4 egg yolks |
| 1 cup butter, melted | 3½ cups sifted flour |
| 1 cup sugar | 1 cup dark seedless raisins |
| 1 teaspoon salt | ¾ cup chopped citron |
| 2 cups sifted flour | ½ cup flour |
| ½ cup milk, scalded and cooled to lukewarm | 1 egg, slightly beaten |

1. Soften yeast in the warm water; let stand 10 min.
2. Pour melted butter into large bowl of electric mixer. Add the sugar and salt gradually, beating well after each addition.
3. Beating thoroughly after each addition, alternately add the 2 cups flour in thirds and lukewarm milk in halves to the butter mixture. Add softened yeast and beat well.
4. Combine eggs and egg yolks and beat until thick and piled softly. Add the beaten eggs all at one time to yeast mixture and beat well. Beating thoroughly after each addition, gradually add the 3½ cups flour. Stir in raisins and citron.
5. Sift one-half of the remaining flour over a pastry cloth or board. Turn dough onto floured surface, cover with waxed paper, and let stand 10 min.
6. Sift remaining flour over dough. Pull dough from edges toward center until flour is worked in. Put dough into a greased large bowl, grease top of dough, and cover with waxed paper and a towel. Let stand in a warm place (about 80°F) about 2½ hrs.
7. Punch down dough and pull edges of dough in to center. Let rise in a warm place about 1 hr.
8. Divide dough into halves and shape each half into a round loaf. Put each loaf into a well-greased 8-in. round pan. Brush surfaces generously with a mixture of slightly beaten egg and water. Cover with waxed paper and towel. Let rise in a warm place about 1 hr.
9. Bake at 350°F 40 to 45 min., or until golden brown. Remove loaves from pans to cooling racks to cool.

2 Panetoni

ISCHL COOKIES

Gaily decorate a basket and fill it with these cookies, originally created at Emperor Franz Josef's summer residence in Ischl, Austria.

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN.

TO BAKE: 12 MIN.

- | | |
|----------------------------|---|
| 2 cups sifted flour | ¾ cup (about 4 oz.) unblanched almonds, grated (about 2 cups, grated) |
| ¾ cup sugar | 1½ cups butter, chilled and cut in pieces |
| ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon | |
| ¾ teaspoon ground cloves | |
- Current jelly

1. Sift first four ingredients together and blend to distribute spices evenly. Mix in the grated nuts.
2. Cut in the butter with a pastry blender or two knives until mixture becomes a soft dough (requires working beyond the stage when mixture resembles coarse corn meal). Shape dough into a ball and knead lightly with finger tips until mixture holds together.
3. Put one-third of the dough on a lightly floured surface. Roll about ¼ in. thick. Cut out cookies with lightly floured cutter. Transfer one-half of the cookies to baking sheets. From each of the remaining cookies, cut out 3 rounds, about ¼ to ½ in. in diameter. Transfer cookies to baking sheets.
4. Bake at 325°F 12 min.; do not brown. With spatula remove cookies to cooling racks to cool completely.
5. Spread each plain cookie with about ¼ teaspoon of the jelly. Cover with cookies from which holes were cut.
6. Using remaining dough, cut out cookies, plain and with holes. Bake and complete as directed.

About 2½ doz. filled cookies

"My weight is always the same—between 110 and 150 pounds."

"No, it doesn't control the TV. It shuts off his power tools when I want him to come upstairs."

"Wait a minute! Who says I don't want to be vindictive?"

Do you make these costly mistakes in poker?

MANY POKER PLAYERS—including some who fancy themselves fairly good ones—habitually make errors that can be quite costly.

How about you? Suppose, for example, you're playing Straight Draw, nothing wild. 7 players are dealt two small pair. Do you open?

If you do, you're a "sucker," says poker expert Herbert O. Yardley. In fact, he goes on to say, "You ought to have your head examined. Never open on two small pair—never. It's twelve to one you won't make a Full House. [If someone else opens, don't stay. You fold—or you bluff by raising before the draw, standing pat, then betting."

Suppose, in the same game, you are dealt a four-card straight, open on both ends. Do you stay or fold? Yardley says it's a mistake to stay, unless there is five times as much in the pot as the bet itself.

These are just two of the common—and costly!—mistakes revealed in Yardley's eye-opening book, THE EDUCATION OF A POKER PLAYER.

The Secrets of Winning Poker

The book started selling like wildfire when a small portion of it appeared in The Saturday Evening Post. The first four editions were sold out as soon as the ink was dry. A fifth printing has just been delivered and a sixth is on the press.

Your best friends won't tell you what's in it—and when you've read it you won't tell them.

For the book is a priceless education. In it Yardley tells the secrets of his systems for winning at all the usual and many of the rare kinds of Draw and Stud Poker.

He tells you exactly when to open, and when to pass (even though you have openers). When to call or stay, when to bluff, when to raise, when to be cautious, when to be brazenly bold. And when to meekly fold.

He shows you all this by means of actual sample hands which he plays out for you and analyzes. And you learn how to play with the odds instead of against them.

How to develop not only a poker-face but a poker head

Yardley tells you how to study and "read" the other players—watching and analyzing their mannerisms, learning their weaknesses and their strengths. He makes you a master strategist at poker's psychological war.

He tells you wonderful salty stories (probably not for your Aunt Hermine) out of his own poker experience around the world—stories that sharpen your poker sense.

You "sit in" on the game in which the corn grower "Bones" Alverson bet his farm against a circus tent show at Five-Card Draw Deuces Wild—and won under the unfortunate circumstance of no longer being alive at the

HOW WOULD YOU PLAY THESE DRAW POKER HANDS?

The game is Straight Draw—nothing wild, Jacks or better to open. There are 7 players time. (After which Yardley gives you a brilliant analysis of how to play your cards at Five-Card Draw Deuces Wild.)

You watch Jake Moses lose ten trunks full of sample shoes—and you profit from his mistake. You see how good and bad poker players from the old west to China played their hands—and how they should've played them.

Send for your copy today—at no risk

Yardley's book could easily turn a steady loser into a steady winner. With its specific advice and its great stories out of Yardley's own experience, it amounts to a professional education in the theory and practice of winning—and a post-graduate course in the art of the bluff.

Send for your copy today. Get hold of it before the others in your crowd. Send no money. When the mailman brings your copy, read it, enjoy it, study it for three full weeks on the house. If you don't actually win several times the small cost of the book in your next few poker sessions, simply return the book within three weeks and pay nothing. Otherwise we'll bill you $3.95 plus postage as payment in full. Simon and Schuster, Publishers, Dept. 450, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

THIS IS HOW YARDLEY WOULD PLAY THE HANDS IN PANEL ABOVE

One Big Pair Yardley says, "Never stay on less. If you are sitting to the left of the opener, raise on a pair of Kings or Aces. If you drive out other players and the opener draws three cards, draw three with him. If he draws two cards, or one, draw two. If he checks, bet regardless of your hand. If an occasional player stays after you have raised, draw two and bet, unless someone stands pat."

Four-Card Flush Yardley says, "A four-card flush should never be played unless there is over five times as much in the pot as the bet itself. That goes, too, for a four-card straight, open at both ends. As for an inside straight, why draw to it? The odds are twelve-to-one you don't make it."

Three-of-a-Kind "My rule is this," says Yardley, "If you're holding three-of-a-kind, You or better, don't raise. You want to entice as many others to stay as you can, because you're pretty sure of winning. However, if your three are Nines or worse, raise. You want to drive out players who might draw against you."

About HERBERT O. YARDLEY

Yardley's mastery of the infinite subtleties of poker made him just the kind of agile thinker whom you would expect to crack a wartime Japanese code (he did) and to write the classic book on codes, ciphers and spies (he did: The American Black Chamber).

"Because he plays such a tight game of poker," says The Saturday Evening Post, "Yardley has been dubbed 'Old Ad-hesive' by his friends. After his retirement (as a cryptanalyst) three years ago, Yardley made a scientific study of poker in all its variations, thus reinforcing his fifty years of experience as a player. Now he has told all in THE EDUCATION OF A POKER PLAYER."

(the first tribute to Yardley's book)

The New York Herald Tribune Book Review says, "It should be part of every father's investment portfolio for his son—or for himself. What Goren and Vanderbilt have done for the bridge player, Yardley has now done for that submerged four-fifths of American manhood that plays poker. He has given us dignity, wisdom and philosophy."

“goodbye turkey” casserole

New party dish serves 6 or 24 . . . ready in 30 minutes but only with Minute Rice

Hello guests . . . goodbye turkey! Easiest party dish ever—when leftover turkey, bubbling cream sauce, asparagus . . . and Minute Rice bake together into a memorable main dish! Who'd ever guess this feast could fix so fast!

No stopping to cook the rice. Minute Rice goes—right out of the box—into the casserole.

This long-grain rice puffs up bright and light with good turkey flavor, blends seasonings, cheese and asparagus into a taste that makes guests say “um-m-m wonderful.” Or make it for the family—they'll think it's a party!

“Goodbye Turkey” Casserole

	For 6 servings	For 24 servings
Sifted flour	5 tablespoons	1¼ cups
Salt	1 teaspoon	4 teaspoons
Onion salt	¼ teaspoon	1 teaspoon
Butter, melted	¼ cup	1 cup
Milk or light cream	2½ cups	2½ quarts
Minute Rice	1½ cups	5½ cups
Turkey or chicken broth	1½ cups	6 cups
Grated American cheese	½ cup	2 cups
Cooked asparagus	1½ cups	6 cups
Sliced turkey	2 cups (6 slices)	8 cups (24 slices)
Toasted slivered almonds	2 tablespoons	½ cup

Stir flour, half of salt, onion salt into butter. Stir in milk. Cook over hot water, stirring occasionally until thickened.

Pour Minute Rice (right from box) into 2-quart shallow baking dish. Combine broth, remaining salt; pour over rice. Sprinkle half of cheese over rice. Top with asparagus; then turkey. Pour on sauce. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake at 375°F. about 20 minutes. Top with almonds.

For 24 servings, divide ingredients between shallow baking pans. Bake as above.
